The woodpecker is a foe to the cornborer, and a speaker said at a meeting held recently at London that by actual observance the woodpecker was very active in keeping the corn of this pest of the corn down.

The death occurred at Jackson, Mich., of Mrs. Ellen Turner, widow of the late John Turner, and sister of Arch. McWilliam, Dutton. The deceased was born in North Dunwich, where she resided until her marriage to her late husband, who was also a resident of Dunwich.

Monks in England enjoy a remarkable immunity from cancer, tuberculosis, and influenza. In the opinion of the Ministry of Health, which will make an investigation, it is because they eat no meat in the monasteries, but consume a great deal of fresh vegetables and fruits.

The little Iowa town of Columbus function is an Adamless Eden as far as male officials are concerned. At the recent municipal election women candidates were elected to fill all the offices for a term of two years. It is said to be the first town in the world to be governed by women.

The Alisa Craig Banner says:—Alex. Stewart, of the seventh concession of McGillivray, thinks there is profit in delay. He had failed to return his income tax papers and in the meantime the stock came to his assistance and relieved him of a tax on $300 by bringing a bouncing baby girl on Tuesday morning.

The death of Miss Margaret McMillan occurred at the home of her sister, Mrs. (Dr.) Wenz. Rathdrum, Idaho, on April 12th, aged 69 years. MOSA FARM HOUSE BURNED

Newbury, April 29.—Last evening, as the mail train was slowing down for Newbury station, a burning house was noticed by several passengers on the west side of the train. At that time the fire had scarcely got well under way and apparently the occupants of the house were unaware of the danger. When the train pulled in here the fire was reported and a rush ensued in search of the fire, which was found to be the home of James Winslip, a farmer living a mile and a half east of here. The origin of the fire is a mystery. Apparently it started in the garret of the main building. Little insurance was carried, and although most of the articles downstairs were saved Mr. Winslip's loss will be heavy.

HURT IN AUTO CRASH

Patricia Smith, four years old, daughter of W. A. Smith, Victoria street south, was severely cut about the head and body and painfully bruised Sunday afternoon when she was thrown through the windshield of her father's car, on the provincial highway near Lambeth. The accident occurred when Mr. Smith's car collided with another machine in crowded traffic. The little girl was taken to Victoria Hospital, London, and is making a good recovery.

HARRIGAN—WALLACE

The home of Mr. and Mrs. James Wallace, of Seaford, was the scene of a happy event on Saturday, April 19, at high noon, when their daughter, Olga Jean, was united in marriage to Charles A. Harrigan, son of the late M. D. and Mrs. Harrigan, of Glencoe. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Fulton Irwin in the presence of thirty guests. Mr. and Mrs. Harrigan will reside in Wallaceburg.

BURNS' CHURCH, MOSA

Kilmartin, April 30.—The congregation of Burns' church will celebrate their eightieth anniversary on Sunday, May 4th. The building has been redecorated for the occasion, under the direction of the Ladies' Aid Society. The services morning and evening will be conducted by Rev. A. L. Carr, of West Lorne. A supper and sacred concert will be held on Monday evening, to which the public are invited. Rev. I. Macdonald, of Kintore, and Rev. Frazer Smith, of Glenheim, who ministered to the congregation for a number of years, expect to be present, as well as other ministers who have gone out from the congregation.

In 1832 a few families from Argyle-shire, Scotland, landed in Mosa, Ekfrid, Metcalfe and Brooke, and in 1844 the congregation was organized by the Presbytery of Hamilton, with six communicants on the roll.

The first building was built of logs and at present is doing the duty of a drive-shed on the farm of Duncan L. Walker, Metcalfe, a short distance from Walkers.

The second building was a brick one and was built just across the road from the old building, on the Mosa side. This served the congregation until 1891, when the present building was erected. It is a fine brick building, seating about five hundred, and is such a building as is seldom seen in the country.

Gaelic and English services were held every Sabbath until a few years ago, when the Gaelic was given up on account of the very few left who could speak the language.

At present there are only a few of the old-timers left who remember the church in its infancy. Mrs. M. C. Munro, the oldest member, now in her eighty-ninth year; Mr. and Mrs. H. L. McAlpine, the oldest couple; Mrs. Dugald McPhail, Mrs. John McCallum, Mrs. Duncan Campbell, Mrs. Alex. McAlpine Mr. and Mrs. Duncan McAlpine and Mrs. Duncan Gillies.

Most of these are fourscore years and still love the Gaelic. The first session was composed of the following: Hugh Leitch, John McTavish and Donald Ferguson.

During these eighty years' experience nine different ministers have ministered to the congregation, most of whom have gone to their reward. Rev. W. R. Sutherland, first minister; Rev. Archibald Stewart, Rev. A. S. Stewart, Rev. Neil McKinnon and Rev. Alexander Miller. Those still living are Rev. A. Fraser, in Scotland; Rev. I. Macdonald, of Kintore; Rev. Frazer Smith, of Glenheim; and Rev. D. Robertson, the present minister, who was inducted in December, 1917.

There are at present two hundred and seven members on the roll; seven elders, and nine on the board of management. There is a good Sunday School, a Young People's Society, a Mission Band, a Women's Missionary Society and a Ladies' Aid Society. Last year the congregation raised for all purposes about five thousand dollars.

The congregation is entirely rural, many of the members coming four and five miles to the services. Loyalty to the Old Kirk is still a marked feature of the congregation, and may it long continue to be.

The pioneers sleep in a little cemetery across the road, a place noted for its beauty and the care bestowed upon it. The district around is experiencing what most country places are at the present time; the allurements of the city is attracting the young people. Detroit has become the mecca to which their eyes have turned. In the meantime the few who are left will endeavor to stand by the Old Kirk and her traditions.

SOME CENSUS FIGURES

A Wardsville subscriber asks for a statement of the population of the townships of Aldborough, Ekfrid, Metcalfe and Mosa at the various census periods during the past fifty years. The figures are as follows: with the exception of 1891, records of which are out of print. (1) Aldborough, (2) Ekfrid, (3) Metcalfe, (4) Mosa.

GASOLINE RAILWAY CAR

Superintendent H. W. Mathews, of the C.N.R. and Wabash railway, announces that an order has been placed for the construction of another gasoline car for service in Canada. He intimates that it might be run between Glencoe and Alvinston, as the operation of a gasoline car on that branch has been under contemplation for some time.

The reason why some folks always complain is because they read the patent medicine advertisements.

PAVING THE LONGWOODS ROAD

A Windsor contractor, with London associates, has secured the contract for eight miles of concrete paving on the Longwoods Road between Lambeth and Delaware. With the London-Lambeth section, this will make 13 miles of permanent pavement out of London on the road to Windsor.

A "NO MAN'S LAND"

Whilst making surveys a few days ago in connection with what has been termed the "Outrage" Drain, it was discovered that some eight acres of land bordering on the division line between the township of Ekfrid and the village of Glencoe has for many years escaped assessment either for township or village purposes. An error appears to have been made at one time by the assessor in describing certain holdings, and may have occurred many years ago, probably dating back to the original assessment. The acreage in question, which, prior to incorporation of the village, formed a part of the south half of lot 24 in the first concession of land bordering on the division line several times and is now the property of A. B. McDonald. Mr. Haggerty, the assessor for this year, now has it assessed.

There are a great many people who telephone in small advertisements and then overlook calling to settle for them when they are in town. The amounts in most cases are so small as to make preparation and mailing of accounts seem out of proportion. Therefore, these small items should be cash anyway. If you are doing any advertising in this manner we will thank you to attend to the payment promptly.
