Shipping Notes

The schooner Earl of Aberdeen, which has been lying in Dartmouth Cove for some time, has been chartered to load plaster for New York.

Chatham, March 10—At sunset tonight the large fleet of schooners, tugs, barges and coal carrying steamers which have been riding out the northwest gale got under way for Boston and eastern ports. Twenty-four salling vessels and forty-nine barges left. Among the schooners is the Bonnie Doon, bound around from New York for a Nova Stotia port. Nearly three months ago the little coaster left New York for her home port to lie up for the winter. Buffeted by gales and storms, she reached Hyannis Jan. 4. Then for most of the time until March 8 she was detained by ice and gales. Three times she was frozen in solidly for more than two weeks, and once she was carried ashore by ice floes. Her trip around the cape is the longest on record.

DUN'S WEEKLY REVIEW OF TRADE CONDITIONS,

New York, March 11—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade will say tomorrow:—
More seasonable weather has brought increased activity in business, normal conditions existing for the first time this year at many points. Manufacturing returns are favorable as to steel and footwear, but textile mills are not active and a further curtailment of cotton spinning is probable. Settlement of several important labor controversies have been accompanied by new strikes, and soft coal miners have not yet reached an agreement with the operators. There is much encouragement in the pig iron statistics just issued by the Iron Age. Total production during February increased to 1,242,382 tons, against 964,251 tons in the preceding month and surpassing all figures since October.

Few changes are recorded in quotations, wire advancing $1 per ton, and some other lines of pig iron have secured a similar gain to that recorded last week for Bessemer. The present stage of idle machinery steadily decreases, and some reports state that the outlook is brighter than at any time since last spring.

son. A somewhat better spot demand from domestic spinners was the only legitimate support, and this was offset by further extensive preparations for the next crop.
Fallures this week number 259 in the United States, against 239 last year; and 25 in Canada, compared with 22 a year ago.

Judge Trueman gave judgment Monda in the estate of the late James Robinson Mr. Robinson deposited about $1,700 m the Savings bank here in the names of the Savings bank here in the names of himself and his nephew, Samuel G. creases, and some reports state that the outlook is brighter than at any time since last spring.

Leather is quiet and weakness has developed in some sections of the market, although movement of belting butts has improved.
Retailers and jobbers report an improved demand for seasonable footwear. Orders are chiefly for fancy calf and kid shoes, and new business includes a large proportion of tan goods that were almost wholly neglected a year ago. Cotton mills are again feeling the disturbing influence of violent inflation of the raw material, and it is stated that much machinery will become idle when present stocks of cotton are exhausted. Prices are unchanged and demand slow at first hands.
Jobbers are doing a fair trade in the aggregate, but dealers are taking small lots. Forward business in the primary market is against buyers, but they are indifferent, only purchasing for immediate needs. There is practically no export trade. Woolen goods are without feature, but Japan siks are 5 to 7½ per cent. higher.

Last week's tendency of the leading staples has been accelerated, resulting in some wide fluctuations in quotations. Cotton continued to advance with scarcely any interruption, the leading interest dominating the market and receiving more support from individual traders than at any previous time this season.

Yin Kow, March 14-The local Russia Yin Kow, March 14—The local Russian authorities are apparently incensed and manifestly much annoyed at the solicitous inquiries of the commanders of foreign gurboats regarding the projected blocking of the Liao river before the arrival of the Japanese, which latter event is regarded as a foregone conclusion. Although the blocking of the Liao and also the defense of the settlement and native town are regarded as unattainable, it is certain that a disposition of guns has been made and a defense plan has already been arranged. The arrival of General Kondralovitch a few days ago, however, threatened to no whit less able than the military precision for which it paved the way. From Chemulpo to Seoul every inch of railway line, every foot of telegraph wire, even the highways are now policed by Japanese soldiers. In fact, judging by the results, Japan must have been laying the foundations for the present occupation for many months. It only remained for her minister, M. Hayashi, to produce, as with a magic wand, sufficient backing from an armed force to defeat the more clumsy machinations of the Russian representatives. It must not be inferred that the Japanese place implicit trust in Emperor Yi Heui and his numerous protestations of sympathy. Rather is the reverse the case.

The arrival of General Kondralovitch a few days ago, however, threatened to cause the abandonment of the original intention.

The best Russian information obtainable at Port Authur and Newenwang admits the government's intention to fall back indefinitely until it can complete the mobilization of 300,000 troops for the purpose of assaulting and opposing the Japanese, and probably 200,000 more to oppose the Chinese.

Moscow, March 15—The report that Port Arthur had been abandoned created a profound sensation here; in official circles almost a panic resulted. On account of the uncertainty of appropriately constructing a certainty of successfully constructing and dock in which to repair the Czare-witch and Retvizan, naval experts allow a year for the work.

St Petersburg, March 15—Former Minister of Finance M. De Watte, in an interview, declared that "thanks to General Kouropatkin and Vice Adrimal Wakavoff, Tokio, March 13.—Official and private reports both indicate that Vice-Admiral Togo's fourth attack on Port Arthur on the teach instant, was the most effective since the first assault of a month ago. One Kouropatkin and Vice Adramal Wakaron, Russia must now triumph. General Kouropatkin is a strategist, the like of whom does not exist in Europe. We will crush the enemy by overwhelming force."
