morning for Montreal, where he will enter upon his last year at McGill Uni-

Miss Gertrude Taylor, of Providence, R. I., was in Wolfville a few days last week, visiting her sister, Mrs. B. O.
Davison. Miss Taylor, who formerly resided in Wolfville, is now taking a course of training at the Rhode Island Hospital. She is spending this week at her home in Billtown, and will leave on Monday next to resume her studies in the last year of the course.

The concert in College Hall on Wednesday evening was attended by a large audience. It was a most successful concert and no one was disappointed. Mr.
Aron Saxton was, of course, the attraction of the evening, but the numbers rendered by Mr. and Mrs. Kearney were heartily enjoyed. The former is an excellent performer on the flute, and the latter is not only a brilliant pianist but has a very pleasant and well trained voice. All present were delighted with Mr. Saxton.
His has a voice of wonderful power and compass, and carried the audience by storm. Encores and double encores were given and generously responded to, and the intimation that he intended visiting Wolfville again next year was welcomed with applause. These present will not soon forget the treat they enjoyed on Wednesday evening.

GLASGOW HOUSE.

The pulpit of Chamber's church, Grand Pre, on the 4th inst., and that of St.
Andrew's church, this town, on the morning of the 11th inst., were occupied by the Rev. B. Bowser, (Congregational) of Mass. His sermons were much appreciated by the congregations.

Prof. F. M. Davis, of the Copley School of Music, Boston, played the organ of the Baptist church last Sunday morning and delighted the large audience present. He pronounced the organ a very superior instrument, and spoke in flattering terms of the judgment of those who selected it.

Attention is directed to the announcement in another column of a public meeting to be held in Temperance Hall next Tuesday evening. The matter of sewerage is one in which the people of Wolfville are deeply interested, and as Mr. Hamilton has made a study of the subject we know our people will gladly avail themselves of the opportunity of listening to his address. The meeting is not for the purpose of voting money or donating upon a system of sewerage, but simply to gain information. We hope to see a full attendance of the citizens.
Mr. Hamilton will be glad to answer any questions that may be put to him.

Fanciest: English, German and American makes. Best value to town.
