In order to have successful flower-ing bulbs it is an absolute necessity that the bulbs have managed to grow good strong, healthy roots. The luxurfance and well-being of the bloom ends/entirely on the condition, the size and the strength of these new roots.

"The Only Way."

"It is the only way we could arrive at a decision," said Mrs. Van Alstyne I am not sure that I want to be divorced, and John feels the same abou We just could not get along. John was kind to me, but it seemed our marriage. His lacked something to marriage hie lacked something to make it wholly happy. My husband is traveling in Lfurope, but I chose to come out here, where I can live quiet-by the scashore. "I know that love will work out this strance, problem. If we are des-tined to come together love will impel me to so to Colorado Springs at the appointed time. We have no chll-dren, so it makes it possible to en-gage in this trial divorce." Mrs. Van Alstyne is twenty-two years old. Her husband is twenty-

The Old Reliable Cunard Steamship

The Cunard Line office, which has been situated at the northeast corner of King and Yonge streets (in the old James building), has moved to a new office building, has moved to a new office building at 53 Yonge street. In the year 1881, when the company had just launched the then magnificent ship Servia, 7,666 tons, which was considered then one of the magnificent ship Servia, 1,666 tons, which was considered then one of the finest ships afloat, the office of the line was slipated at 56 Yonge. In 1890 an-other move was made to the Globe building at the corner of Yonge and Colborne streets. In 1893 the com-pany again moved to larger and finer Capacity Congregations Heard the Bishop and Rev. Dr.

Boyle.

The pretty little Island Church of St. Andrew, presented a charming picture Sunday in celebration of its anual harvest thanksgiving. Visitors to the Island who happened to be pas-sing and who dropped in, were greatly impressed with the artistic and plentiful decoration.

The morning service brought a capacity congregation, island residents who had already left their cottages turning up in response to the sugges-tion of the most popular Bishop Reeve, who regularly conducts the services at the church. The bishop of Toronto was the preacher. The Rev. Dr. Boyle was the preacher at the evening service. Much credit is due to Bishop Reeve for the increasing popularity of his church. The attendance this year has been greater than ever. The thanks-giving services yesterday were therefor the most fitting and pleasing to Bishop Reeve and his willing helpers.

Sweet Potatoes

VOICE just came over the telephone wire saying, "Please, Miss Grauel, write some recipes for sweet potatoes." It is a pleasure to do this, for they are plentiful at this season and more wholesome than Irish potatoes or almost any other vegetable.

It is no credit to you to cook these lowly vegetables well, but it is disgrace to serve them moist and soggy, so insist on having the orange hearted Jersey sweets. Pare them or scrape them as thinly as you can and boil quickly in water containing a sprinkle of salt and a good dash sugar. When tender enough to pierce with a fork, drain, and cool. Slice half-inch cut or in rounds, dip in melted butter and then in sugar, place o a wire rack like a toaster over a dripping pan in a very hot oven. As soon as the slices are brown, serve on a hot platter. Mexico has presented some excellent new dishes. One of these is Mexical sweet potato fritters; mash the boiled sweet potatoes, add two eggs, a half a cup of flour, a pinch of salt, a dash of pepper, two tablespoons of sugar and enough rich milk to make a batter that will drop from a spoon. Fry on a buttered griddle and eat with syrup.

Another Mexican recipe that is different from anything in the Am-erican cuisine, and yet very appetizing, is steamed sweet potato. This dish, if made exactly as directed here, will have a flavor very much like fried. spring chicken.

Take a tablespoon of bacon dripping and one of butter, mix in half as much flour. Stir this in a baking dish over a low fire until it begins to brown, add a quart of diced, pared sweet potatoes. Pour on enough boil ing water to almost cover, put a well fitting lid on the dish and cook in the oven until the water is evaporated or absorbed. Serve in the dish they were baked in with plenty of butter. Plantation Pudding is somewhat similar to the above. Slice pared and haddle Chir, England's tavorite boy comedian. Completing the bill are Joe Cook and brother, the Rosaires and the kinetograph. tender.

> In Siam and East India, this vegetable is regarded as a sweet and preserved in a rich sugar syrup to be used as a tid-bit after a feast, but whether you bake them a la Marion, that is in hot ashes, out of doors, or augment their rich sweetness with sugar or honey, make them savory with plenty of butter.

I am sometimes asked why sweet potatoes turn black when This is because they contain so large a quantity of iron and are cooked in an iron kettle and then subjected to the action of the air. It may be pre-vented if you do not pare them until after boiling. Merely scrub with a vegetable brush, cut out any imperfections with a silver knife, and cook in a porcelain pan with enough water to cover as well as a lid.
