TRADE DIRECTORY.

Copies of this book may be consulted or purchased at the offices of the following subscribers. The (*) designates those who are either authors, editors, publishers or booksellers; and nearly all the others are dealers in cycles, or selling-agents for the same. I have found it impracticable to particularize each man's business, as originally intended, though I give many exact addresses and other details in the geographical list which follows the next page. If any subscriber will report to me, within a month after receiving the book, that he is so dissatisfied with this "directory" as to regret having agreed to support it, I will refund any money which he may have paid me, and will at the same time send to him some stamped labels by which he may mail the books to later purchasers.
