

There are miles and miles of waters
That throb like a woman's breast;
With a glad harmonious motion.
Like happiness caught at rest;

W. W. Campbell.