LIFE IS TESTED BY
HIGH WATER MARKS

Sum of Experience Not the True Criterion, Says
Edward H. Griggs.

LAY OUT YOUR COURSE

Then Follow It, Molding Your Desires to Way of Progress.

A large and highly gratified audience dispersed last night from Edward H. Griggs' hall, McGill street, after a very eloquent and pregnant address from Edward H. Griggs, the first of a course of six on "The Ethics of Personal Life."

In opening Mr.
Griggs said that he had met under circumstances widely different from those which he had encountered before, and was almost a question whether they should meet and listen to lectures under such conditions. They were in the presence of a war unparalleled in the history of the world, and he was reaching that to one had any conception of their ultimate solution.

Democracy was on trial as never before. At Salamis and at Marathon they had the time and test put on democracy and it stood the trial, and other trials since then. But no such test had ever been made of democracy as the war that was devastating the world today. If it could not bear that test it must pass and give way to some other form of civilization, but he believed it would bear the test and come out triumphantly.

It all rested on the application of principles in personal life, which must also be applied in the lives of nations.
Two people could live on opposite sides of the street without building walls bristling with guns to protect themselves. The United States and Canada had no forts and no armed vessels on their boundaries, but had learned to trust each other. The world in general must learn the lesson and to apply the principles of ethical relationship to their conduct.

It was sheer folly to cry peace without having laid the foundation of morality in these relations on which alone a permanent peace could rest. Moral consciousness was never neutral, and it demanded clear expression. There was strength in the moral consciousness of humanity, and that was behind the great struggle going on in Europe.

Mr. Griggs then turned to his subject and suggested that the reason moral and ethical theory failed to interest was because the ethical teacher occupied himself in telling not what was true, but what he thought would be expedient. Philosophers too often turned their back on the world and evolved theories in their studies, instead of finding their solutions in life.

Any true science of sociology must have a sound ethical system at the heart of it. The little world of personal life gave a clue to the larger world of personality, for out of the little world the larger world was made.
Every system of ethical philosophy in history focused on personal history.

Mr. Griggs emphasized the need of organic self-direction. Without this the development of sympathy would be demoralizing. If they went back to the beginning they would find life dominated by desires. To inhibit this, to affirm desires in line with progress must be the first aim of life.

It was an inexorable law that to appreciate anything one must not be conscious of it all the time. This was true of the simplest and lowest and of the highest moods and sensations.
There must be periods of quiescence.

B. C. COAST IN NO DANGER FROM GERMAN CRUISER

Nearest of Three in Pacific Five Thousand Miles Away.

By a Staff Reporter.
OTTAWA, Oct. 1.—G. F. Desbarats, deputy minister of the naval service, disposed tonight of a rumor to the effect that the British Columbia coast is in danger from German warships.

He states that there are three German cruisers on the Pacific, but the nearest is five thousand miles away. One of them is at Valparaiso, on the coast of Peru, and the other two are at the Philippine Islands.

Life was tested not in its sum, but in its high water marks.

We are while we grow. When we stop growing we should be buried, if only to protect the world from our decay. By love and wisdom we reached the highest, and each did it in his own life, which was more in his control than any other. He owed it to the universe to give it back deepened and sweetened.

Next week the subject is "The Problem of Moral Failure."

EDUCATION BOARD TAKES OFFENCE

Allied With Principal Hagarty, Make Sortie on Professors' Position.

POWERS ARE INVOKED

Provincial Government Called Upon to Request Public Retraction.

Speeches vigorously condemning the university professors who recently assailed Principal Hagarty for his war talk were made by Dr. McKay, Dr.
Conboy, Dr. Noble and Trustee Ellis as the board of education last night.

A. R. Hassard presented a petition from a number of citizens asking that the board call the attention of the Ontario Department of Education to the action of the professors of the Toronto University, who had asked that Principal Hagarty be disciplined for his address to his pupils on the European war.

A resolution was adopted censuring the professors and commending Principle Hagarty. The resolution said: "The board believes it is the duty of the provincial government and the governors of the university to enquire into the conduct of these professors and to request them to publicly retract the language they have used, entirely upon hearsay evidence."

Utilize Unemployed.
Dr. Hopkins appealed to the board to appoint unemployed teachers on the night school staff instead of members of the day staff.

It was decided to comply with the request so far as it did not conflict with agreements made with the staff for the present term.

Mr. Gillett, secretary of the Municipal Rifle Association, applied for the use of cadet rifles for drill purposes, under a bond.

The board unanimously adopted Dr.
Noble's motion that teachers of Collegiate Institutes and High Schools be instructed to instruct their pupils on the cause and purport of the present European war.

A deputation presented a petition from residents of the school district in favor of the school being used by the Evangelical Settlement workers for night class work.
