A few steps from the House is a separate building called the Library, which is furnished with writing tables and stationery, couch and easy chairs, and a bookcase filled with illustrated periodicals and holiday reading.

The invalid who wants rest can have it here to his heart's content; and close by is the pretty and unpretentious Church with its daily Services.

Those who prefer a more active life can walk, or drive, or bathe, or fish, or shoot.

The croquet and tennis lawns are very generally accessible to the Clerical visitors, and there is a good deal of social intercourse. In fact everything is done to provide us a refreshing holiday, and at every move one recognizes the ministrations of kindly, thoughtful minds and tasteful hands.

I may add that in the House controversy is tabooed and a courteous, friendly spirit prevails."

Will not some rarishes try to arrange that their Clergy shall go and have a short holiday at such a place, even if only for the inside of a week or fortnight? During the month of July the Reverend W. T. Forsythe, Rector of Stanstead, will be Chaplain of S. James' Church, Cacouna, and "Master of the House." In August his place will be taken by the Reverend E. A. Dunn. Those who wish to secure rooms should apply to Mrs. M. Bell Irvine, Cacouna, P. Q.

The Venerable Archdeacon Roe, D.D., is going to spend a month, from the middle of July to the middle of August, as Chaplain at the Roberval Hotel.
