ARGENTINA TO GIVE MILITARY AID

BUENOS AIRES, To-day. It is announced that the Argentine Congress will grant the authorization at an early date to the Government to arrange for a military mission to France and a naval mission to England or the United States. The newspapers comment favorably on the proposal.

WHAT IS WANTED.

LONDON, To-day. The Russian charge d'affaires made the announcement to an interviewer yesterday afternoon. "The Russian Embassy and all Russian officials in London wish it known that they do not recognize the authority of the band of traitors who have temporarily gained the upper hand in the capital and call themselves the Russian Government."

RAILWAYS EMPLOYEES TO ASK FOR HIGHER WAGES.

NEW YORK, To-day. Demands for wage increases averaging 42 per cent. are involved in the secret vote being taken this week by the conductors and brakemen on all railroads in the United States.

NOW WE SHALL WIN THE WAR.

LONDON, To-day. The Daily Graphic prints the following: The Duke of Marlborough is 46 to-day. Both he and his Duchess are at Blenheim Palace. In view of the fact that the Duke and the Duchess, who was formerly Consuelo Vanderbilt of New York, have been separated for a number of years, the children spending part of the time with their mother and part with their father, this announcement is causing great interest in social circles.

ITALIAN PRIDE TOUCHED.

ROME, To-day. The spirit of the Italian people appears to be stiffening daily. The pride of the people have been deeply touched by recent events. There have been many callers at the American Embassy to salute Ambassador Page that the nation will resist to the uttermost. We have never made peace, exclaimed one prominent editor. We may become homeless, we may starve like the Belgians, but never peace.

PRAISE LLOYD GEORGE.

PARIS, To-day. French newspapers praise the speech made here on Monday by Lloyd George. The Temps approves of the British Premier's frankness and says it took courage to acknowledge the Italian disaster and to admit the loss of two hundred thousand prisoners and two thousand five hundred guns.

FALL OF FRENCH MINISTRY.

PARIS, To-day. The Painlevé Ministry was defeated by a direct vote in the Deputies to-day and later resigned. This is the first time such action had been taken by the Chamber since the beginning of the war, as up to the present it has been a point of honor with many Deputies not to vote against Government but to express criticism by abstaining from recording their vote. Strong dissatisfaction with the Government's handling of the Bolo Panis affair is believed to be the motive which changed passive discontent to active opposition. Two other things thought to have had part in the downfall of the Cabinet were the Premier's statement exonerating M. Malvy, former Minister of the Interior and the fiasco attending the prosecution of Lactin Francaise. The ministerial crisis comes on the eve of the Inter-Allied Conference and every effort will be made to settle it quickly. President Poincaré will begin consultations with the political leaders to-morrow morning.

GOOD NEWS FROM RUSSIA.

LONDON, To-day. The Finnish Telegram Bureau says the whole of Russia except a small part of Petrograd is now in the hands of the Provisional Kerensky Government.

TIMES CRITICISES COUNCIL PLAN

LONDON, To-day. In a review of the proposed War Council, the military correspondent of the Times says that the desirability for the closest co-operation is self-evident and has already been recognized by the Allies. But he is not enthusiastic for the plan as explained at present. Among other points he contends that the purview of the Council should embrace all of the fronts, not only the western. He says, that the advisory committee must contain naval as well as military representatives. The writer maintains that the commanders in the field will disapprove of attempts by the committee to interfere with their plans and believe that if their opinions regarding the Council could be made known they would be wholly unfavourable.

KERENSKY IN PETROGRAD.

STOCKHOLM, To-day. Kerensky has entered Petrograd, according to a despatch received from a correspondent of the Swedish News Agency at Haparanda on the Russian border.

SAYS CANNOT SEND JAP TROOPS

TOKIO, To-day. The Minister of War informs the Japanese newspapers that the despatch of troops to Europe is an absolute impossibility, owing to tremendous cost and lack of tonnage. The Minister of Finance in a lengthy article in the newspapers declared that the Japanese army is deficient in ordnance.

GERMAN HYPOCHRISY.

BERLIN, To-day. The Berlin press generally gives a friendly reception to the peace manifesto of the Russian Maximalists. The Vorwaerts, a Socialist organ, and the Germania, a Catholic organ, both raise the question as to whether the Bolshevik will retain power in Russia. The question as to whether the belated armistice for the purpose of discussing peace, the Vorwaerts says, can only be answered by the German Government affirmatively, declaring at the same time it does not intend to annex or consent to annexation of Germany's cost. Whatever Germany has to say concerning annexation, it adds, is contained in the Reichstag resolution of July 19 and in the German reply to the Pope.

ANGLO-AMERICAN COMMISSION DOING WELL.

LONDON, To-day. Col. House, head of the American Mission, called the members to conference yesterday and received reports on the progress of their deliberations with their British colleagues. He expressed himself pleased with the splendid spirit of co-operation manifested. The reports showed the discussions had accomplished much.

THE GERMANS FAIL IN FLANDERS

LONDON, To-day. The Germans met with complete defeat at the hands of the British yesterday in Flanders and an attempt to recapture the ground recently won by the British near Passchendaele was repulsed.

THE BATTLE OF THE PIAVE.

ITALIAN HEADQUARTERS IN ITALY, Nov. 13th.—The Piave line still holds in the main against heavy and continuous artillery fire from the eastern bank and efforts of the Austro-Germans to cross the stream. These efforts have not taken the proportions of a general movement but several battalions crossed the river on pontoons near Zenon. The Italian artillery concentrated its fire on the raiding parties, either destroying them in midstream or pushing them back on the river bank. Fighting here was desperate and sanguinary. Men who have returned from the batteries along the Piave say the German fire is extremely heavy but from middle calibre guns. Chief attention is now directed toward (unfinished).

McMurdo's Store News

WEDNESDAY, Nov. 14, '17. We are greatly pleased to be able to announce the arrival of a full stock of our famous Cod Liver Oil Emulsion. This emulsion is prepared for us by one of the most reliable firms of operative chemists in England and is in every way worthy of its origin and of our name. Containing a liberal proportion of pure, fresh cod liver oil, it is perfectly emulsified and is as palatable as raw cream, and no child, however fastidious, will refuse to take it. In addition to the oil, the emulsion contains the hypophosphites, which are tonic and nerve building in action. And it is in addition the lowest priced Cod Liver Emulsion in the market. A ten ounce bottle retails for 70 cents.

Ferrets for the Front.

The little consequences of the war are numberless and often inexplicable. This country, before the war, bred ferrets for the world, and then the world forgot it wanted them. Now they are being rapidly mobilized. At Mr. Hamlyn's place by the London Docks the writer recently watched hundreds of these lithe, active, and vicious creatures being packed by men wearing stout leather gauntlets. They were going to France. Many of them were destined for the Somme, and to a village there no longer on the map.

Anyone who knows the old battleground of the Somme will guess the reason for the ferrets. They are to fight the rats. The west side of that area swarms with rats—as big as rabbits—which flourish in the endless galleries in the chalk hills left by the Germans. They have become so impudent that the big ones will dispute a narrow alley when approached. A systematic attempt is being made to reduce them. Another curious result of the war is that numbers of parrots have been made homeless. Their owners have been called up and have been forced to send them to the wild-beast dealer as the only known address. The grey African parrot in bulk was nothing new before the war, when steamers came in from the Gulf of Guinea. But it is entirely strange to find a large congress of acclimatized birds conversing with a combined vocabulary that would make the interruptions at a peace meeting sound like a dead silence.—Tit-Bits.

Thirteen--Lucky No.

All patriotic Americans ought to share President Wilson's belief that thirteen is the lucky number of the United States. The Union originally consisted of thirteen States, the Declaration of Independence was signed by thirteen men, and there were thirteen stars in the original flag under which the Colonists fought their successful revolt.

There is a Thirteen Club which meets in Room 13 at the Holborn Restaurant, sets thirteen tables, and sits thirteen at a table, if possible, and always has its knives set crosswise; but America has a Friday-Thirteenth Club, which meets whenever Friday falls on the thirteenth of the month.

Its president considers himself the luckiest of men. He was born on Friday, 13th, graduated on Friday, 13th, met his fiancé on Friday, 13th, and got married on the same day and date a little later on. The late Pierpont Morgan used to defy Fate by housing his art treasures, which were priceless, at 13, Prince's Gate. But it is a fact that a tenth of the London streets are minus this number. There is no thirteen in the Strand, Holborn, Westbourne Grove, the Haymarket, St. James's St., Lowndes Square, Park Lane, Threadneedle Street, Tokenhouse Yard, or London Street.—Tit-Bits.

The water should not be drawn from the ice cream freezer unless it floats the ice. It is the melted ice that causes the cream to freeze. This applies to the freezing process. When packing cream to keep, the water should be drawn off.
