

on giving good and sufficient security before any Justice of the Peace, to appear in person for trial at the next term of the General Session of the Peace or other Court of competent jurisdiction.

XIX. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, that the penalties imposed by this Act, may be sued for and recovered in a summary way before the General Sessions of the Peace, or before any other Court of competent jurisdiction in the District wherein the offence may be committed, at any time within months next after the Commission of the offence and not afterwards.

XX. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, that the penalties by this Act imposed appertaining to His Majesty, shall be reserved for the public uses of the Province, and for the support of the Government thereof, and the due application of the same shall be accounted for to His Majesty, his heirs and successors, through the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury for the time being, in such manner and form as His Majesty, his heirs and successors shall be pleased to direct.

XXI. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, that this Act shall be in force until the first day of May, which will be in the year one thousand eight hundred and and no longer.

*I return you the Bill with the remarks
I have suggested to be put in, for your opinion to be done, that the Bill should be of the nature to appear to be*

W. M.