

TRAVELLING ON A SNOWY DAY IN QUEBEC.

Louis Frechette, in one of his Stories of Quebec, "In a Snow Storm," describes an unusually severe winter trip from Quebec to St. Tite, especially on the road known as La Miché. They had a tandem team but were nearly lost. Frederick Simpson Coburn, the well-known illustrator, made a picture for the story which is reproduced here, by permission of Morang & Co., Limited, Toronto.
