

THE HOME CIRCLE.

Russian Samovars of brass compose part of the necessary furniture of the modern tea-table.

Orange tints are useful in many cases for interior decoration, as they are warm and pleasant.

Coral is just now in large demand for embroidery work, combined with marine plants, showing delicate tracery.

Revolving flower-pots stands afford a ready mode of varying effects groups of plants in parlor or sitting rooms.

Pastoral, knightly and woodland scenes, and village festival tableaux, in Limoges, may be blended together in mantel facings with charming effect.

A suitable color for recesses holding marble statuary is cerulean blue; while one of the best backgrounds for gold and green bronze is Indian red.

A Japanese tea tray of lacquered wood is composed of a series of divisions, each with a separate porcelain base, with design in gold and colors, and with varied molded border.

For picture frames, old brass elaborately designed is in much request. They are especially appropriate to pictorial designs in the same mental or in paper mode.

Whitewash produces in tiles every variety of tint at will, the ancient used only two tints, red and white, employing brick clay, with a transparent glaze from powdered brick ore.

It is always well to give the stairway wall of the several stories a different decorative treatment; also to introduce horizontal lines, as giving greater breadth and stability of appearance.

A novel hall hat-rack, of simple hardwood frame, is provided with protruding and erect oval of nickel-plated wire, as a ledge for silk hats; an inclined half moon wire device affords equal security for felt hats.

At a recent lunch party the napkin at each place was slipped into gilded clothes with the pins decorated with tiny bunches of forget-me-nots, ranunculus and other small flowers painted in oil, and were retained by the guests as souvenirs.

A pretty, healthful and economical finish for ceilings and walls is made of pulverized soapstone. It can be readily washed, takes a high polish, is a pearl grape in tint, presents the best possible surface for painting, either in oil or water color, and will neither crack nor chip.

The best regulators for the stomach and bowels, the best cure for biliousness, sick headache, indigestion, and all affections arising from a disordered liver, are without exception Johnson's Tonic Liver Pills.

A novel hall hat-rack, of simple hardwood frame, is provided with protruding and erect oval of nickel-plated wire, as a ledge for silk hats; an inclined half moon wire device affords equal security for felt hats.

The tile facing of a marble mantel showing a continuous plant and floral design, in delicate hue, on a white ground, presents the novelty of birds in brilliant plumage, and bright, easy insects, rendered in relief in quartz grains in metallic colors, producing a picturesque effect. The importation is from Germany.

That painful complaint can be quickly cured by the right remedy. Miss Mary Jane Gould, of Stoney Creek, Ont., says: "I was troubled with lumbago, and could not get relief until I used Hagar's Yellow Oil, one bottle of which cured me entirely."

In a pint of spirits of wine dissolve two ounces of seed-lac, and two ounces of white resin. The principal use of this polish is for the carved parts of cabinet work, such as standards, pillars, claws, etc. It should be laid on warm, and if the work can also be warmed at the time it will be still better. All moisture and dampness should be carefully excluded.

A Wonderful Flesh Producer. This is the title given to Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil by many thousands who have taken it. It not only gives flesh and strength by virtue of its own nutritious properties, but creates an appetite for food. Use it, and try your weight. Scott's Emulsion is perfectly palatable. Sold by all druggists, at 50c. and $1.

Nursing Cases of Typhoid. First of all, after the wise physician, we would say procure a well trained nurse. Some of our physicians will not take a case of this fever without one.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them, that is take Rochee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain.

Housekeepers Should Learn. That to wash smoothing irons in dish-water, after washing your skirts, will make them smooth and prevent rusting.

That if you fold your clothes as you take them from the line, they will iron much easier.

That your copper wash boiler, it will rubbed with a cloth dipped in coal oil, will be clean and bright.

That you can sweep a rag carpet much cleaner sweeping crosswise of the width.

That if you want to keep your house free of moths, never put down your carpets.

A Wonderful Organ. The largest organ, and one that plays a controlling part on the health of the body is the liver. If torpid or inactive the whole system becomes diseased.

The council of San Remo, Italy, intend erecting two marble pillars to commemorate the late Emperor Frederick.

Cultivate Cheerfulness.

Life is essentially what we make it. A few are born invalids, or, by reason of sickness, are rendered incapable of coping with the world. But to every ninety-nine out of a hundred individuals is given the prerogative of determining their relative position in the scale of existence.

Shades in Vogue.

Here are some of the shades adopted by a specialist of Paris manufacturers of the goods they will make for the winter trade:

Emeralds—A deep, rich emerald green.

Scarabees—A dark, yellowish green.

Cocoonets—A shade lighter than scarabees.

Paupliers—A shade lighter still.

Nil—A light watery green.

Coquelicot—A rich blood red.

Boulangers—A brighter shade of red.

Bouton d'Or—A golden yellow.

Mats—Straw color.

Volcan—A reddish terra-cotta.

Alezan—A dark reddish brown.

Pastole—A light golden brown.

Oxide—A dark slate.

Lionceaux—A dark fawn.

Heron—A grayish drab.

Luciole—A gendarme blue.

Dangerous Counterfeits. Counterfeits are always dangerous, more so that they always closely imitate the original in appearance and name.

A Free Gift. Around each bottle of Dr. Chase's Liver Cure is a medical guide and receipt book containing useful information, over 200 recipes, and pronounced by doctors and druggists as worth ten times the cost of the medicine.

Decorated Stomach. "For three years I was unable to work, suffering from ulcerated stomach. Medical aid having failed, I was told to try Burdock Blood Bitters, of which 7 bottles made a permanent cure.

More Remarkable Still. Found at last, what the true public has been looking for these many years and that is a medicine which although but lately introduced, has made for itself a reputation second to none.

A Profitable Life. Few men have accomplished the same amount of work and good in this world as the celebrated Dr. Chase. Over 500,000 of his works have been sold in Canada alone.

Give Them A Chance. That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is.

Many very good housekeepers make piecrust but once a week. If put in a cold place it will keep that long without injury.

Eay fever is a type of catarrh having peculiar symptoms. It is attended by an inflamed condition of the lining membranes of the nostrils, tear-ducts and throat, affecting the lungs.

You may not have silver nut-picks to use when the nuts are passed these cold evenings, but you may have some horse-shoe nails, which are quite as serviceable and handy.

How a Dude Caught Cold. A slim young man in the height of fashion was violently sneezing in a street when a companion remarked, "Aw, Charles, dear boy, how'd ye catch that dreadful cold."

A Wonderful Organ. The largest organ, and one that plays a controlling part on the health of the body is the liver. If torpid or inactive the whole system becomes diseased.
