SLIT SKIRT MAY BE SENATE ISSUE

Question Arose in Discussing
Bill to Ban Criminal Portraits.

Canadian Press Despatch.

OTTAWA, March 25.—The debate in the senate was resumed by Senator Choquette of Quebec on his bill to amend the criminal code by forbidding newspapers to reproduce portraits of persons charged with crime. In reply to Senator Dennis of Halifax, who last week made a speech against the bill, saying the bill proposed to heap opprobrium on the heads of the publishers and booksellers of Canada, and said there was no demand for Senator Choquette's bill, Senator Choquette read a letter from the secretary of the Retailers' Association, written from Toronto. The letter said that the booksellers of Canada were in favor of the bill. Senator Choquette read a letter from a man "who had been on the supreme court bench of Nova Scotia for 24 years," and who approved his bill. From all other parts of the country he had received letters of commendation.

Senator Dennis had said parliament could do better by enacting a law to prevent immodest spectacles on the stage, the display of posters advertising them and also dealing with women's costumes, especially the slit skirt and the absence of underwear. Senator Choquette agreed as to the stage, but thought it would be a bold man who tried to regulate feminine fashions. He would be running his head against a stone wall.

However, if Senator Dennis would bring in a bill to forbid the slit skirt, or any other fashion tending to immorality, Senator Choquette said he would second the bill.

Senator Coffey adjourned the debate.

The special number presents a comprehensive series of articles dealing with the most important methods and systems that are necessary to the shoe dealer, or are advantageous for him to adopt. The special articles include a forecast of "fall footwear," trade, a practical stock-taking system for the shoe store, the importance of fitting the foot, a practical attractive 25-foot store front and others equally practical and interesting.

SAYS HUSBAND'S WEALTH
CAME THRU HER AID

Mrs. Amelia Love Not Satisfied
With Thousand Dollars Annual Allowance

To secure a share in her husband's $100,000, Mrs. Amelia Love has entered an action now before the non-jury assize court at the city hall. The couple were married at Uxbridge about 20 years ago but were separated some years since and Mrs. Love was given an interim allowance of $1000 per year. It is since that time her husband has made the $100,000, and she maintains he would not have done so had it not been for her assistance.

HELD OPEN REHEARSAL.

The Sons of England Choral Society (Toronto District), conducted by Mr. Lenn Penhall Rees, A.T.C.M., held an open rehearsal, recently at McBean's Hall, Brunswick avenue. The society already has nearly 80 singers, exclusive of the non-singing members. Its work, which aims to popularize the old English songs and ballads, is already in fine shape.

Dr. Albert Ham, the conductor of the National Chorus of Toronto, in response to an invitation from the society, was present, and expressed his pleasure at the splendid work already done, and commented on their innovation, cultivation and true pitch.

What Thin Folks Should Do To Gain Weight

Physician's Advice for Thin, Underdeveloped Men and Women

Thousands of people suffer from excessive thinness, weak nerves and feeble constitutions who have tried advertised flesh-makers, food-fads, physical culture and all sorts of remedies, but nothing will make them fat. Yet their blood is not healthy. A recently discovered secret of health makes fat grow at a rapid rate. Thinness is also caused by faulty digestion and for strength, the nerves. This remarkable discovery, called Sargol, is a strength-producing element of the blood. Sargol has been combined in a powerful preparation, which is enjoyed by eminent physicians and used by prominent people everywhere. It is absolutely harmless, inexpensive and efficient. A month's systematic use of Sargol should produce flesh and strength, correcting faults of digestion and supplying highly concentrated fats to the blood, increased nourishment is obtained from the food eaten, and the additional fat that thin people need are provided. Leading druggists supply Sargol and say there is a large demand for it.

While this new preparation has given splendid results as a nerve-tonic and vitaminizer, it should not be used by nervous people unless they wish to gain at least ten pounds of flesh.

HAMILTON DIVORCE
AGAIN VOTED DOWN

Attempt to Reopen Question
Defeated in Senate by Small Majority.

Canadian Press Despatch.

OTTAWA, March 25.—The Hamilton divorce case met another defeat in the senate today. Senator Kirchhoff, chairman of the divorce committee, moved to restore the Hamilton divorce case to the order paper, from which it was removed last week when a motion for the adoption of the report failed to carry.

Senator Davis said the senate had defeated this divorce application for three successive years. The last defeat occurred only a few days ago, yet the chairman of the committee was not satisfied. He thought the application had been given ample consideration, and moved the six months' hold.

Senator Cloran supported Senator Davis' amendment, declaring that after having three times in three successive years been found guilty, Mrs. Hamilton was still being hunted. The motion for the six months' hold was carried by 27 to 23.

FAMILY LIFE FADING
BEFORE MODERN TREND

Mrs. Scott-Raff Deplores Substitution of Electricity for Cheery Grate Fire

Mrs. Scott-Raff's address on "Folklore" proved very enlightening to the members of the Chamberlain Chapter I.O.D.E., yesterday afternoon at their March meeting. The lecturer stated that the study of folk-lore involved a delightful study of science, some of the finest gems in the traditions of the nations resulting from the efforts of geniuses such as Homer, Virgil, Goethe and Dante. "Family life is the heartstone of folk-lore," said the lecturer, "and electric light is one of the chief causes of its rapid disappearance." The explanation for this state of affairs was that the advent of modern conveniences tends to develop the individual, but does not encourage the old-time family gatherings about the cheery grate.

REPORT GIRLS' WAGES ARE NOT SUFFICIENT

EDMONTON, March 25.—The report of the committee appointed to take a social survey of the city was presented in the First Presbyterian Church, and created a sensation. Myers had charts prepared showing the results of the survey. It was shown that while $3,000,000 was spent in liquor in Edmonton last year, only $20,000 was spent on religious education of the young. Dr. Myers said that the average wages paid to girls who have to work for a living are not sufficient when the cost of living in the City of Edmonton is considered. He contended, is to a great extent, responsible for the fact that so many girls are driven to seek easier ways of making money.

NOW NUMBER TWENTY-TWO.

The promoters of the Toronto Bureau of Municipal Research (succeeding the city survey committee) at their meeting yesterday at the National Club, enlarged their provisional council to twenty-two members, as follows: John L. Sutcliffe, chairman; John L. Sutcliffe, honorary secretary; Walter J. Barr, John Firstbrook, Henry Gooderham, F. B. Hayes, J. P. Jones, H. H. Tomlin, Frank Wise, Charles E. Abbs, Mark Brodie, Fritz Fox, Holt Gurney, Norman A. Howie, Harold Muntz, C. B. McNaught, Geo. Oakley, Jr., A. T. Reid, J. P. Rogers, J. H. Housner, E. W. Wright, Percy Manning.

COMPLAIN OF POLICEMEN.

According to Joseph Gibbons of the Street Railway Employees' Union there is a possibility that the conductors and motormen may take a week's rest to discuss the difficulty between themselves and the traffic policemen. The men claim that the conductors direct traffic at the busy intersection of the street cars.

BATHURST "Y."

At 8 o'clock this evening the Bathurst "Y" will hold a social at the "Fraser" Hotel, 111, Gerard street east. A good program has been prepared, after which light refreshments will be served. Everybody welcome.

WILLISON AT ST. GILES.

Sir John Willison will address an open P. S. A. meeting of the St. Giles Presbyterian Brotherhood on Sunday, March 29, at 3 p.m., on "New Times and New Problems" in the auditorium of St. Giles Church, Oak street. Special music has been arranged. The meeting is open to the public.

At Park Theatre. The amateurs at the Park Theatre last night played to a full house and were the greatest collection of aspirants to the bright lights ever seen at this theatre. All of the contestants were of a very high order, and were given a perfect edging, caught the crowd, and the big hall took down the first prize. Joe Billing, skit writer, dancer, and comedian, was a new talent, and secured a good result. Miss Foley, in sweet songs, secured third prize. Miss Foley has a beautiful voice and it was a great pleasure to hear her perform. A rest of the large bill was of a high order and went well.

WIFE WAS TOO OBSTINATE.

GALT, March 25.—Because the wife of Albert Ford, a Woodstock man, arrested charged with a crime, positively refused to live with her husband, the magistrate declined to order the husband to support her, and gave the man liberty.

Canvasback Duck With Hominy.

CANVASBACK and red-head ducks have made the shores of the Chesapeake Bay famous because of the superior flavor of their flesh due to their diet of pond weed and wild celery. Lately it has been ascertained that the shores of the great lakes are also fringed with these plants, and that ducks by other names taste quite as sweet as the Chesapeake article. As much depends upon what is served with the bird, and the manner in which it is cooked, as upon what it eats in life, the we know flavor can be fed into pork, into eggs and into milk and other foods as well as into ducks.

The most delicate way of cooking canvasback is to broil it. Split the prepared bird thru the whole length of the back and make perfectly flat with a cleaver. Wipe, trim and brush it over with olive oil or sweet butter. Season with salt and pepper and cook in a covered iron broiler. If an open broiler must be used arrange to have very drop of the ruddy juice as it drips. Dish on a hot platter and add melted butter, minced parsley and a few drops of lemon to the red gravy. Blackheads and mallards are broiled the same way; ten minutes will suffice to cook them, as duck is always served rare.

Current jelly must always accompany duck, cress is appropriate, but crisp, cold celery is an absolute necessity.

In Baltimore, where open fires are still known, it is possible to have roast duck. Several are trussed and placed on a spit before glowing coals for twenty minutes or less, depending on the size of the ducks. They are served crisp hot platters with squares of sump or hominy dipped in egg and crumbs and then fried in deep fat.

To prepare hominy to serve with game course, cook it in salted water in a steamer or double boiler until it is perfectly tender. Spread it on a square tin or platter to cool, then stamp or cut it into squares or strips. The dried hominy must soak in water over night, then steam about three hours before it will be tender. It is much better to buy it ready cooked.

Cauliflower to accompany the hominy must be sent in with duck. Dip each hot, tender floweret into thick, rich cream sauce and garnish liberally with them.

So well is celery enjoyed with wild duck that it is often cooked and served with it. One style is to have it in demi-glace or half-glaze; cut the stalks in inch lengths and cook them with two ounces of beef marrow in salted water. Drain them and simmer in a little of the half-glaze sauce until tender.

Another way is to fry the celery; use only tender, very white pieces about four inches long. Blanch them in salted water, then drain and dip each separate stalk in a frying batter and fry in deep fat until a fine color. Decorate each end of the game platter with these stalks.

TAPLEY RECEIVES
A STIFF SENTENCE

Montreal Usurer Convicted of Grave Offence—Collapses in Court.

MONTREAL, March 25.—W. H. Tapley, usurer, found guilty on March 27 at the assize court of unimpeachable crimes, was this morning sentenced to thirty years in the penitentiary by Justice Lavergne. The evidence upon which Tapley was convicted was supplied by his 14-year-old daughter.

Judge Lavergne said that Tapley had been convicted of the most heinous offence in the criminal code. When he learned his fate the usurer collapsed. As Tapley is nearly fifty, the sentence means life imprisonment. Tapley's callous methods as a money lender were mainly responsible for the Ottawa government passing the usury law some years ago, making it a penal offence to charge more than twelve per cent. interest on loans. Tapley had been in the habit of exacting 300 per cent. from his clients.

Tapley last Saturday attempted to commit suicide by biting thru his arm in an attempt to sever an artery.

Campbell Firm Receives $19,500 Damages, Less Amount Rightfully Due Defendants

The Campbell Milling Company was given judgment for $19,500 against Ellis and Connerly, architects, and Bowles and Francis, contractors, by Justice Latchford in the non-jury assize court yesterday afternoon. The award was to be less such an amount due for work already done. The case was over the West Toronto building condemned by the city architect. If the parties cannot agree on a reasonable amount, reference can be made to the master in ordinary.

The judge stated the material used in making the concrete was never subjected to the required tests, and the material may have been good, the resulting mixture was no doubt bad. "On the evidence my conclusion is that the only proper way to replace the bad by the good concrete is to tear down the building to 15 feet above the ground and then rebuild it," he said.

Studios at Engineering Building Are Filled With Beautiful Exhibits.

NOVEL PRIZE OFFERED

K. C. Burness Will Donate Ten Dollars in Honor of Fairest Visitor.

Larger and better than ever before was the annual exhibition of the Architectural Club of the university, which opened yesterday afternoon. The second floor of the School of Science building is filled with the exhibits of the club members. The club members, which is taught by Prof. Banks, freehand drawing by John M. Lyle are equally well represented, and the best pieces of work shown is a reproduction of the choric monument of Lycabates. The work of the class in architecture is an archaeological representation, which conveys almost perfectly the ideal of the sculptor, and its execution has occupied the time of the entire class during the last year. Standing some twelve feet in height it is a perfect one-third model, with the exception that the full base could not be built on account of the space limitations of the building. It is a most perfect example of clay-modeling, and one of which the class in architecture has reason to be proud.

Hulo's First Sketch. Another interesting feature of the exhibition is that there is placed in the main corridor Hulo's first conception of the specimen of architecture, which won the Grand Prix de Rome in 1901. In view of the fact that it is very rare that the winner of this class ever lets such a work go out of his hands, this freehand drawing is most unique. The competition for the plan of the power-house to be built by the Cascade River Development Company near Banff has been most keen, and several of the plans submitted are of the highest excellence. The winner of this competition gets the prize of $25 offered by the department of the interior, and besides this the power-house will be built according to his plan. This may mark the beginning of a great deal of competitive work by students for government prizes. The prize winner will be announced today.

For Most Beautiful Girl. Another prize which has been put among the exhibits, is a most beautiful lady visitor to the exhibition will receive a prize of $10, offered by K. C. Burness of the club. The architectural exhibition will remain open today and tomorrow.

The Food Formula.

There is no starch in human milk, therefore it is contrary to nature to introduce it into an infant's diet.

It was thought, however, that a thin solution, barley or oatmeal water, was useful in breaking up the curd of the milk. Later researches have proved that it is the dilution which lessens the size of the curd, and that water acts quite as well as barley water, without its disadvantages in causing distention of the abdomen and forming gas.

Babies differ, tho, and, sometimes a child, especially at six months of age and after, appears to digest its milk better if certain substances be used in small quantity.

No hard and fast rules which will suit every baby can be laid down. Each baby is as study in himself, and the formula must be adjusted to suit the special child according to the way the food is digested and assimilated.

If one baby does not agree at first with a little patience and try a different one before saying that modification cannot be taken or before resorting to an entirely different food.

Several kinds of barley flour are now sold, all good and very much easier to use than pearl barley. Mix one teaspoonful of barley flour in a little cold water and stir thoroughly. Put into the feeding bottle, cork with absorbent cotton and put on the heat needed. The formula containing the barley water and lime water contains less milk than that given yesterday. I find that my space has been taken up with these preliminary directions and that the formula itself must wait till tomorrow.

Unique Musical Recital. A large and interested audience assembled in the Heintzman and Co. recital hall on Tuesday evening when a program of four numbers on the Phonolist Violins and two vocal selections by Miss V. Walsh was presented. The performance on these two new instruments won warm endorsement from the audience, and also the solos of Miss Walsh. The Heintzman and Co. recital hall has become free violin courts and other attractions, which draw great houses.

Planting Window Boxes.

Having glanced over several of the most important points necessary to remember before planting our boxes, we may now consider our boxes individually.

North and east boxes will generally keep their contents fresh and bright with less care than those with southern or western aspects. In the last case, you must not forget that the constant, steady light from these two exposures makes a great demand upon the vitality of the soil supplying these plants. And these plants, unlike garden plants, are confined to a very limited area. Their roots cannot go foraging very deep into the earth, as garden plants may do.

Do not crowd too many plants into a space capable of supplying food for scarcely half the number. This is one of the reasons why so many window boxes take on a shaggy and unkempt look long before the season is over. Plants must have food, and they must have plenty of it.

Another point to determine in your planting is whether or not you intend to place annuals in your boxes. Or even an odd perennial or two. This is a very important thing to decide. Of course, if you have a garden, you will not consider the question at all, because you may indulge yourself to your heart's content with annuals and biennials and perennials. But for those with whom an outdoor garden is an impossibility, what is to be decided? Some annuals, nasturtiums, myosotis, sweet alyssum and such like, are a very acceptable addition to the boxes. Likewise are mignonette, nicotiana, ten-week-stock and other fragrant blossoms.

However, it is a question for individual decision.

Many flowers from seed will have reached a sufficient size for transplanting to the boxes before it is time to place the boxes outside, and may be utilized for this purpose. And, by the way, I have always found it to be a food scheme to prepare, four weeks later, a second supply of boxes for the season, when in time, may replace the other boxes.

When the boxes show signs of a too early shagreening, it is a good plan to dig out the offending plant, or plants, and put in something fresh, not only a new plant, but a different sort of plant entirely. This is easily done, without disturbing the box unduly.

An Attractive Quebec Resort, Lake St. Joseph.

Comparatively little known yet, the chosen summer holiday ground of those who have once tasted its charms. Lake St. Joseph vies with anything that the Muskoka district can produce in its varied charms. A handsome booklet, tastefully illustrated, giving a complete description of the lake and vicinity has just been issued by the Canadian Northern Railway in connection with its hotel of the same name. The question of finding a new and "different" resort is often perplexing, and the vacationist who is in this position will do well to apply for this booklet, together with full particulars as to rates, etc., to the manager, Hotel Lake St. Joseph, St. Catherine P.Q., Que., or to the general passenger department, 68 King street east, Toronto, Ontario.

An "Odd and Ends" Menu. A menu that will be of general interest has been arranged by Miss Lillian Miles for her cookery lecture at Forcett Hall, 112 College street, from 11.30 a.m. to 12.30 noon on Friday, the 27th inst. It comprises dishes that most everyone likes, but which comparatively few know how to make ready, well and economically. Grilled oysters and bacon, old-fashioned doughnuts, coconut ice, and lemon meringue will be demonstrated. The Toronto Hydro Electric System cordially invites the ladies to attend and bring notebook and pencil.

SEATS ARE NOW ON SALE For John McCormack, March 31, and New York Philharmonic Orchestra, April 4.

This morning at 9 o'clock the seat sale will open for two of the biggest musical events of the season: John McCormack, the Irish tenor, who will give a recital on the evening of March 31, and the concert to be given by the orchestra of the New York Philharmonic Society on the evening of April 4. This latter concert should prove of rare charm, as the soloist will be Madame Ottilie Metzger, the idol of the Hamburg Opera, and the orchestra, together with the recognized skill of Josef Stransky in selecting programs, ensures an exceptionally delightful evening.

Under the magnetic baton of Stransky, the Philharmonic has become an international institution in the musical world, and its influence in developing symphonic music on this side of the Atlantic has been widespread. The most highly endowed symphonic organization in the world, well as the oldest in America, the Philharmonic is exceptionally interesting to music lovers who have been delighted at the Philharmonic being ranked with the foremost orchestral bodies of the world.

It is due to the unceasing efforts of the Philharmonic's management that Mme. Metzger was prevailed upon to undertake her first American tour just a year ago. That brief appearance in this country resulted in such an enthusiastic ovation that the famous contralto was induced to cross again this season. Toronto is particularly fortunate in the opportunity of hearing her remarkable voice with a noted orchestra at the Philharmonic. Both concerts will be given on the above dates in Massey Hall.
