Lecture Was Much Enjoyed

Members of Women's Canadian Club Delighted With Mrs. Adam's Address.

A picture of the smallest state in Europe, Denmark, land of chalk cliffs and polite children, was delightfully brought before a St. John audience last evening when Mrs. Adam lectured on her native land at a meeting of the Women's Canadian Club. The upper hall of the Germania street institute was filled to overflowing, and all present were charmed with Mrs. Adam's clear descriptions, the quaintness of her expressions and her keen sense of humor. It was one of the brightest and most enjoyable programmes which members of the Club have been privileged to enjoy.

Mrs. John Thompson, first Vice-President, presided. The meeting opened with the playing of the Danish National Anthem. Mrs. Thompson announced that at the December meeting Miss Cosy-Batt will address the Club. Mrs. Adam then introduced.

Denmark's King

In well chosen words the speaker referred to Denmark's King telling how closely the royal family is related to the crowned heads of Europe and mentioning in appreciative terms Alexander the Queen Mother of England.

In speaking of Denmark's possessions, Iceland and Greenland were described as places of icebergs and the haunts of Polar bears. One of the beauty spots of Denmark is a long range of chalk cliffs. These at sunset, as a background for green forests and blue sea create a scene of loveliness. Flowers abound in Denmark and are cultivated and loved. There is much culture of vegetables also.

A dear park just outside Copenhagen, was described as being very beautiful, the beach trees being very large so that it was said that battalions of soldiers could stand beneath one. Many picnics are held in this park, and when night comes on, and the forest is deserted, the deer come out to wander among the trees.

A Pretty Legend

A pretty legend was told of an old church which is situated on a crumbling cliff. It is said that each Christmas night the church is abandoned and moved a few inches landward and is preserved from falling into the sea. Christmas Eve is kept by the Danes as the day itself is in Canada. Several examples of Danish superstitions were given, such as its being unlucky to whistle at night because it brings ghosts about, and if one must go back to a house for something forgotten, it is necessary to sit down three times to avert evil.

The natives of Denmark are industrious, patriotic, intelligent, and polite. The lecturer said "though sometimes they are not," she said laughingly. Boys doff their caps when speaking and girls drop curtsies. Weddings are held in the afternoon, guests wearing evening dress. The bride's dress is not complete without a wreath of myrtle. The Danes are excellent after-dinner speakers, each guest being required to make a speech at a dinner party.

Fishing is one of the great industries, salmon, herring and oysters being the principal fish caught.

Wonders of Copenhagen

Many of the wonders of Copenhagen were interestingly spoken of, Mrs. Adam particularly telling of the fine buildings and gabled roofs of the houses which are features noted by

Juvenile Court
Plan Endorsed

Session of Municipal Chapter Held Yesterday—Report of War Memorial Committee.

An endorsement of the plan for a Juvenile Court was passed yesterday by the Municipal Chapter at a meeting held in the Government rooms, Mrs. George K. McLeod, vice-regent, presiding.

A letter was read from Dr. Farris, asking the Order to provide a Kindergarten teacher for children patients at East St. John. The matter was referred to the Primary Chapter for action.

The necessity for a Juvenile Court was once more brought before members and their resolution in favor of this was reaffirmed.

War Memorial Committee.

Mrs. Heber Vroom gave a report of the War Memorial Committee, which met recently at Fredericton. It is composed of Mrs. Robert Fitz Randolph, president of the Provincial Chapter; Mrs. B. C. Foster, Provincial Educational secretary; Mrs. Vroom, Professor Cameron, of the U. N. B., and Professor Hunter, of Mount Allison. Three applications for the I. O. D. E. Post-Graduate Scholarship were considered. It was awarded to Norman Call, of Sackville, a returned soldier, and a Mount Allison graduate.

A resolution of sympathy was passed to Mrs. A. W. Adams, regent of the Municipal Chapter, in her bereavement.

An invitation was extended to the Provincial Chapter to hold its quarterly meeting in January at St. John.

COMFORTABLE FOR BABY

A dozen bassinets ordered by the Women's Hospital Aid for the babies at the General Public Hospital have arrived and are now at the institution. They have been finely lined with flannel, and ready for occupation by the wee patients for whose comfort they are in charge of this matter for the Aid.

PRISONER RAISED JAIL CHICKS. Hollidaysburg, Pa., Nov. 20.—Sheriff W. L. Orr, has been requested by officials of the Western Penitentiary to conduct a search for M. W. Smith, who, it is alleged, raised the prison chicken coop as soon as he was liberated after serving fifteen months for an analogous offense.

foreigners. The Art Museums and their treasures, the famous street scenes, "the dappers and nuts walk in the afternoon," the Castle at Elsinore, Carl Jacobson and his splendid gifts to the Fatherland, the printing of the first Bible in the land, and some of Denmark's famous painters, musicians, sculptors, dramatists, and writers, all there were a part of the story of Denmark as told last evening. How Hans Christian Andersen walked in his own shoes and how, when he returned to his native town, he took with him to the reception prepared for him his aged mother in her old dress was touchingly related.

At the close of the lecture Bayard Curry played several dances composed by the Danish composer (sane). A number of views were then shown by Gordon Flewelling. Mrs. Adam giving a few words of explanation.

A vote of thanks was moved by Miss Alice Fairweather, seconded by Mrs. H. A. Powell. Refreshments were served by a committee with Mrs. Powell as convener the following assisting: Mrs. Clarence Henderson, Mrs. H. Flewelling Rankine, Miss May Harrison, Miss Ethel Jarvis, Mrs. D. C. Dearden and other members of the executive. Mrs. F. C. Beattie and Mrs. Bonnell were in charge of the arrangements for the Hall.

Over Fifty Years Ago

A young physician practiced widely in a rural district and became famous for his uniform success in the curing of disease. This was Dr. R. V. Pierce, who afterwards established himself in Buffalo, N. Y., and placed one of his prescriptions, which he called his "Golden Medical Discovery," in the drug stores of the United States and Canada so the public could obtain this very remarkable tonic, corrective, and blood-maker. Dr. Pierce manufactured this "Discovery" from roots and herbs—a corrective remedy, the ingredients of which nature had put in the fields and forests, for keeping us healthy. Few folks or families now living have not at sometime or other used this Golden Medical Discovery for the stomach, liver and heart. Evidence of the wonderful sale of this medicine is recorded in the books of Dr. Pierce's Laboratory in Buffalo, N. Y., showing that over twenty-four million bottles of this tonic and blood remedy have been sold in this country. No one can fight the battles of life and hold his own if his blood is at pure. No one suffers from colds, "flu" and catarrhs who are plentiful of red corpuscles and a good circulation. An excellent blood depends upon the blood, impurities in the blood, together with a lowered bodily resistance, cause catarrhs. Intense pure red blood into the system, and health is secured.

Dr. Pierce advises you, if you wish to avoid the many germ diseases, to keep your blood in good order. You can obtain Golden Medical Discovery in tablet or liquid form at all drug stores, or send for a trial package to Dr. Pierce's Laboratory in Buffalo, N. Y.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR GIRL

By HELEN ROWLAND

(Copyright, 1910, by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

The god of the savage is his idol; the god of the civilized man is fast becoming his idleness.

The foolish woman begs the beauty expert never to let the brightness go out of her eyes; but the wise woman prays heaven never to let the lovelight go out in her heart.

Not even a sixty-horse-power car can drag a man to church on Sunday morning, if a little one-arm-power golf ball is tantalizing him to take the broad and wicked path to the golf links.

A wall covered with pictures, a woman covered with jewels, a love-affair crowded with kisses, a life filled with flirtations—all are equally tiring. It takes a little space between such things, a little perspective, to give them their proper value.

"The mind has a thousand eyes—the heart but one!"—and that sometimes goes fast asleep, after marriage.

The man who wants to throw himself into his first wife's grave is the soonest ready to throw himself at another woman's feet. Oh well, of course. A born husband is a born husband, and the more completely he has loved his first wife, the more perfectly will he love the second.

Ah me! If a man would only cling to his wife as faithfully and devotedly as he clings to the same old pipe, year after year—but come to think of it, the pipe never accuses him of "neglecting" it, no matter how long it has to hang around unnoticed.

Divorce appears to be the thunderelement which sours all the milk of human kindness in two souls.

Alas, if married life, like business life, could only begin AFTER breakfast, instead of before, it's looking at one another through the unimpaired and distorting void of an empty stomach that does the mischief.

Scowling, squeezing the pennies seems to squeeze all the romance out of married life.

Catholic High
"Y" Club Formed

Catholic High School Boys Elected Officers and Held Addresses Last Evening.

At an enthusiastic meeting of the Catholic High School Boys of the city held in the Y. M. C. I. last evening, a new club to be known as the Catholic High "Y" Club was brought into being.

After an enjoyable programme, consisting of musical selections and a number of able addresses, refreshments were served. The boys then elected their officers.

Addresses delivered

The club was organized by the Boys' Committee of the Y. M. C. I. and the Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus. Addresses were delivered by the Rev. Dr. Guerin, C.S.C., president of St. Joseph's College; by the Rev. Father Dufour, of Dorchester; Dr. W. P. Broderick, A. S. Connor, A. Ryan, A. Burns, W. McWilliams and E. J. O'Toole.

The speakers emphasized the great benefits to be derived by the coupling of a close application to both study and sport.

As a sound body was essential to a sound mind, the boys were urged to take full advantage of the opportunities offered by the Y. M. C. I. for their moral and physical betterment.

Election of Officers

The boys in electing their officers adhered to strictest democratic principles, nominations being called and election made by ballot. Paul Fraser, who starred on the High School football team this fall, was elected president; Maurice McDermott, elected president; William Williams, secretary; and Arthur Burns, treasurer.

Mr. Fraser, in a neat speech, thanked the boys for the honor conferred, and was confident that it would be the aim of every member of the club to make the Catholic High School Boys' Club the best athletic association in the city and a credit to the Y. M. C. I.

Joseph Mullaly presided at the piano during the evening and accompanied the boys in a series of popular songs and choruses.

"WOMAN OF BOOZE."

For insouciance in titles "The Woman of Bronze" has had its full share. In the subway two women involved in an ardent discussion of the drama declared that tonight they intended to see Margaret Anglin in "The Bronze Women" at the Frazee Theatre.

Miss Anglin herself tells of a more original title, bestowed upon her play during its long run last year. For some unaccountable reason the billing for the production was delayed and did not arrive in Modesto, Cal., where the company was scheduled to play.

Instead the manager of the Modesto Theatre had only received misspelled telegram giving the title of Margaret Anglin's play. Consequently Miss Anglin's dilemma was explained when she beheld upon arriving in the town, mammoth posters displayed in the most conspicuous places bearing the legend, "Margaret Anglin—Tonight—in 'The Woman of Booze!'"

ICE CREAM FOR ELECTIONS.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 20.—Two hundred dollars spent for ice cream by the Taxpayers' League of Baltimore County in the recent campaign was one result of the entry of women to United States politics. On the list of expenses filed at Towson by Dr. John Black, treasurer for the campaign on behalf of the county charter, ice cream appears eleven times as item of expense. The league also spent $4.76 for cake.

CANADIAN WORKER
AMONG THE LEPERS
OF INDIA IS HOME

Miss Isabelle Hatch, Thrice Decorated, Describes Leper Asylum.

Miss Isabelle Hatch, a native of Woodstock, who has spent the past thirty-four years as a missionary in India, under the auspices of the Baptist Mission Board, is on a furlough and visiting friends at Woodstock, Ont. The last twenty years of that time were devoted exclusively to work among the lepers, and for her admirable service Miss Hatch has been decorated with three handsome medals for "public service" in India. In 1910 she received a gold medal from King Edward; a year ago last New Year's she received the Emperor of India medal, which was presented to her by the Governor of Madras in the name of the king; and in 1911, the townspeople of Ramachandrapuram, where she is stationed, presented her with a gold medal, as a complement to her other honors. An Indian Rajah, in the name of the Hindu and Christian townspeople, presented the third medal. Ramachandrapuram is in the Godavari district on the east coast of India.

This is Miss Hatch's fourth furlough and she expects to stay for a year and a half. While in Canada she will make her home with her sister in Brandon.

Miss Hatch received her education in the Woodstock schools, attending the Woodstock Baptist College at the time it was a co-educational institution. Later she taught in the college for four years prior to going to India.

Among the Lepers.

When Miss Hatch first went to India she was interested mainly in work among the women and children, to whom she gave various branches of instruction. Then, one day she discovered that a faithful servant of hers was afflicted with leprosy, and she felt so sorry for him that at all once she decided that henceforth her efforts would be directed in the interests of the lepers.

Upon making inquiries, she found out that the mother and sister of this man had also been lepers, and that they had ended their lives by drowning themselves. This discovery added strength to Miss Hatch's resolve and immediately she commenced her work in the village of Ramachandrapuram. That it was blessed and prospered is shown in the wonderful results.

One of the outstanding institutions in that place today is the Lepers' Asylum, where men, women, children and untainted children are all provided for. The institution as a whole falls naturally into four divisions—the children's home, the "Boulder Home for women," the "Phillips' Home for the untainted children," and an "Observation Ward," where those in the early stages of the disease are examined and to whom costly medicines are injected. Incidentally, Miss Hatch said that while no permanent cure had been found for leprosy, there was a hypodermic treatment which was proving very effective as a means of alleviating the patient's pain, and which stopped the progress of the disease.

While attention is being paid to their bodies, the patients are not allowed to remain either idle or ignorant, but are taught to read and write, and thus are enabled to get a knowledge of the Bible.

Spread of Leprosy.

The unfortunate part of the work, said Miss Hatch, is that there is no compulsory segregation of the lepers, and they are allowed to roam about at will. It is not compulsory for them to come to this hospital, and they resent coming, just as do indigents in this country, resent going to a charity institution. However, there is a bill being introduced, she said, which will make it illegal for lepers to beg. As Miss Hatch stands, it is quite all right for the lepers to go around to fairs, bazaars, etc., and thus expose well people to the disease.

It is estimated that a thousand or so lepers walk the streets of Calcutta in a day. According to the statistics, there are 150,000 lepers in India, but Miss Hatch said that there were probably twice as many as that, as the cases were not always strictly reported.

APPLE RECIPES.

Old-Fashioned Pudding.
An apple pudding which is economical and delicious and takes little time, is made as follows: Pare and cut in small pieces eight large tart apples. Put them into an agate pan, making it only half full. Put two teaspoons of water and three-fourths of a cup of sugar over them and then make a covering of dough. To make the dough: Take two heaping teaspoons of flour, one teaspoonful of salt and two teaspoons of baking powder. Stir all together and into this work quickly and lightly a piece of lard the size of an egg. Then add enough water to make a soft dough, and press this oil over the tops of the apples. Make a number of holes with a fork down to the bottom of the pan. Cover the pan tightly with a lid and place it on top of the stove to cook. It will not take long for the dough cooks in the same time as the apples. Serve with cream and sugar or a hard sauce.

Apple Snow.

Pare, core and slice six or eight tart, juicy apples. Stew them in a little water until soft enough to put through a colander, and sweeten to taste. Turn the apples into a deep glass dish and let them get cold, then cover with a soft custard made from a pint of milk, the yolks of three eggs, and sugar to sweeten, flavored with orange or lemon, and allowed to cool. Whip the whites of the eggs to a stiff froth, with three heaping tablespoons of powdered sugar, and pile lightly on the top.

Apple Fritters.

Prepare some apples as for a pie. Make a batter of half a pound of flour, two eggs having the whites and yolks beaten separately, half a teaspoon of salt, an ounce of butter, and milk to make a thin batter. Add the sliced or minced apples to the batter, and drop a large tablespoonful at a time into the boiling fat. Fry till of a light brown, turning when required. When the fritters are taken from the fat lay them on a sheet of blotting paper to free the fire till the fat is absorbed. File them out on the other side of a hot dish, covering them with sifted sugar. Serve as hot as possible.

No Fussingfooting.

The pussyfooting feature of the rubber heel is a serious objection to some persons who will not be able to get their rubber heels and yet hear themselves coming up the street. An inventor of Jamaica Plain, Mass., has made a piece of steel in the rubber heel and when the heel comes down on the ground the steel makes sufficient noise to overcome the pussyfooting change.

A noticeable feature about leprosy is that it is not hereditary. Relative to the financial support of the work among the lepers, Miss Hatch said that a "Mission to Lepers" organization, which had its inception in Dublin, Ireland, was mainly responsible for the money. This organization, she explained, was inter-denominational and international.

Too Sympathetic.

In Liverpool recently a sentimental young lady from town was on the steamship quay, when she saw a young girl sitting on a trunk in an attitude of utter dejection and despair.

"Poor thing," thought the romantic lady; "she is probably alone and a stranger. Her pale cheeks and great and eyes tell of a broken heart and a yearning for sympathy."

She went over to the traveller to win her confidence. "Crossed in love?" she enquired, in a sympathetic voice.

"No," replied the girl with a sigh; "we crossed in the 'Jamba,' and an awfully rough passage, too!"

Liverpool, Nov. 20.—The police force was busily engaged today in rounding up men who have played a part in night's great conspiracy of crime, in which the government members of the House of Commons were threatened.

The guards in the parts of the city have been sent, and the situation today is to be well in hand.

Several men already have been shot and killed a civilian while the police were trying to reach the accused, who they are at hand in the warehouse bus.

Desperate Numerous

The police are working under a tremendous strain, owing to the loss of a number of men who are said to be "gunmen" from the States, whose exact mission is known, but whose presence the police believe has an obvious effect. The entire police force is the greatest activity in an attempt to prevent a recurrence of the possible attempts to assassinate the damage to property in the area will total hundred of thousands.
