AROUND THE CITY

Violating Traffic Law.

Robert Ross Neil has been reported by the police for violating section 5 of the street traffic law on Mill street on the 4th instant.

Appointed Commissioner.

Geo. A. McNicholl is appointed commissioner, colonization and industrial department of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway with offices at Prince Rupert, B. C.

To Municipal Home.

James Davis, who was taken in custody on Friday evening and placed in central police station charged with common vagrancy was removed to the Municipal Home on Saturday on a commitment issued by Magistrate Ritchie.

Police Reports.

The police report two keys found on Vulcan street, and one on Charlotte. They can be secured at the Central Police Station. They also report a gold chain found at the entrance to City Hall, West End, which can be recovered by the owner on application to the West End police, and a carriage rug found on City Road, which is held in the North End police station awaiting an owner.

Hurt by Fall.

Kenneth Morrison, a resident of the city, received slight injuries on Saturday afternoon when he fell from an express he was driving on Mill street and was tossed to the pavement, striking his head on the curbstone. He was taken to a physician he was removed to the hospital, but it was found there that his injuries were not serious, and he was later released from that institution.

Official Visit.

Grand Master P. J. G. Knowlton, Past Grand Masters Dr. Walker and Dr. Bridges, Grand Chaplain Rev. R. A. Armstrong, Grand Secretary J. T. Hart and Grand Director of Ceremonies J. H. Crockett will leave this morning on an official visit to points on the North Shore from Moncton to Campbellton. They will spend the week visiting different lodges officially. Among the places visited will be Richibucto, Chatham, Newcastle, Bathurst, Dalhousie and Campbellton.

Lectures on Brotherhood.

In Fairville Methodist Sunday school lecture was given, the speaker being Rev. Dr. J. A. Morrison. Dr. Morrison's subject was, "The Way to Get Brotherhood." In the course of his interesting discourse he pointed out the need to get the men in the church to do practical work. The great lack of practical work on the part of the men of the church is called for attention. Rev. W. W. Brewer, of Gagetown, was another speaker during the afternoon, and he also spoke on the subject of brotherhood. The attendance was large, and both addresses proved interesting and instructive.

A Passing Star.

J. Franklin, of Vancouver, the man with the telescope, who has travelled all over Europe, Asia and Australia, showing the natives the man in the moon, was the principal speaker at the Socialist meeting last evening. He made some references to the intellectual backwardness of the people of the Maritime Provinces which were even more caustic than the statements made by a Harvard professor in a recent book on Eastern Canada. In his trip round the world, he said, he had found the Socialist sentiment and Socialist ideas taken hold of the people like an epidemic, though in many places the people hardly knew that their ideas and sentiments were Socialist. Everywhere, even in China and Japan, the laboring classes were growing class-conscious and running like a sleeping giant. In the Maritime Provinces people clung to old-fashioned ideas and superstitions more tenaciously than in any other part of the world.

PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Jones of Digby, have returned home after a pleasant visit to St. John.

Robert Wood, who has been the guest of George Jardine, of Chatham, has returned to St. John.

Mrs. M. B. Benson, who has been visiting Mrs. Catherine Barr, of Chatham, has returned to St. John.

Miss Annie Hatfield and Miss Nola Mellick are visiting friends in Hampton.

P. Arnold Fox leaves this morning for the border towns in connection with the tour of Miss Eva Mylott. He is to give a recital this evening on the new pipe organ in the Presbyterian church at St. Andrews.

Why are we getting so many orders to remodel and lengthen Seal and Persian Lamb coats? BECAUSE of the good values and styles we give at reasonable prices. H. Mont. Jones 54 King street.

RALLY DAY EXERCISES A SUCCESS

Special Services Held by Baptist and Methodist Sunday Schools, Yesterday—Were well Attended

Rally Day in the Germal street Baptist Church Sunday school yesterday afternoon, marked by great enthusiasm, and the programme was of a very interesting nature. A special form of service, based on the Gospel Life Saving Station idea was used, and the hymns were of a nautical nature, and were sung in a hearty manner. Appropriate addresses were made by Rev. F. S. Porter, pastor of the church, Donaldson Hunt, superintendent of the Sunday school, and R. Ingelton, leader of the Boy Scouts. Special music was rendered by an orchestra under the leadership of George Taylor. The attendance at the rally was very large, and a special thank offering was taken, which will be used in connection with the building of the new Sunday school now under construction on the north side of the church. This building will be completed about the first of January, and then the Germal street Sunday school will be one of the largest and most up to date in Canada, and will give the church authorities, the equipment for carrying on the rapidly increasing work of the Sunday school.

An interesting feature of the service was the hymn by the Cadet Light Bearers.

At the morning service in the church Rev. F. S. Porter preached a special Rally Day sermon. He took his text from Ezekiel, 48-12, "And the sanctuary shall be in the midst thereof." He spoke of the importance of having a sanctuary, as a central point for the activities of life as well as of the church.

Rally day was also observed with appropriate ceremonies in other Sunday schools of the Baptist Church.

Queen Square Methodist.

In a number of the Methodist churches yesterday Rally Day exercises were carried out. A noticeable feature of the services was the large attendance of school workers, or those interested in the work of the schools. In some of the churches the pastors preached sermons appropriate to the occasion. In Queen Square church at the morning service, the pastor, Rev. Wilfred Gaetz, occupied the pulpit and took as the subject of his address "The Church and its Relations to Youth." The choir which has been reorganized under the direction of C. Cooper, rendered special music.

In the afternoon the special "Rally Day" exercises were carried out, and the programme was of an interesting character. The attendance was particularly large. A violin solo was rendered by Mrs. T. H. Gunn and Miss Mabel Williams rendered a vocal solo.

Rev. Mr. Gaetz addressed the scholars briefly, as did R. Duncan Smith, the superintendent, who complimented the teachers and workers on the progress they have made during the past year.

An interesting feature of the programme was an exercise carried out by twelve young ladies. Each represented one of the twelve Methodist Conferences of the Dominion, and in the course of the exercise each told of the Sunday school work being accomplished in the conference which she represented.

The attendance at all services during the day was a pleasing feature of the observance. The music prepared for the occasion was another factor in the success of the day's proceedings.

Centenary Church.

The "Rally Day" exercises in Centenary church were successfully carried out and were of an interesting character. The attendance at the afternoon service, which was the special feature of the day, was the largest seen at a similar assembly in many years. At the morning service reference was made by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Barraclough to the significance of the day.

The special exercises in connection with the observance of the day were held in the afternoon. The programme consisted of a special exercise carried out by sixteen of the young people of the Sunday school, each representing a Conference of the Methodist church. Each of those taking part told of the progress in Sunday school work being made in the section which he or she represented. Those taking part in the programme were D. Brunstrom, Fred Dineen, J. R. Barraclough, John Northrup, Geo. Skinner, John Robertson, Lillian Logan, Dorothy Whitaker, Kathleen Logan, Frances Jordan, Beatrice Macaulay, Miss Blay, Dorothy Tennant.

J. E. Arthurs, superintendent, who was present for the first time since recovering from a recent illness, delivered a short address.

At the evening service Rev. Chas. P. Holmes, a missionary, who is home from Japan on furlough, occupied the pulpit and gave an illuminating address on Japan, and the work being done by the missionaries there.

Speaking of conditions in the Mikado's empire today, the speaker referred to the growth of democracy, which is helping such a help to the missionary in his work. He referred to the government's recognition of the Christian religion as a religion of the empire.

THE TELEGRAPH AGAIN PROVEN IN THE WRONG

Charles Boyle, Although Staunch Liberal, Gives Credit where it is Due—Have Improved Roads.

Two or three weeks ago The Standard printed an article in which Chas. Boyle, formerly of St. George, and now of St. John, gave great credit to the Charlotte County members of the local house for the excellent work done on the roads between St. George and St. Stephen. The Telegraph in commenting on this made the statement that Mr. Boyle was a deserter from the Liberal party and that his father had helped to put the Laurier government out of power. Mr. Boyle wishes to say most emphatically that the Telegraph is altogether in the wrong in this. His father had very little to do with the Laurier government, inasmuch as Mr. Boyle, Sr., died thirty-eight years ago, while the Laurier government met their downfall only two years since.

Mr. Boyle, himself, declares that he is a staunch Liberal as he has always voted the Liberal ticket and sees no reason why he should do otherwise. At the same time he has of late years supported Dr. H. J. Taylor of St. George, who is the only one of the government candidates to receive his support. He feels he must give proper credit to the members of the local house for the excellent work they have done in Charlotte County on the roads. Mr. Clark and Mr. Grimmer sent the right men from St. Stephen to St. George to Lepreau, while the Laurier government met their downfall only two years since.

In place of the disgraceful condition which formerly existed, the road now shows good shape for even the most exacting. Four years ago Mr. Boyle had to take the steps off a wagon in order to drive from St. George to Lepreau, while the Laurier government met their downfall only two years since. The horse fell and broke a leg. Today four horses can be driven abreast over the same road in perfect safety.

IS ACCUSED OF STEALING

Police Arrest Man Charged with Taking Books from Arnold's Department Store on Charlotte Street.

Early Saturday evening Police Officer Anderson placed in charge Daniel Hurley, aged 45 years, on a charge of stealing from the Arnold department store, Charlotte street. The prisoner was lodged in central station on a charge laid against him by G. Heber Arnold, who accuses Hurley with stealing two books from the store. It is understood that the man in custody wandered into the store and deliberately picked two novels from the counter and hid them in his coat pocket. He was detected by those in the store and the matter placed with the police resulting in the arrest. When taken in charge Hurley had in his possession two books and a flask partly filled with liquor.

CANADA GETS A GOOD BARGAIN WITH INDIES

Hon. George E. Foster Successful in His Negotiations, Says Barbadoes Man—Outlook Bright.

That Hon. George E. Foster got for Canada much advantage in the negotiations leading up to the reciprocity treaty with the West Indies, is the opinion of E. L. Mitchell, manager of the Barbadoes Molasses Company, probably the largest concern of its kind in the West Indies.

"There is strong opposition to the treaty in Barbadoes and other places," said Mr. Mitchell, when seen at the Royal yesterday. "The people of the West Indies feel that their representatives allowed Canada to get the better of the bargain."

"However, Barbadoes is coming into its own again, and in a few years conditions will be as good as they were in the flourishing days of old. If I had any idle money I would put it into land in Barbadoes."

"How is the molasses market?" "Well, there is little or no chance of a drop in prices," said Mr. Mitchell. "I am willing to bet $15,000 that in the next ten years you won't see the prices of molasses or syrup below 15 cents at Barbadoes. This year the price will range between 17 and 20 cents, and may go higher. My company was accused of cornering the market last year, but there is no truth in the accusation. Our biggest rivals, the Mueson Company, and the deCosta Company, controlled about half the crop of the island, and prices went up, much to the discomfort of the small dealers."

"The cane crop last year was small, but because of the rise in prices the planters converted a large percentage of cane into molasses. This year there will be a good crop of cane, but there is likely to be a small crop of molasses. The planters have the situation in their hands. They can make sugar or molasses whichever they please, and as they have got the prices for molasses way up, they will not risk forcing prices down by making too much molasses. When the new United States tariff goes into effect next March they will be able to sell sugar in the American market at a fair profit, and as the planters are able through the special financial arrangements made possible by the imperial government's loan to carry their crops until next August, they can make the most of the situation. The planters always have an eye to the future, and it is difficult in the future to get sugar from the West Indies, as the reduction of the duty on sugar entering the American market tends to divert the West Indies product to the U. S. market."

Mr. Mitchell expressed the opinion that the Canadian refiners of sugar would find it difficult in the future to get sugar from the West Indies, as the reduction of the duty on sugar entering the American market tends to divert the West Indies product to the U. S. market.

ST. PETER'S SOCIETY ELECTS OFFICERS AT MEETING YESTERDAY

John McDonnell, new President or Organization—Inspiring Address on Work for Winter.

A very enthusiastic meeting of the members of the St. Peter's Y. M. C. was held yesterday afternoon in their rooms, Douglas Avenue, when a general discussion on the programme, which will be followed up by the society during the next month, took place. The election of officers was held which resulted in John McDonnell being chosen leader of the association for the new term.

During the meeting, which was largely attended, addresses were delivered by several of the retiring officers and also some newly elected. The chaplain of the society, Rev. Father Borgmann, was also heard in an eloquent address in which he outlined what would be undertaken by the society this season. The literary and dramatic committee as well as the sporting committee were formed and are already making active preparations for the winter.

The orchestra, which in past years has proven such a valuable acquisition to the society, is already getting in form and will doubtless aid materially in making this year one of the best in the history of the society. The election yesterday resulted as follows:

John McDonnell, president. B. J. McGovern, vice-president. John Hagerty, secretary. Ernest White, assistant secretary. Thomas C. Olive, treasurer.

Joseph Dever, assistant treasurer. Roy Hanson, president of sporting committee.

William Shea, president literary and dramatic committee.

George Creary, sergeant at arms.
