MAre we married or are

"Are we married or are we not?" is the question which several families in Decor and Kent counties, acros the river, are asking one another.

For nearly 20 years Rev. John Reymolds was a circuit preacher in the rural districts of Ontario. A liberal theselogisth, a brilliant orator, a courties, gracious gentleman, the reverend descior's friends were legion, both within and without the ranks of his congregations, and it is solemnly asserted in the Maidstone district that the chickens regularly few into the kitchens and offered themselves a milling scarrifices whenever the reversed gentleman appeared. It was the sense of the popularity which led to all the members of the years ago failing health com.

50 the Newspapers Boycotted Then —Got Lord Aberdeen's Speech From Himself.

Ottawa, Nov. 3.—The talk of the town is the action of the committee of the Aberdeen banquet in deciding not to invite the reporters of local newspapers or the correspondents of outside papers. The following editorial reference in the Citizen will explain the matter:

papers. The following editorial reference in the Citizen will expiain the matter:

"Through the courtesy of his Excellency Lord Aberdeen the Citizen is enabled to furnish its readers with a full report of his speech given at a banquet last evening. In consequence of the insult to the press of Canada, which the committee in charge were guity of in neglecting to extend the customary courtesies to the reporters of the local papers and corresponders of other Canadian dailies, this journal, in common with others, was unrepresented last evening, as we did not see fit to accept the proposal of the committee that our reporters "should attend without an invitation." It is unpleasant to have to refer to such a matter, but the explanation is due to public. In departing from the custom that prevails both in Grest Britain and Canada the committee used their own discretion, and we take the liberty of using ours."
