SUSSEX CAMP WILL BE HELD AS ANNOUNCED

Lack Of Money Not The Reason For Postponing Some Meets.

Minister Of Militia Explains That Floods, Bad Drainage and Worse Water Is Responsible For Changing Of Dates Of Some Annual Drills--Dr. Pugsley Announced That Some Dredging Contracts Have Been Let, But None In Maritime Provinces As Yet.

(Special to The Telegraph.)
Ottawa, June 4.—At the request of R. L. Borden, Sir Frederick Borden, minister of militia, gave his promised statement with regard to the holding of militia camps. It had been decided, he said, to hold camps of instruction in eastern Canada and the Maritime Provinces. An order was issued fixing the dates, but owing to local conditions, it had been found necessary to make some changes as follows:

Niagara—From June 9 to 15. It had been found that more time was necessary to install the necessary water supply. Kingston—June 15 to Aug. 31. The medical officer reported against using the water supply of the camp and it was necessary to make other arrangements. Rockville—Postponed from June 22 to a date not fixed. Last year the troops of No. 4 militia district trained at Petawawa but owing to prevalence of typhoid fever in camp it had been decided to install a complete drainage system before the ground was used again. La Prairie—A portion of camp ground is flooded and postponement was necessary.

No Change in Sussex Camp.

Dr. Daniel asked about Sussex camp and was told there had been no change in the date.

Sir Frederick referred to the fears expressed in some papers that militia would not be able to go into camp owing to lack of money. These fears, he said, had probably arisen from militia orders issued on May 27, which prepared the troops for the contingency that it might be impossible to hold camps unless Parliament provided the funds. But there were some days to spare.

The western Canada camps, Sir Frederick said, were proceeding, the expense being met out of one-eighth interim vote passed some time ago.

R. L. Borden observed that the house was aware that no vote had been asked for militia camps. If the request had been made it would have been favorably entertained, however, as the minister had said, there was plenty of time yet.

Sir Frederick remarked that if the vote were passed today it would not follow that money would be available unless a vote were asked for the necessary amount. He reminded the leader of the opposition that the supply bill had been before parliament a month.

R. L. Borden pointed out that it would be practicable to pass an emergency supply bill to cover his services.

Mr. Fielding plunged into the controversy. The proposition had been made, he said, to take a vote on account and the government received an intimation that the opposition was unwilling to concur.

"The only estimates of the militia department," retorted R. L. Borden, "that

DREYFUS TARGET FOR ASSASSIN

Wounded In Presence of French Notables at Zola's Canonization

OLD HATRED REVIVED

Military Writer Fired Two Bullets at Hero of Devil's Island During Ceremonies--Assassin Arrested After Excited Crowd Had Beaten Him Severely.

(Special to The Telegraph.)
Paris, June 4.—Just at the close of the ceremonies attending the canonization of Emile Zola in the Pantheon today, when the President of France, the premier and a host of ministers of state were taking their departure, Louis Antheime Gregori, a military writer of note, drew a revolver and fired two shots point blank at Major Alfred Dreyfus, for whose liberty Zola had fought and won.

Men distinguished in all walks of life filled the Pantheon, and when the shots rang out there was intense excitement in the fear that the president had been assassinated, but even the attempt on the life of Major Dreyfus excited a profound impression. Soldiers speedily surrounded Gregori and he was taken, bruised and bleeding, with his clothes almost torn from his back, to jail.

The affair has created a tremendous sensation in Paris and the motive of the would-be assassin is the cause of much mystification for Gregori, instead of being an ordinary fanatic, such as is carried away by the political passions of the moment, is a man of mature age, having been born in 1844, and was highly esteemed in the circles where he was known. Although born of Italian parents, he has been an ardent Frenchman for years and has written authoritatively on military subjects, enjoying close relations with many high French officers.

Some do not hesitate to express the opinion that he may have been the tool of a little clan of royalists, who, under the name of the "Union Francaise," have never ceased to insist that the court of Cassation illegally presented an appeal in the Dreyfus case, now abandoned long since, in favor of the military authorities.

Major Dreyfus was not seriously injured. A bullet entered his chest, but did not injure the bone. At a late hour tonight the official statement was made that his condition was very favorable and that no complications were feared.

With regard to the reasons for Gregori's act, the opinion prevailed in Paris that there is much truth in his avowal that he was driven to the deed by the appeals to hatred with which the anti-semitic papers have been filled since the government resolved to place the body of Zola in the Pantheon. The state of this feeling can be gauged by an interview with Henri Rochefort, editor of the "Paris," which is published tonight, and in which he says:

"It would have been a glorious death for Dreyfus. If you have been his first and only time under fire."

Gregori made a statement to the police directly after his arrest, and during a second interrogatory tonight, he said: "I did not wish to kill Dreyfus. It is true I aimed at him but I only wanted to grieve him. My object was to protest against the participation of the army in the glorification of Zola and the rehabilitation of Dreyfus. My blow was aimed less at Dreyfus than at Dreyfusism."

BOURASSA CROWD BREAKS UP PREMIER GOUVIN'S MEETING

Nationalist Leader Challenges His Opponent to Joint Debate.

(Special to The Telegraph.)
Montreal, June 4.—Enthusiasm is growing all the time in the contest between Premier Gouin and the friends of Henri Bourassa. Tonight when the premier was holding a meeting at the corner of St. Catharines and Montcalm street, the partisans of Mr. Bourassa succeeded in making so much noise that it was impossible to obtain a hearing and the speakers dispersed.

The difficulty arose over the fact that a Bourassa meeting in the vicinity had ended and the overflow came down to the meeting of Premier Gouin and succeeded in making a lively diversion which lasted. The trouble was started by a student who came inside yelling for Bourassa. He was followed by hundreds and they took up the cry and the din of noise was so great that speaking was out of the question.

On the arrival of the police the more violent of the partisans were ejected from the building and one of their number was roughly handled. Meanwhile the crowd numbering 3,000 were marching round the division against such political excitement has not been seen in years. One Gouin committee room on Wolf street was cleaned out of supporters by the marchers on their way to another meeting.

Mr. Bourassa made his last speech tonight at 11 o'clock, when he challenged Premier Gouin to meet him on the same platform Saturday night on the Champ De Mars.

Champions Of New Brunswick's Wrongs In Local House Silent In Federal Arena

Dr. Daniel In Parliament Thursday Quoted Remarks Of Former Premier Tweedie About Late Mr. Blair and Hon. Mr. Fielding's Ardor For Provincial Rights Cooling When In Dominion Cabinet--Hopes Dr. Pugsley Will Not Follow Their Example.

(Special to The Telegraph.)
Ottawa, June 4.—The representation of the Maritime Provinces was brought up in the house today by Dr. Daniel of St. John, who went fully into the subject. He stated the matter was of growing importance and the people of the lower provinces were getting rapidly to understand that importance.

He referred to the confederation campaign and quoted Sir A. J. Smith and Peter Mitchell to the effect that they would not accept the Quebec scheme and stated that the scheme, which meant representation by population, was never accepted nor placed in the B.N.A. Act in its entirety.

He referred to the sections of the act which showed that in calculating the population the four original provinces only were counted. The boundaries of Quebec were enlarged without consulting other provinces, although Quebec gives the unit of representation.

And, he showed how unjust this was to the lower provinces, especially as there was no possibility of their area being increased. The result of this increase of territory to Quebec may be to decrease our representation by one half or more.

Ardor Cooled.

He read the resolution passed by the N.B. legislature in 1905, relating to this matter and quoted extracts from some other speeches made in the legislature at that time, especially that of Mr. Tweedie, who stated it was too true that very often gentlemen when in the local legislature were very strong in support of provincial rights, but when transferred to Ottawa seemed to lose interest in the matter, and mentioned Messrs. Blair and Fielding as cases in point.

Dr. Daniel hoped that Mr. Pugsley would not be added to that number, but make use of his position as a cabinet minister to impress on the government, of which he is a member, the great importance of this subject, one that he advocated so strongly when attorney-general. He recommended as a remedy an amendment to the B.N.A. Act.

In the evening after the debate had closed and during Dr. Daniel's absence

TWO MEN CONVICTED OF BUNCOING A TURBO FARMER

Played the Old Game of Selling Good Money as Bogus, and Then Substituting an Empty Package.

(Special to The Telegraph.)
Toronto, N. S., June 4.—Blair Hurd and Patrick Quinn were found guilty before Judge Russell here in the supreme court today of getting $150 under false pretences from a farmer named Maynard.

The farmer said the men made him believe they would sell him bank notes that had been made by a printer off the plates in the bank note printing office by working at night when the boss was out. They put $1,000 worth of this money which he himself counted and examined into a box, and offered it to him for $150. He accepted and paid out his cash, but when he got home with the box, he found nothing but waste paper in it.
