

being vacated by the Lieutenant-Governor and the Major-General called thereto, his Honor the Chief Justice proposed a vote of thanks to the former, and in a brief and eloquent oration alluded to the benign influence of woman in every department of life. At the close of the ceremonies, three cheers were given for the Queen, the Ladies, the Lieutenant-Governor, the Major-General, and the Chief Justice. The Citizen Soldiers, who looked grandly, then escorted the Cup to the residence of Sergeant Sanford, and subsequently marched to their respective orderly rooms, the Band of the Artillery and the Pipes of the Volunteers playing popular airs.
