ARRIVES UNDER HER OWN STEAM

BOSTON, Mass., July 2—The United States torpedo boat destroyer McDonough, which was reported to have been with an accident off Rockland Harbor today, arrived at the navy yard tonight under her own steam. The officers would not discuss the accident, but it was learned that the McDonough struck a reef in Penobscot Bay, damaging her bottom. The extent of her injuries could not be learned, but as the vessel was able to put back to Boston under her own power at an average rate of speed it is thought that she could not have been seriously damaged.

NAVAL PROGRAMME

BOSTON, Mass., July 2—The tentative general programme for the manoeuvres of the great battleship fleet that will assemble in Provincetown next week for the summer drill, was announced today by Rear Admiral Sifton Schroeder, who will command the largest and strongest aggregation of warships that has ever assembled in American waters. There are to be seventeen battleships, six fleet auxiliaries, the Dixie parent ship and the torpedo flotilla of twelve boats, the submarine flotilla with the gunboat Castles, parent ship, and six submarines, and the scout cruiser squadron of three ships.

THE SAFEST WAY.

"You never shop with age!" She blushed prettily.

"Well, I'm sure," she said, "it's kind of you to say so."

"Yes," resumed the older woman, closing the family Bible. "It's been scratched out some time hasn't it?"—Atlanta Constitution.

FROM DIANA'S DIARY.

As an Amateur Hawkshaw, Miss Dillpickles Gets on the Trail of a Kidnapped Chee-ild.

By FRED SCHAEFER.

"IN FACT, SHE'S AS BIG A MYSTERY AS CHESTERTON QUINCE DUBARRY."

III.
The chase grows hotter.
That is, those who are chasing the kidnappers are growing hotter in the collar.
It looks like Chesterton Quince Dubarry will not be found unless he is located.
Last evening the father left $50,000 in actual money in an empty tomato can on a vacant lot as the ransom, but there was so many tomato cans lying round that the kidnappers couldn't find the right one, although the authorities lent them a locomotive headlight to hunt it. So the child ain't restored yet.
I had another narrow escape from finding the lost darling. The description said he had squirrel teeth, and I saw a tatty dressed girl of 6 on Main street and thought she might be Chesterton disguised as a boy. I led her

REPEATED CALLS FOR AIR MAKE ASSISTANTS REALIZE DIVER'S FRIGHTFUL PLIGHT

Diver Fred Doyle is lying in a precarious condition at his home, 19 Britain street, as the result of an accident occurring early yesterday afternoon, and which came within an ace of costing him his life at the time.
Diver Doyle has been engaged for some time in repairing the broken water main that connects Partridge Island with the mainland.
The diver had been at work for some hours when at 1.15 o'clock yesterday afternoon Helpers Thos. Carlin and Robert Purton received a signal for more air, and although they had been pumping steadily they suspected nothing of what was going on beneath the surface of the harbor.
The air tube had become knotted in some way and Mr. Doyle was slowly suffocating. Again and again he called for more air, the signals becoming more hurried and less distinct with every minute that passed. Still there was no response, and it was only as a

CONSULTING ENGINEER TO GET INCREASE IN PAY

At a meeting of the Treasury Board held yesterday afternoon it was decided to increase the salary of the consulting engineer to $1200 per annum. Up to the present time Mr. Peters has been drawing but $1,000 for the job. It was also decided to recommend to council that a resolution be drafted in the strengthening out of a few minor irregularities that have recently come to light in the matter of a past bond issue.

WARSHIPS AT ROCKLAND

ROCKLAND, Me., July 2—The U.S. battleships Georgia and New Jersey arrived here late today from Hampton Roads. Next Tuesday Rear Admiral Richard Wainwright, commanding the second division of the Atlantic fleet, will visit his flag on the Georgia, and the ships will sail for Provincetown late that afternoon. The torpedo experimental ship Montgomery, which arrived here yesterday, has been ordered to Belfast for the 4th of July. She will sail tomorrow.

AMUSEMENTS.

NICKEL'S FEATURES FOR MONDAY.

This afternoon and tonight the Nickel will wind up a highly successful week with Holmes and Buchanan in "Hoo-on." Miss Evans in her farewell ballad; the London Zoo, two dramas and a comedy. On Monday the bill will be equally as full of attractive features including the return of that seven year old midget comedian Pat Harrington. Pat has been holding forth in Upper Canada for the last few weeks to crowded houses and his little Scotch get-ups, dress suit and silk top and other new costumes set off his new collection of songs admirably. It is quite probable his opening number will be that big Yankee hit "I Love My Wife But O You Kid," which this droll youngster does to uproars of laughter. Holmes and Buchanan will give a "straight" singing act Monday in the nature of a grand concert, introducing the familiar intermezzo from Mascagni's Cavalleria Rusticana; the Pilgrim's Song from Wagner's Tannhauser, and Verdi's Hail To Our Mountains from Il Trovatore. At the present writing it is impossible to ascertain whether Pat Harrington's papers will give definite particulars. New pictures Monday as well.

TINY WILLIAMS FAREWELL AT THE UNIQUE NEW SINGER MONDAY.

This will be a big day for the Unique, that cutest of little singers, Tiny Williams, who has sung herself into the hearts of many thousands since coming to St. John, will say farewell to her friends in her two biggest song successes of the engagement. Another announcement of interest is the fact that beginning Monday the Unique will introduce a character singer who is capable of giving our now somewhat blasé public a real surprise. Don't miss her opening number Monday night; it's a winner. Today's picture programme includes five good subjects.

AT THE PRINCESS MONDAY.

The management of the Princess announce that they have booked a big special feature act for next week in J. W. Cooper, America's only ventriloquist. Mr. Cooper will introduce some new feats. Rollins and Curran are next on the bill. They are a character comedy as the best solo and trick duo players ever heard here. Owing to popular demand the management have decided to retain Jordan and Gervaise for another week. These wonderful vocalists have sung their way into the hearts of the music lovers of this city. Jordan and Gervaise will have a complete change of programme for Monday. Complete vaudeville programme Monday night.

AT THE HAPPY HALF HOUR.

Another splendid show greeted patrons of the H. H. last evening. Miss Berni sang The Message of the Violet from The Prince of Pilsen, and Signor Gervaise, by request, repeated Good-Bye, Sweetheart, Good-Bye, and of course, both singers were given their usual hearty applause. The pictures as promised were all new. A War Time Sweetheart is a picture dealing with the war between the North and South, full of stirring incidents and tells a charming love story. A Guest's Freedom, and The Elphinstone are two excellent comedies. Parents can send their children with perfect safety to today's matinee—lots of room for them. Last time for this show tonight.

EMPIRE THEATRE.

Baby Ross again last evening scored a tremendous hit in her rendition of "Captain Willie Brown." Chorus after chorus was repeated last evening to satisfy the numerous admirers of this very clever juvenile performer. Monday Miss Ross will introduce a complete specialty song and dance. The pictures for today are "The Young Martyr," comedy; "The Little Violinist," pathetic; "The Test of Friendship" and the "Midnight Ride of Paul Revere," two very clever dramas. A special matinee today at 2 p. m. for school children, 5 cents all. Cool and cosy, large and comfortable.

"John," Mrs. Murgump began, thoughtfully, "I've been thinking a lot about you lately."

"Something nice?" questioned hubby, with hopeful infection.

"Do you know," she went on, quite ignoring the bid for flattery, "that's new we have lived here up the country and you have gone backwards and forwards to the city every day you have seen absolutely nothing of the hill-dre."

"I don't see how that can be helped," replied Murgump. "When I have in the morning they are not up and when I come back in the evening they're in bed."

"Yes," asserted the patient wife, "that is so, but you might at least send them a souvenir postcard now and then."
