

- Parental rights and responsibilities
Adoption of language on balancing the rights, duties and responsibilities of parents with the rights and evolving capacities of children in matters relating to access to information, privacy and confidentiality.
- Girls
Agreement to call for the elimination of all forms of discrimination against girls and to ensure their equal access to education and training, nutrition and health care.
- Equal inheritance rights for all children
Statement on equality of succession and inheritance rights to eliminate obstacles to equality for girls.
- Education
Affirmation that literacy and education are fundamental to the achievement of equality; and agreement to Canadian proposals on training and life-long learning.
- Gender analysis
Call for a gender perspective to be reflected in policies and programs to ensure that governments take into consideration the different impact these policies and programs may have on men and women.
- Integrating women's human rights throughout the UN system
Agreement to require all UN bodies and specialized agencies to consider the "gender dimension" when formulating policies and programs.
- Sexual orientation
Statements by many countries, including Canada, that they interpreted the principle of non-discrimination to include sexual orientation. (Term "sexual orientation" not included in Beijing Platform for Action)