The number of ratifiers at the meeting part of the township are the subject of a delegate going to the meeting to interview the C. P. R. authorities, and have a good time into the bargain. They think a smaller sum might have done better. Besides, what is the use of a delegate going to the C. P. R. just going to build where it suits itself, and where it can make the most money. We suppose before long the Council will offer them a bonus to build it, which will also displace a large number of the people.
