"These simple tales contain more of the real art of character-drawing than a score of novels of the day."

—New York Evening Post.

"A collection of good stories. . . . Not to have read the book is to miss a treat."—Cincinnati Times-Star.

"In this book Mr. Smith has done some of his best and most finished literary work."—New York Globe.

"He has set down with humorous compassion and wit the real life that we live every day."—The Independent.

THE UNDER DOG

Illustrated. 12mo, $1.50

"There is, of course, a certain tragic air in the run of them, but no real gloominess . . . the optimism and natural good humor of the ingenious and versatile author shining in the saddest and most sentimental pages of the book."—New York Evening Sun.

"Mr. Hopkinson Smith's genius for sympathy finds full expression in his stories of human under dogs of one sort and another . . . each serves as a centre for an episode, rapid, vivid, story-telling."—The Nation.
