GET AFTER THE MEN WHO SUPPLY LIQUOR TO MAKE BOYS DRUNK

Police Magistrate Instructs Detective Killen to Find the Man Who Bought Gin for Fred Donovan and Carl Kemp--The Case Up Today.

Fredrick Donovan and Carl Kemp, aged 14 and 16 years respectively, were arrested last night on Richmond street for being drunk and using profane language. This morning it was a sad sight to see the youthful rascals who had to face such charges. Young Donovan presented a pitiable appearance, his face and eyes being swollen from the effects of the narcotic. During the time that he was in court this morning he felt his position keenly and wept bitterly. Kemp, however, did not apparently worry in the least, and showed that in all appearances his confinement in jail did not cause him to lose much sleep.

When the charges were read to the boys, Kemp pleaded not guilty and Donovan pleaded guilty. Kemp further pleaded not guilty, Officer Totten took the stand and stated that last night between nine and ten o'clock he was walking down Richmond street when he heard the two boys using profane language and wrestling with each other. The officer said that Kemp was drunk.

The witness said that when he had locked up both boys he asked Donovan if he had ever taken liquor before, and he replied that a man gave it to him, but on second consideration he said he gave fifty cents for it.

Kemp in answer to the court said he had partaken of some of the liquor but was not drunk. Kemp further said that Donovan and he met a man on Bond street near the foot of Dorchester St. and Donovan asked him if he had any liquor. The man replied that he had not, but could get some. He went away and in about fifteen minutes returned with a "square-face" of gin. They went in an alleyway and Donovan, who had fifty-five cents, paid the unknown man 50 cents. Kemp said that the man was dressed in a blue suit and he would know him again if he saw him.

Subsequently Kemp said that they took a drink on Bond street and went along City Road to Bussell street, where they had another. Just then a man came along and they gave the bottle to him. It was then only half consumed.

In answer to the court as to whether or not he had ever taken liquor before, Kemp said that he had when he was sick but never before when he was well.

Kemp only got out of jail the other day, being one of two boys arrested on suspicion of stealing bread, his honor asked him why he was not to work yesterday and Kemp said that he had lost his job in Myers' machine shop and was looking for work. The judge then remanded him that when he allowed him to go the last time it was on condition that he was not to be allowed out after dark.

THE PUBLIC PLAYGROUND Local Council of Women Will Consider The Plan at the Next Meeting.

A meeting of the local branch of the National Council of Women was held yesterday afternoon to deal with matters relative to the public playground project, the subject of public use of the grounds of the approaching exhibition.

The letter subject was discussed at considerable length and nothing was decided. The matter must first be sanctioned by the council which meets on Saturday next.

The subject of a public playground was brought before the meeting, but the limited time would not permit discussion of it in this direction. It will be taken up at the next meeting.

Mrs. McLellan when she sent this morning she had to do with the case. The proposition would meet with favor at the council meeting, and felt that if undertaken and pushed forward, it would be a success.

Mrs. McLellan also referred to the need of a jail room, and thinks that the time is ripe for some action in this direction. She says also that it is hardly the thing for the poor, unfortunates who are entrusted wholly to the care of men. This she pointed out was emphasized by a case that recently came before the court.

Mrs. McLellan feels very strongly in this matter, and thinks that something should be done to better the case.

THINK CONFLICT BETWEEN EMPEROR AND PARLIAMENT WILL SOON BE AT GRIPS WITH THE CZAR--WILL MAKE DEMANDS UPON SOME POINTS WHERE RUSSIAN CROWN CERTAINLY CAN NOT YIELD.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 16--The opinion is quite general today that the Emperor's adoption of the reply to the parliament will make conflict with the crown inevitable, as it contains a number of points upon which the supporters of the government say it is impossible for the Emperor to yield.

The Novoe Vremya regards the reply as a purely revolutionary document, "such as might appear as a leading article in a social democratic newspaper." On the other hand the constitutional democratic leaders, while hotly asserting that the reply is intended to make clear to the Emperor that the country will be satisfied with nothing less than a constitutional monarchy on a democratic basis, nevertheless insist that it is not an ultimatum.

They consider the reply to be exceedingly temperate in tone and say it required all their ability to prevent the introduction of more radical expressions. There is every indication that the Emperor and Premier Gorevkin's cabinet desire to avoid a conflict and that by a compromise on the question of amnesty they will seek to gain time. It can be asserted on high authority that partial amnesty will be proclaimed May 19, the Emperor's birthday.

When parliament reassembled at 11 o'clock today the impression prevailed that the day would witness stirring scenes, and the Premier Gorevkin and the entire cabinet were seated on the ministerial benches and it was understood that the Premier intended to outline the views of the government in regard to the reply to the speech from the throne.

The excited frame of mind of the members of parliament was evidenced by the long list of speakers submitted even before President Mourouzeff had called the house to order. This was not so much due to Russian love of talk as to the fact that every member seemed to feel himself to be charged with a message from his constituents which he must deliver.

The speeches of the peasants were delivered in the simple language of the villages, which was more easily comprehended than the utterances of the city members, who were inclined to indulge in high flown eloquence and foreign phrases and dialects which the members from the Baltic provinces and Poles sometimes found difficult to understand.

The leadership in parliament is being rapidly assumed by the Tver group of members, whose ability has thus far stood out in relief. The contingent from the Volga provinces is showing the greatest radicalism. None of the members from the Caucasus or Siberia have spoken up to the present, but it is not deniable that they applied the most radical utterances. Although the Muscovites took their place on the right, the majority are acting with the constitutional democrats and the Poles.

The upper house also met today. Two ministers and Count Witte were scheduled to speak. It was decided to appoint a committee of eighteen to draft an address in reply to the speech from the throne. The committee was given entire freedom of action and no instructions of any kind.
