WEATHER DID NOT AFFECT ATTENDANCE

Torrey Meeting Last Evening One of Most Successful of Campaign--Sermon Tonight on Ten Commandments.

Last night despite the inclement weather many people were to be seen wending their way to the Queen's Rink long before the hour of opening and at 7:30 o'clock when the song service began, there were few vacant seats in the big building. Dr. Torrey made the remark that while wet weather greatly affected the attendance at religious meetings in this city, in England, like St. John, the weather did not appear to bother them. He was very glad of the fact, for while in England he had the misfortune to encounter almost continual wet weather.

The sermon last evening was from the text, "Where Art Thou" and was a very impressive message. Rev. Mr. McKim occupied the chair and before the sermon prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Flemington, of Petticoat.

Tonight Dr. Torrey will preach his great sermon on the Ten Commandments. "Tekel; Thou art weighed in the balances and art found wanting." This is one of the most impressive and deeply solemn sermons that will be heard during the mission. The sermon has been delivered by Dr. Torrey throughout the world and everywhere has aroused intense interest and has provoked wide discussion. As the attendance from all indications will tax the building to its full capacity, extra ushers will be on hand and special provision will be made regarding the seating arrangements. This will be the last service before Sunday and Mr. McEwan, who has won his way into the hearts of the St. John public quite as much by his unflinching good humor as by his charming voice will sing the ever favorite song The Holy City.
