Mr. Wickham obtained first-class honors in the final subjects. Good for the Island boys.

On Monday morning before the departure of the train from Gergetown, Conductor Hibbet and Engineer Moor ran the engine, with a snow plow and flat car, a couple of miles out to clear the track. Owing to the blinding snow from the plow they could scarcely see ahead, so that they ran into a horse on the track near Brudeneil, and carried him about a mile on the plow. The animal belonged to Mr. Fred Bovyer, of Georgetown, and was so badly injured that he had to be killed. The train was delayed about an hour,

College, preached the fifth of the Lenten Sermons in St. Dunstan's Cathedral on Sunday night last. His theme was "Pelay of Repentance." The Rev. preacher, in a logical discourse, pointed out the danger of delaying repentance. Many people have the ion of repenting; but put it off from day to day. This was a presumption on the of God, and, the preacher adduced strong arguments from the Scriptures and the writings of the Fathers of the Church to prove the great danger and perversity of such those who following such a course, were tunity of making their peace with God. The present is the season of grace, and advantage should be taken of it to bring ourselves into friendship with God.

On Sunday last, a valuable horse belong ing to Dr. Conroy, was so badly injured, as to be rendered uselese, perhaps forever. The Dr drove to the City Hospital, shortly before noon, to visit some patients, and nearing his usual time for feeding, the horse evidently felt hungry, and started for the stable. He started up Dorchester Street to the Dr's. residence where he stopped. The sleigh coming in contact with the door step was upset. This frightened the horse and he started down the side walk till he came to Water Street. He turned the LePage House corner and proceeded along Water Street. He then proceeded along Water Street.
