My dear Eugene:

I wish you could give me the inside facts about these strikes. You and I know they are disastrous, and from the outside one cannot see how the men can justify themselves. I have never been at the head of the Labour Department, and speak with less confidence on this subject than on most. I know you will understand the situation pretty thoroughly, and would appreciate if you can let me have your views.

Frankly, I do not think a great deal of King Gordon, but my experience is most labouring men try to do what they think is right.

Yours very truly,

AM/E.
