

and distinguished
ment of both poli-
ts of the country,
four millions of the
ld.

bellions. But if any
d martyrs still exist
d it is to oppose the h can put, if neces-
ers in the world in nd crush all rebels
em reflect that they
lies, and their poor
that they inflict the interests of their

l under the British joys greater liberty
rom personal expe-
r, has nothing to do
e movement from a
may be said that
ebels in one mass,
er Majesty's Forces
leton had time to
him. Or by forced
ould have menaced
ked our troops on e routes. or by a
verwhelming num-
ge before Gen. Sir

But of course Sir
er, knew his en-
dispositions accor-
oved his great abi-
munition, supplies
in war every sol-
necessary.

The wild attempts of Rebels must therefore surely fail, and their mean, criminal opposition to authority and the law is certain to be crushed with an iron hand.

For it is a great crime to rebel against the Empress Queen Victoria, who is the kindest, best and most illustrious sovereign of the greatest empire the world has ever seen.

The integrity of the British Empire must be maintained.