SUGGESTIONS FOR DECEMBER.—Time, in his onward march, has added another year to his lengthening roll. The chilling frosts and biting air warn man and beast to seek shelter from the cold monarch who has mantled the earth in snowy sheets. Let this closing month of the year be devoted to a careful examination not only of our business plans, our successes and our failures, but our motives and our aims as well. He is not living wisely nor well who does not earnestly aim to make each coming year better than the past one; better for himself and for others.

Sheep.—Nature protects sheep well against cold, but they suffer from soaking rains. They are healthier if they have open, dry sheds to stand or lie under in wet weather, and a good dry yard.

UNCLE: "I dare say, when I take you home, Charlie, your mamma will have a nice present for you. What would you like best, my boy—a little brother or a little sister?" Charlie, (after some consideration,) "Well, if it makes no difference to ma, I'd rather have a little pony."
