First
FIRST to discard their old-type razors for the original Gillette Safety Razor and first to adopt the New Improved, were the engineers, draughtsmen and technical men of the country. They recognized at once the soundness of its principle; saw at once the reality of its improvements

- the cutting angle found and fixed;
- rigidity of blade;
- the channelled guard for greater safety;
- to give the cutting edge free access to the beard
- and keep it clear from soap and hair.

It is these improvements that have eliminated the need for shaving experience and skill; made it impossible to get anything but a perfect shave; doubled the efficiency of the blades and lengthened their lives by many shaves.

If you would know the newest luxury of science—a velvet smooth, clean, soft shave every morning of your life—call at any store catering to the needs of men and buy
