A Tonic For Mothers

As distressing and annoying as are Childbirth they can be immediately relieved by the application of Dr. Chase's Ointment. Try it when you have retired with itching, stinging feet and expect to spend a sleepless night in suffering. Such a trial will convince you that as a cure for Childbirth Dr. Chase's Ointment is the standard of excellence. It is the world's greatest cure for all itching of the skin.

LET BROTHERLY LOVE CONTINUE.

The Springfield Tribune man is mad. He says a "brother of the quill" in a neighboring town that "of all the asses that ever got control of a publication, he is the only thorough-bred and simon-pure species that has made itself known in Nova Scotia;—he is familiar with all that is vulgar and profane—he had to leave a certain town "for reasons that would make a vandal blush"—he is half-witted, cob-web brained, self-conceited, mountebank and shyster"—"after sizing him up, we stake our reputation (which is invaluable) that so far as the laws of phrenology and physiognomy dictate, he is the worse apology for a newspaper editor ever thrust upon the people of Nova Scotia, and probably anywhere else. Gaping mouth and imbecile expression indicate at once his unfitness for journalism. He is just the kind of fellow one would expect to meet, visiting a harmless insane institution."

"He was driven from a town for exhibiting his impudence and gall"—"we complain not of his existence, we complain not of his ravings, we would not pray for his dismissal; we would simply urge that nature take its course, and when a few more years 'have rolled' we expect to number the idiotic one with those who have seen better days."

"He was driven from a town for exhibiting his impudence and gall"—"we complain not of his existence, we complain not of his ravings, we would not pray for his dismissal; we would simply urge that nature take its course, and when a few more years 'have rolled' we expect to number the idiotic one with those who have seen better days."

An Honorable Medicine

Mr. J. J. Deeds, of Pleasant Ave, Dear Park, N.S., writes:—"I have suffered in my throat and all over my body since summer from a very heavy cold, which I do not get rid of. I have tried several of the considered good remedies, but none to be of any avail. I began to think I was developing into consumption, many have said to me, 'I am in the now to say that Dr. Chase's Syrup of L. and Tarantula has worked a complete cure. I am now entirely free of the cold."

TURKEY SUPPER.

LINDSAY LAKE, HALIFAX CO.

Dec. 12.—Mr. James H. Reid, of this place, has moved with his family, to Moose River Road, into Mr. Dickie's lumbering camp.

W. J. Miller has taken a small sub-contract, from Messrs. Howie & Black.

Our genial friend, John Redden, with his fine span of horses is kept busy teaming from Mooseland and Moose River.

W. Redden and James Turpie are working in the woods.

Henry Higgins' barn and out-house were entered the other night, and a large tub of butter and 25 bushels of oats stolen, but parties are suspected, and if captured, they will not get off as easy as they have for the past two winters with the lumbermen's peevish.

Billy Day and Mr. McCabe, shot two fine moose on the 7th, near the Iceland Settlement. Moose seem to be quite plenty as the close season draws near.

Will some of the readers of the 'Truro News' tell us through its columns, how many days there would be in a year, if from Sunday night at 12 o'clock, till Monday night at 12, makes "two and one half days" how things change since my old daddy went to school; the teacher taught them that 24 hours made one day.

Editor 'Truro News'—

As there is quite a number of readers of your 'Truro News' around this place, I thought perhaps a few notes might be interesting.

Messrs. John Taylor, Adolphus Lawler and Harold Gourley are in the employ of H. P. Hood & Co., of this place.

Mr. Alexander Power has gone to New Hampshire to work.

Miss Asenath Miller, is working in the Waltham Watch Factory, and likes her work very much. Mr. Ashmore Miller, our hustling young harness maker, is also working for H. P. Hood.

Miss Flora Fulton is still working in Malden at the rubber factory. She has been there for some time and likes her work very well.

Mr. John Peterson has gone to New Hampshire to work in the lumber woods.

Misses Annie Johnson, Elith Fulton and Bianche Fulton are working in the knitting mills in South Boston.

Mrs. Jane Miller and Mrs. Lawlor and family, have moved to Charlestown, as that family is again reunited. Mrs. Miller visited in Waltham on Monday last, and met friends whom she has not seen for 27 years.

Mr. Albert Stuart is driving a market team here.

Mrs. Robert Sample has been suffering a great deal lately from a sore ankle, and has been unable to do her work.

Miss Jennie's Fulton has a good restaurant in Charlestown.

We are having lovely weather up here, and there has been no snow.

Looking my notes will not find there way to the waste basket.

Imitation is the Sincerest Form of Flattery.

The best proof that has extraordinary merits, and is in good repute with the public, is that it is EXCLUSIVELY IMITATED. Two limitations constitute the genuine article in appearance only. They lack the general excellence of the Genuine.

This notice is necessary, as imitations and dangerous imitations, liable to produce chronic inflammation of the skin, are often substituted for MINARD'S LINIMENT by Dealers, because they pay a larger profit.

ALL RIGHT IN DISCOTS.

But a Poor Medicine.

Common soda is all right in its place, and indispensable in the kitchen and for cooking and washing purposes, but soda was never intended for medicine, and people who use it as such, will some day regret it.

The common use of soda to relieve heartburn and sour stomach, is a habit which thousands of people practice almost daily, and one which is fraught with danger; soda gives only temporary relief, and in the end the stomach trouble gets worse and worse.

The soda acts as a mechanical irritant to the walls of the stomach and bowels, and cases are on record where it accumulates in the intestines, causing death by inflammation, or peritonitis.

Dr. Harbison recommends as the safest and surest cure for sour stomach (acid dyspepsia) the daily use after meals of an excellent preparation, sold by druggists, under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. These tablets are large 20 grain lozenges, pleasant to the taste and containing the natural peptones and digestive elements necessary to good digestion, and which all weak stomachs lack.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets used regularly after meals, digest the food promptly and thoroughly before it has time to ferment, sour and poison the blood and nervous system.

Dr. Wuerth states that he invariably uses and recommends Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in all forms of stomach derangement, and finds them a certain cure, not only for sour stomach, but by causing prompt digestion of the food, they create a healthy appetite, increase flesh, and strengthen the action of the heart and liver.

They are not a cathartic and contain no violent drug, but are intended only for stomach diseases and faulty digestion, and generally acknowledged to be the most reliable cure for any stomach trouble except cancer of the stomach.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets now enjoy an international reputation and popularity, and are sold by druggists everywhere in the United States, Canada and Great Britain.

A CANADIAN BARBISTER
IN CHICAGO

Turns the laugh on the "Record" Newspaper

Mr. Gideon S. Thompson, a lawyer at Law, Chicago, has the following letter in the Record of that city of Dec. 10th.

BONAPARTE AND MERCER.

To The Editor—The Record comments editorially on Gen. Mercer's sensational statements in regard to an invasion of England, and points out that such an enterprise might be feasible. In addition to the points already made, it should be remembered that the invasion of British soil by a French leader is not a new thing. Napoleon Bonaparte formed an elaborate plan for invading England and had a medal struck to commemorate his triumphal entry into London. It is true Napoleon was unable to land on the island of Great Britain, but he did land on St. Helena, which was undoubtedly British territory. A man possessing the strategic ability displayed by Gen. Mercer at the Dreyfus trial ought to have no difficulty in attaining at least the success achieved by the Corsican. G. S. THOMPSON.

WHAT PLEASURES A MAN.

It pleases a man to have a woman love him.

It pleases him to have a woman lead him in the way he wants to go.

It pleases him to have a woman sometimes treat him as a great big boy—to be cared for, petted and caressed.

It pleases him to have a woman think him great and good and true and say to him with her attentions accordingly.

It pleases him to have a woman's bright eyes expressing the approbation, approval and admiration the lips do not speak.

It pleases him to have a woman's hand smooth away the careworn expression and wrinkles from his brow.

It pleases him to have a woman's strength to help him over the weak places in life.

It pleases a worthy man who tries to be good to have a sweet woman lead him in the way called beautiful. A woman can sink a man to the depths of misery or help him to the zenith of happiness. Her frown can depress him. Her smile inspires him.

Principal Peterson, of McGill University, has threatened to expel the entire second year class in medicine unless they apologize to Professor McBride for the rather rough treatment they accorded him a few days ago. McBride is unpopular. The boys say the object of being coerced, and at a meeting unanimously decided that they would not apologize.
