President of Western Grain Growers Recalls That Premier Once Promised to Skin the Bruin of Protection, and

SASKATOON, Sask., July 29.—(Special.)—The grain-growers of this district overstepped the work of their conference with Sir Wilfrid Laurier to-day, and got a sharp rebuke from the premier

Wants the Evidence,

John Evans, president of the association, a self-declared Liberal of the Gladstone type, but also an unsuccessful candidate for the Conservative nomination, allowed his tongue to run away with his discretion. From their attitude lately the grain-growers, who have adopted an organized campaign, apparently assume that the members of government will stand for any kind of talk.

of government will stand for any kind of talk.

Mr. Evans started out by defining protection as "organized robbery and as the mother of trusts, as you. Sir Wilfrid, said 16 years ago."

In connection with the iron and steel bounties he spoke of "that mushroom aristocracy, monsters of graft, that has been swollen since 1896, or since you came into power," and said "the Liberal Government has departed from all principles of Liberalism and to-day is the most Conservative government, on the face of the civilized world. You said you would skin the bear of protection; but we would like to know what you have done with the hide."

E. M. McDonald, M. P. of Pictou, here interrupted with "You are making a political speech."

"No," was the reply. "I am speaking from the standpoint of the farmers"—(cheers)—I voted for Sir Wilfrid in 1896."

One Promise Enough.

Dealing with the Hudson Bay Railroad, Thomas Lawrence, formerly of Penetanguishene, Ont., declared that Sir John A. Macdonald had made a football of the Hudson Bay project, and he added to Sir Wilfrid, "Don't promise more than once."

W. Rowlands of Aberdeen, a former American, advocated government ownership. If the railway company had a line, he claimed they would route line, he claimed they would route freight over long lines to the east in order to earn higher freight.

The premier, after saying seed-humoredly that there was "more Tory politics than grain-growing in one of the speeches," went on to answer Evans' charges. He denied that he had preached free trade. He had promised only "freer trade." He said it would be impossible to raise revenue by direct taxation in Canada: Conservatives, not Liberals, had introduced protection, and Liberals had re-

"We have reduced taxation and, as I hope, we shall reduce it again," he declared. "It is not fair to say that we have been an easy mark. Steel bounties were introduced by the Conservatives. If any one has been an easy mark, it is not the Laurier Government.

"I admit that we have not given tariff reduction as fast as the producers of the west would desire. It is not our policy to tinker with the tariff. We revised the tariff in 1897, and again in 1907. When time comes for a new revision, it will be my aim to meet the wishes of producers in this and all parts of the country."

Historic Ceremony,
Hon. G. P. Graham, in reply to Mr.
Rowlands, said that the farmer would have control of the route by which he

This afternoon Sir Wilfrid laid the corner stone of the first building of Saskatchewan University. "Education was the lever with which people were able to fight the battle of life," he declared. He hoped that the university would make agriculture one of the first arts and sciences. Those who were unable to attend the university need not be discouraged. In this democratic country a man might rise to the highest position from the humb-lest rank. John Bright was an example of that. Hon. Walter Scott, premier of Saswhereas $10,000 might be obtained.

"And I want to add," he said, "that none of this money is in my client's possession. It was swallowed up in Wall-street speculation."

The theft had been going on for weeks, and possibly months before it.

Big Night Meeting.

Notwithstanding the apparently hostile attitude of the grain growers earlier in the day, which was later repudiated by influential members of the deputation, there was no lack of cordfality in the reception given Sir Wil-frid Laurier and the members of his party at a magnificent meeting in the hall at night. Round after round of cheers greeted the prime minister on his arrival on the platform. J. F. Cairns, a former Chathamite, was in
