BEAR RIVER SCHOOL HAS GOOD SHOWING

Splendid Marks Made by Students at Quarterly Examinations

DIGBY, Dec. 7.—The first quarterly examinations at the Bear River school, have been highly satisfactory, both from the standpoint of attendance, and the extra high marks made. DEMPSEY MAY FIGHT IN N. Y. IN MARCH

Decision Will Be Reached When He Comes East to Face Court Actions

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—Jack Dempsey will return to New York early in 1927 to fight the many court actions his former manager Jack Kearns, has brought against him. Tex Rickard announced today. While here the former heavyweight champion is scheduled to decide whether he will return to the ring during the current season.

Rickard indicated that Dempsey may fight in Madison Square Garden in March if a suitable opponent can be found. The promoter reiterated his preference to a match between Dempsey and the final survivor of the heavyweight elimination tournaments now under way, rather than a return bout between Jack and Gene Tunney, who stripped him of the title in Philadelphia.

The elimination series is the true method of developing the outstanding challengers for the title, Rickard said.

SPARTANS TRIM HUSTLERS
The Spartans won from the West Side Hustlers by a score of 56 to 12 in the Girls' City Basketball League game played last night, under boys' rules. The game was played in the Fairville gymnasium and was fast and exciting. The line-up was as follows:
Spartans:
Left forward: Nellie Kierstead (12) Grace Power
Right forward: Edith Carvell (34) Hilda Bodley (10)
Centre: Mary Keirstead (10)
Left guard: Ruth Carvell
Right guard: Lena Bain
Milly Izard
The referee was Roy Smith, who handled the whistle to the satisfaction of both sides. The scorer was Purdis Chipman.

THE NUT CRACKER by JOE WILLIAMS

IT'S hard to beat the old Army game, but the Navy showed it could at least be tied.

OVER in Pittsburgh they have rephrased it to read, "The Four Horse Laughs From Notre Dame."

TIMES do change. In years gone by the scribes devoted the winter months to firing managers. Now the managers fire themselves.

TRIS SPEAKER quit because his legs went back on him. Most managers quit only when the customers go back on them.

SEVEN big league managers have passed out of the picture since the season closed. . . . Still it's a poor manager that can't pass on seven.

THE old game isn't going to look the same without guys like Cobb and Speaker next season. . . . It's going to be something like those famous Gans-Nelson fights without the principals.

THERE'S something mysterious about all these managers taking the air in mob formation, like swarms of flies skidding down-grade on a bright Sunday morning.

IT MIGHT be a good idea if a congressional investigation were launched to find out why McGraw, Mack and (who's that other manager that is still on the job?) haven't quit, too.

NICK ALTROCK is no longer the greatest curiosity in baseball. . . . The greatest curiosity in baseball today is a manager who is still managing.

PETE LATZO WINS IN WHIRLWIND FINISH

Gets Newspaper Decision Over Joe Simonich—Title Not at Stake

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—Pete Latzo, the fighting miner of Scranton, Pa., has again demonstrated his right to the world's welterweight championship.

Coming from behind in the fourth round of a ten-round fight with Joe Simonich, hard hitting slugger from Butte, Mont., at the Newark Armory last night, Latzo carried the battle to his opponent with a whirlwind finish that earned him the decision of newspapermen at the ringside.

Lato's title was not at stake, and he fought as a middleweight, tipping the scale at 154 pounds. His victory was the third since he won the title from Micky Walker last May. Latzo last summer knocked out Willie Harmon in five rounds, and won on a foul from George Levine in the fourth. The titleholder appeared somewhat affected as a result of his six months absence from the ring, due to sickness and injuries.

FLOORED EIGHT TIMES

Monte Munn, former Nebraska football star, stopped Gordon Munn, of New York, in the second round of a ten round heavyweight match preliminary.

The referee interrupted hostilities to save Munn from further punishment after he had been felled eight times by the mid-westerner's heavy blows. Munn weighed 213½ lbs. Munn 208½.

Some Views of Movie Folks About Clothes

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 9.—Here is what some of the screen folk have to say of clothes:

Jean Hersholt—"Like the horse and buggy, pataoons and hoopskirts, the correct has become irreversibly historical."

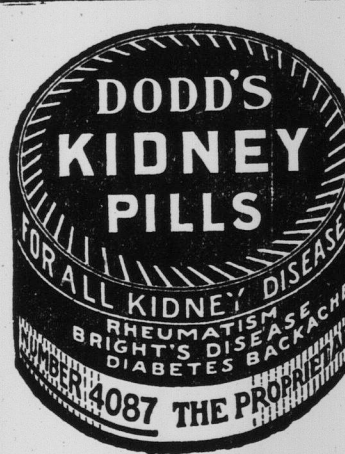

Adolph Menjou—"Men's styles run in cycles, as do women's. If a man hangs on to his clothes long enough they will come back into vogue again."

The heavy watch chain of 25 years ago is staging a return to favor, also the double-breasted vest of that era."

Richard Dix—"If I see a piece of goods that I like in a window, I go in and have a suit made, if I need one. I buy ready-made clothes occasionally, if something strikes my fancy. That's the advantage of playing 'average young American' roles. I don't even have to be careful about my haircuts."

John Miljan—"Clothes don't make the man, but they do make the villain. A villain must get the whole story of his character into his clothes."

The funny part of the papers is the part that tells how prices are coming down.

Final Vote Is Proposed For Maritime Case

ALTHOUGH the committee on division of the Maritime branch of the A. A. U. of C. has not reached a decision yet, it has been proposed that the annual meeting call for a vote, properly conducted on the entire matter.

It is suggested that a date be set for this poll after ample time for argument pro and con and that a union official, preferably Dr. Lamb, come to a place in the Maritimes and receive the returns and announce the result. Each affiliated club would have one vote and after making its decision send the result immediately to the official in charge. In this way, the entire matter could be promptly cleared up under official sanction.
