Written for the Record A Song of Canadian Rivers.

Flow on, noble rivers! flow on! flow on!
In your beauteous course to the sea;
Sweep on, noble rivers! sweep on! sweep on!
Bright emblems of true liberty!
Roll noiselessly on a tide of bright song,
Roll happily, grandly and free;
Sweep over each plain in silv'ry-tongued strain, Sweep down to the deep-sounding sea!

Flow on, noble rivers! flow on! flow on!
Flow swiftly and smoothly and free;
Chant loudly and grand, the notes of our land—
Fair Canada's true minstrelsy;
Roil joyously'on, sweep proudly along
In mirthfullest accents of glee!
Flow on, roble rivers! flow on! flow on!
Flow down to the deep-sounding sea!

Flow on! sweep on! sweep on ' flow on!
In a measureless, mystical key;
Each note that you make on streamlet and lake
Will blend with the song of the sea;
Through labyrinth-clad dell, in dreamy-like
spell,
It here slumbers each sentinel tree;
Flow on, noble rivers! flow on! flow on!
Flow down to the deep-sounding sea!

A meeting of the Land League was held on July 27th, at the rooms of the League, in Abbey street, Dublin, Rev. Patrick Lain Abbey street, Dublin, Rev. Patrick Lavelle, P. P., presided, and in the course of his observations said that there were good "Let him prepare his coffin!" prospects of an abundant harvest, and that his part of the country—the West of Ire-land—looked well. He expressed his satisland—looked well. He expressed his satisfaction that there was a prospect of a satisfactory settlement, at an early date, of the Land question. Mr. John Dillon, M. P., said he thought the time had arrived when no further relief should be solicited in this country—that the people should be men, not beggers. He urged the uselessness of Land Commissions, and said that they had never done anything for the that they had never done anything for the benefit of the tenantry. The constitution of the Land Commission ("consisting of four landlords and an official in the pay of the Crown") was condemned, and a resolution was passed declaring the tenants of Ireland can have no confidence in the Com-

At a meeting of the Mansion House Relief Committee held in Dublin on July 24th, it was resolved to ask permission of the authorities to allow subscriptions to be raised among the Constabulary and the Inland Revenue in aid of the funds of the committee. The Lord Mayor and the other members of the committee expressed their astonishment and regret that the only dioceses in Ireland that had so far responded to the appeal of the committee to hold diocesan collections in aid of the fund were the two poorest—Tuam and Killala. The former had contributed £1, 000 from its diocesan relief fund and the latter £50, the result of a collection. At a meeting of the Committee en July 27th, the Lord Mayor suggested that the body should bring its operations to a close on August 14th, and a notice of motion to that affect was given. The Committee has distributed altogether close on £180,-

At the meeting of the Cork branch of the Land League, on July 24th, a resolu-tion was unanimously passed calling on Mr. Shaw, M. P., to resign his appoint-ment on the Land Commission on the ground that the landlord element on the Commission was so strong that he would be powerless to contend against it and arrive at any ultimate issue favorable to the tenant farmer. Attention was called to the difficulties the farmers had at pre-sent to contend against in the great increase of the importation of foreign cattle and grain. One of the members (Mr.

LIMERICK.

The Limerick Reporter of July 27th says:

"We would say in reference to harvest prospects that they have not been more cheering for the past thirty-five years than they are just now. The hay harvest is nearly all saved; the turf harvest is fully nearly all saved; the turn narvest is fully saved, and in turf districts the people have an abundance of fuel. Potatoes are get-ting on admirably, so well, indeed, that they have seldom been seen better, whilst the size of them, for the greater part, is

Father Carberry, O. P., who for over twenty years well beloved and respected in Limerick, and well known in the South of Ireland as Provincial General of the Dominicans, has been appointed Prior of St. Mary's, Cork, for which position he has departed from Limerick.

On July 29th there was found posted on the entrance pillars of Clonlara Chapel, about four miles from Limerick, a notice which caused great excitement in the village. It stated that any person who would dare to take the grazing or tenancy of a farm at Trugh, from which a tenant

CLARE.

On July 26th while two farmers named James Lacey and Michael Curley were returning home to their residence near Killaloe, after attending a fair at O'Brien's Bridge, a quarrel is stated to have arisen between them over, it is alleged, some remarks made respecting Curley's wife. Lacey told Curley to be more careful and not to be abusing her, as he (Curley) was in the habit of doing, whereupon the latter drew a knife and stabbed Lacey to death on the spot. Curley has been remanded.

On the night of July 24th, some thirty men armed with scythes, assembled at Drumdoolaghby Farm, situate between Ennis and Spancelhill, and cut down and destroyed five or six acres of meadowing. The land is part of the estate of the Mac-Namaras, minors, sons of the late Colonel Francis MacNamara, D. L., Ennistymon House. An ejectment had been brought against the former tenant for non-payment of rent, and the lands were being pre-served with the view of letting them with profit to some other person. The action of the midnight mowers was evidently intended to deter any new comer from taking the farm.

A new phase of the land agitation in Clare has been brought to light in the case of the tenants at Ballycar estate, owned by Mrs. Stott and Miss Abbott, both absentees, living in England. There are fourteen or fifteen families on the property, numbering seventy souls. They ing the farm. perty, numbering seventy souls. They owe at present two gales of rent. They offer to pay one (the other is a hanging gale) on the Government valuation, which they consider the fair and reasonable value of the land, and assert that for years past they have had to pay in most cases rents of from 45 to 50 per cent. over the Gov-ernment valuation. One of the members (Mr. Cranan) suggested that the farmers in the county should turn their attention more to productions, such as butter, the value of which could not be detracted from in any marked degree by such competition. It was stated that the number of firkins of butter sent into the Cork market this year showed a decrease of 26,000 as compared with the previous year. This was accounted for by the fact that the farmers had to sell their cattle to satisfy the departed in the Valorous, with Captain had to sell their cattle to satisfy the demands of their landlords.

The tenant farmers of the district of Milltown assembled in that town on July 25th, to protest against the evictions which are threatened to be enacted on a property in the immediate neighborhood, in October next, if the tenants have not before then paid their rent. The ejectment decrees were issued last June at the Tuam Sessions, but stay of execution was ordered till October.

Two evictions are reported as having taken place on the lands of Drumacorabane and Errew, for non-payment of rent. Constabulary were drafted to the scene early on July 24th, and it is rumored that the persons evicted were reinstated again, but the report is not confirmed. The townlands where the evictors occurred are within a distance of tsons occurred are within a distance of seven or eight miles from Castlebar.

On July 28th a large number of armed police were drafted into Westport, and on the following morning proceeded in Messrs. Laird's steamer Rose to Innisturk for the purpose of protecting a process officer while serving ejectments for non-payment of rents upon the island, at the suit of the Earl of Lucan. There are about thirty families on the island, and all of them were served with processes. No disturbance took place. There were seventy police present under Captain Plunkett and four sub-inspectors.
