

- Glenorchy, Lady, removal of her remains on account of railroad, 344.
 Gordon, Duchess of, 173.
 Gordon, Duchess of, and the laird of Craigmyle, 268.
 Gordon, Lady Susan, and David Tulloch, 99.
 Graham, Miss Clementina Stirling, Mystifications by, 177.
 Grave, making love at, 305.
 Gregory, Dr., story of Highland chief, 16.
 Grieve in Aberdeenshire, opinion of own wife, 25.
 Grieve, on Deeside, opinion of young man's preaching, 316.
 'Gude coorse country wark,' 306.
 Gudewife on Deeside, 25.
 Guthrie, Helen, and her husband, 33.
 Guy Mannering, extract from, 237.
 HADDOCK, curious use of word, 205.
 'Halbert, smells damnably of the,' 292.
 Hamilton, Laird, at the palace asking the servant to sit down, 260.
 Hamilton, Laird, noted for eccentricity, 260.
 Hamilton, Laird, reasons for not signing a bill, 260.
 Hamilton Rab, an idiot at Ayr, 282.
 Hamilton, Rab, idiot, anecdotes of, 282, 283.
 Hangman, Scotch drover acting as, 278.
 Harvest, returning thanks for good, 319.
 Hatter at Laurencekirk, 14.
 Heaven, little boy's refusal of, 77.
 Heaven, old woman's idea of, 76.
 'He bud tae big's dyke wi' the feal at fit o't,' 26.
 He is awfu' 'superstitious,' 205.
 'He turned Seceder afore he dee'd, and I buried him ilke a beast,' 91.
 'Hech, sirs, and he's weel pat on, too,' 346.
 'Henny pig and green tea,' 215.
 Heritor sending the hangman of Stirling to pay the minister, 334.
 Heritors, bowing to, 86.
 Hermand, Lord, great drinker, but first-rate lawyer, 156.
 Hermand, Lord, jokes with young advocate, 157.
 Hermand, Lord, opinion of drinking, 105.
 Highland chairman, 177.
 Highland chief, story of, 16.
 Highland gentleman, first time in London, 16.
 Highland honours, 116.
 Highland inquisitiveness, 247.
 Highlands kept up the custom of clans or races, 241.
 Hill, Dr., Latin translation of Scottish expressions, 174.
 His girn's waur than his bite, 38.
 Holy communion, several anecdotes concerning, 93.
 Home, John, author of Douglas, lines on port wine, 327.
 Home, John, remark of, to David Hume, 86.
 'Honest men and bonnie lassies,' 250.
 'Honest woman, what garr'd ye steal your neighbour's tub?' 205.
 Honesty declared the best policy, why? 28.
 Honeyman's, Mrs., answer to Henry Erskine's impromptu lines, 326.
 'Hoot i jabbering bodies, wha conid understan' them?' 198.
 'Horse the length of Highgate,' 201.
 Hospitals, changes in, 12.
 Hot day, cool remark on, 29.
 'Hont, that is a kind o' a feel,' 4.
 Hume, David, refused assistance except on conditions, 96.
 Hume, Mrs., 'Too poor,' 19.
 Humour of Scotch language, 169.
 Humour, Scottish, described in Annals of the Parish, 245.
 Humour, Scottish, description of, 169.
 Hymns ancient and modern, 51.
 'I didna ken ye were i' the toun,' 172.
 Idiot boy and penurious uncle, 295.
 Idiot boy, pathetic story of one receiving communion, 294.
 Idiot in Lauder, cheating the seceders, 289.
 Idiot in Peebles church, 284.
 Idiot, musical one at Stirling, appropriate tune, 292.
 Idiot of Lander, and Lord Landerdaie's steward, 290.
 Idiot, pathetic complaint of, regarding bubbly jock, 284.
 Idiot, why not asleep in church, 284.
 Idiots, Act of Parliament concerning, 288.
 Idiots, fondness for attending funerals, 287.
 Idiots, parish, often very shrewd, 280.
 'I drive ye to your marriage, and I shall stay to drive ye to your burial, 189.