POOR DOCUMENT

THE STAR, ST. JOHN N. B. TUESDAY, MAY 4 1909

The Last Story By Stanley J. Weyman Author of

"A Gentleman of France,"

"Under the Red Robe," trated, in The Sun at an early date.

"The House of the Wolf," etc., will appear (serially) handsomely illus

This thrilling story of love and adventure, dealing, with the days when Irish pikemen met at the rising of the moon, is the Last Book of Stanley J. Weyman, who announces that he will write no more. THE SUN has secured exclusive serial rights in this province from the New York Hearld, and will begin publication in a few days.

'IT'S ALL OFF, JIMMY,' SHE

Blackstock Begins Where

Re Left Off—Mrs. Kill—

HAMFORD Date of Mrs. Ac. The Mrs. Scale of the Control of the

WROTE BEFORE MURDER

WROTE BEFORE MURDER

Corener and smartly told that he would not be permitted to make such remarks again. It was proved that she had signed the name of Violet Kensington to the letter she had written to the man. The letters were written in which she was required to chase him with a koffe. On one occasion she had used a revolver without telling Baum about it, but was unable to fire it orf. She admitted it was only in fun. She emphatically denied she had ever been divorced or that her sister bithel had insisted on the rester. When the was off all the was off all the was off and that he had written her threatening the same he was married, but if she did it was only in fun. She emphatically denied she had ever been divorced or that her sister bithel had insisted on the marrying a man much older than lerself. Neither did she tell Baum that he was off all the was off and that the had written her threatening telters. The only man who objected seriously to her being on the stage was Mr. Warburton. Any remarks made to Baum were only in the way of a joke. She had never promised to marry Baum except in the way of a joke. She had never promised to marry Baum except in the way of a joke. She had never promised to marry Baum except in the way of a joke. She had never promised to marry Baum except in the way of a joke. She had never promised to marry Baum except in the way of a joke. She had never promised to marry Baum except in the way of a joke. She had never promised to marry Baum except in the way of a joke. She had never promised to marry Baum except in the way of a joke. She had never promised to marry Baum except in the way of a joke. She had never promised to marry Baum except in the way of a joke. She had never promised to marry Baum except in the way of a joke. She had never promised to marry Baum except in the way of a joke. She had never promised to marry Baum except in the way of a joke. She had never promised to marry Baum except in the way of a joke. She had never promised to marry Baum exc of letters which she wrote to Jimmy, but she did not care to have these read in court. They were not read on condition that she admitted the facts condition that she admitted the facts conditions the state of the Miss Kinrade was on the stand until 11.30, and during that time Mr. Blackstock asked her many questions along various lines. He got her to admit that she had stayed at the Reford Hotel in Goderich during her singing tour, while at a previous session she swore that she stayed at Mrs. Robinson's house. She also admitted that Marion Elliott had visited her at her father's house when the other members of the family were all away. She did not think her actions in the South were necessarily strange. Other points were brought out, but they were not of very great importance.

The proceedings were enlivened by frequent tilts between Mr. Staunton and Mr. Blackstock over the admissibility of certain evidence. Miss Kinrade was finally excused and the inquest was adjourned until 7.30 tomorrow evening.

it was all off between her and Jimmy. Mr. Blackstock produced a big bunch

PASSION PLAY IS BARRED IN ENGLAND

LONDON, May 4—The English Drama Society had planned to give this week three performances of a Passion Play which had not been seen in England since the Reformation. A party of thirty serious men and women wanted to show how in the Middle Ages the story of the Cross was explained in dramatic form. The players were entirely reverent in their treatment of the theme, and the play had been carefully transcribed from old manuscripts in the British Museum. Rehearsals had progressed favorably manuscripts in the British Museum.
Rehearsals had progressed favorably and tickets were sold, when, just on the day of the performance, the censor forbade its taking place. In vain did Nugent Monck, the manager, argue against this decision. He then arranged to give a private performance of the scenes from the Passion Play in a small hall, but this, too, was forbidden.

REV.E.B. HOOPER ALUMNI ORATOR

U. N. B. Encoenia

May 27

EQUITY COURT

R. S. Barker Heads Capital Bicycle and Boating

MUST BE MORE ACTIVE

King Edward Gives Him Some Good Advice.

Effect on His Popularity Seen Already-Has a Big Stock of

LONDON, May 4.—The increased public activity of the Prince of Wales in recent months has been very evident to any one who follows the Eng-ivy will be planted. Miss Welling will be the orator on that occasion.

At the graduation proceedings in the afternoon the valedictorian will be Frank L. Orchard, who has been a prominent debator during his college course.

The address in praise of the founders will be delivered by Dr. C. C. Jones. The choice for alumni orator has been Rev. E. B. Hooper, B.A., who graduated in 1881 and is now rectors of St. Paul's (Valley) Church at St. John. Thus far no honorary degrees have been arranged for, although it is possible some will be conferred.

At the graduation proceedings in the duke.

The charter which made the duchy to the English throne to the English throne was passed in the reign of Edward III, and his son, the Black Prince, held his court at Restormel Castle, now a mass of picturesque ruins. When Queen Victoria ascended the throne the duchy income was about £12,000. At the date of the marriage of Edward VII, in 1863, the amount had increased to $50,000, and last year the Prince of Wales received over £80,000. The estates are well managed, and the duchy land.

THE PRINCE OF WALES

With his wonderful success carved from the native resources of his country, Mann has remained the most loyal of Canadians. He is a pronounced opponent of reciprocity, taking the position that Canada is strong enough to stand on her own feet before the world wowld.

Mann was born in Ontario in 1853.
He got the western fever early, and started with nothing as a sub-contractor on the Canadian Pacific then building out of Winnipeg. Operating on credit at first, he took long chances but chances always backed by the shrewdest judgment. He won, and won again.

The Canadian Northern proposition was undertaken by him and his partener on their own initiative, while the Dominion parliament was spending won again.

won again.

Before he was thirty Mann had completed a number of big contracts, and uniting his fortunes with young Wm.

mands of nature the thirst is quenched.

That's the reason is the "wettest," most satisfying of all waters. More than delicious and wholesome—beneficial. Magi Water is a pure, natural mineral water bottled exclusively at the springs. A delicious table water-a pleasant soda fount drink. Superior to soda with whiskey-both for flavor and healthfulness. Comes in pints, splits and half gallons. Can be had at cafes, hotels, bars, chemists', on all R. R. cafe cars and at your grocer's by the bottle or the case.

An interesting booklet about Magi Water will be sent free for the asking.

Sold from Coast to Coast CALEDONIA SPRINGS COMPANY, Ltd.

McIntyre (&) Comeau, Ltd.

Distributing Agents

Mackenzie, had begun to make his name known all over Canada.

In his later years Mann has carried through gigantic contracts all over the world. He has done work all over South America, and is an authority on the state of China. D. D. MANN-NAME

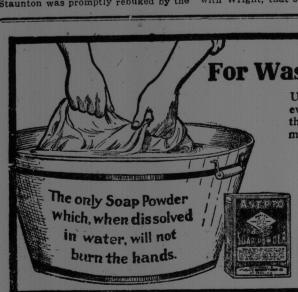

TORONTO, Ont., May 4.—Donald D. Mann—this is a name that stands for big things in Canada. One of the strongest of the new leaders of the Dominion, Mann is called the J. J. Hill of the north.

The building of the Canadian Northern, paralleling the Canadian Pacific from Port Arthur to the ocean, the Ontario Power Co. at Nlagara Falls, the Canadian Pacific short line through Maine—these are some of the

IN ANY QUANTITY ing sinks, closets, drains and for many other purposes. A can equals 20 lbs. SAL SODA.

Sold Everywhere E. W. GILLETT CO., LTD.

Manufactured by
THE ASEPTO MANUFACTURING CO., St. John, N. B.

SOAP POWDER