

ARTICLE V.

ORDER FOR SUMMONING A JURY	Page 160
The order for summoning a jury is written or verbal.
It is given to a constable.

ARTICLE VI.

SUMMONING THE JURY	168
Twelve persons at least should be summoned as jurors.
They should be British subjects of good repute, and should reside in the district. The summoning is done by writing or verbally.

ARTICLE VII.

DISOBEDIENCE OF SUMMONS BY JURORS	173
Any person, without exception, summoned as a Coroner's juror, may be condemned to pay a fine of $4.00, if he does not appear.
The Coroner should not swear persons who can show that they have a right to exemption for good cause, or according to law.

ARTICLE VIII.

THE SUMMONING OF WITNESSES	183
The witnesses are summoned by a constable verbally or in writing.
The witnesses summoned are bound to obey under pain of a fine of $4.00.
Unwilling witnesses may be arrested by warrant instead of being summoned.

ARTICLE IX.

SUSPECTED PERSONS	195
If necessary the Coroner may cause the arrest (before or during the inquest) of any person suspected of having criminally caused the death of the person who is the subject of the inquest.
