

VERY SUDDENLY CALLED AWAY.

While Being Dressed to Walk Around Mrs. Coyne Almost Instantly Expires in St.
Joseph's Hospital.

Mrs. Mary Ann Coyne, widow of the late Bernard Coyne and mother of E. M. Coyne, merchant tailor in this city, died suddenly of heart failure at St. Joseph's Hospital yesterday afternoon. Some weeks ago the deceased lady had the misfortune to fracture her leg, and ever since has been in the care of the nurses. Notwithstanding her advanced years she had so far recovered that her son took her a pair of crutches yesterday afternoon, and she was looking forward with pleasure to being able to use them in the afternoon. While being dressed she suddenly expired in the arms of one of the nurses. Excitement was probably the cause of the heart giving out so unexpectedly.

Mrs. Coyne's death was a great surprise to her son. He had only left her a short time before in good spirits and improving health when he received the news of her sudden death over the telephone.

Mrs. Coyne was in her 62nd year. She was a native of County Leitrim, Ireland, but had come to this country many years ago and was ranked among Chatham's old residents, having resided here some thirty-five years. Six children mourn Mrs. Coyne's demise. They are, E. M. Coyne, of this city; B. J., of Toronto; Henry, of Ontario; Mrs. Gurney, of Merin, and Mrs. Parks and Mrs. Brown, of Detroit. All the children have arrived with one exception. The funeral will take place on Monday morning at 9 o'clock to St. Joseph's Church and St. Anthony's cemetery.

FATHER DIED FOR HIS SON.

Rescued the Boy From in Front of a
Train and was Killed Himself.

New York, Feb. 21.—Rather than see his favorite son crushed to death under the wheels of a freight train Henry Youngs, of North Bergen, N. J., gave up his life yesterday.

Youngs lived with his wife and two children in a neat two-story frame house perched on the brow of the hill above the West Shore railroad out at New Durham. He was employed at the Peerless Rubber works, almost opposite his home. The cut, which is 12 feet deep, connects with the tunnel which runs under the railroads.

His little son was accompanying Youngs on his way to work. The lad ran down the hill to the tracks, and while looking around at his father did not notice a fast freight train bearing down on him. Mrs. Youngs, who had followed the pair, was watching them from the brow of the hill, uttered a shriek when she saw her son's danger. Her cry was heard by Youngs, who was horrified by the boy's peril that he stood as if chained to the spot.

Waving his hand as if to encourage his wife, he sprang across the tracks. The engine was a most upon the boy when Youngs seized him, dragged him back off the track and hurried him into the ditch alongside the road. Owing to excitement and the noise made by the freight train he failed to see the New York State Express on the other track, and in darting back he stepped directly in front of it. The engine struck him. He was hurled 15 feet, his body landing in the near-by ditch. He was instantly killed.

Mrs. Youngs was so overcome by the horror of the scene that she fainted and is suffering greatly from the shock.

After a lingering illness, Mrs. Cordelia W. Huntington died yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. H. Fraser, aged 73 years and three months. Her husband died about four years ago; she made her home then in Port Huron. She was on a visit here, and took sick a short time ago. She will be buried in Marine City, Mich.

GOVERNMENT WILL REWARD SERVICE.

Veterans and Volunteers to Receive a
Liberal Land Grant for Military Prowess.

According to the resolution introduced in parliament yesterday 160 acres of land in New Ontario will be granted to each Canadian volunteer, who has seen active service. The statements in the House make it plain that only the veterans of the '96 campaign and Fenian raid, now alive, will get the grant, but the grant due the boys killed in South Africa will go to their relatives.

Following is a complete list of the Chatham veterans, but death and removal have somewhat thinned the ranks:

ENTOMBED IN A FLOODED MINE.

Thirteen Negroes Cut off in Alabama—
Their Rescue Hoped for.

Tuscaloosa, Ala., Feb. 21.—As the result of the giving way of a wall the Asylum mines here were flooded yesterday afternoon, and thirteen negro miners are entombed in ten feet of water, it is thought, with little prospect of being rescued. The surrounding waters run into the mine as rapidly as it is pumped out. When the first rush of water entered the mine eleven other miners were able to get out. The accident is attributed to a miner who was digging coal close to the wall of the abandoned shaft which has been filled with water for some time. Suddenly the wall was pierced and the stagnant water rushed in upon the men. It is thought it will take from 24 to 48 hours to clear the mines.

THE OIL SUPPLY.

Sarnia Canadian:—The oil duty agitation will settle itself in time by the playing out of the Canadian oil fields. This falling off is becoming even more marked of late, and the question of where the supply of Canadian crude is to come from is becoming a very important one indeed. The production of the Lambton oil field, which was last year about 55,000 barrels a month, is now not over 45,000 barrels; not equal to 75 per cent. of the quantity needed to supply the Canadian market.

Eastwood & Company, of Hamilton, from importing into Canada from the United States and offering for sale reprints of the work. The counsel on behalf of the defendants appeared and admitted that they had infringed Morang & Company's copyright, but claimed that such infringement was without wilful intention of violating Morang & Company's rights. Judgment was pronounced perpetually restraining the two Hamilton firms from importing or offering for sale the reprints, and directing that they should pay Morang & Company's cost of the action.

DIED IN HARWICH.

After an illness of two months, Mrs. George Whittington, of 11th con., of Harwich, died in her 73rd year, and was interred to-day. (The deceased was the beloved wife of George Whittington, who survives her, together with the following children: Miss M. J. Whittington, Mrs. Finny, and Edward in South Dakota; John, who resides on the 10th con., Harwich, and William and Mrs. Birkenshaw, of Howard. Mr. and Mrs. Whittington have resided forty-five years in Harwich and were highly esteemed by a very large circle of friends.)

Last evening, after McEwen's performance at the Grand, about forty Chathamites who are interested in his work were entertained by the presence of Victoria Riplet for the purpose of meeting Prof. and Mrs. McEwen. During the course of the evening some of the most astonishing mind-reading tests ever given in Chatham were made by the great McEwen, and so delighted those who saw them that McEwen has consented to introduce some of them at the Grand to-night in addition to his regular program. Those who saw last night's feats in this line are most extravagant in their praise of them.
