

U. S. Ambassador Acts as Mediator

French Views Not in Accord With Those of U. S. Financiers--3000 Killed and Wounded in Brazilian Insurrection--8 Killed When Banker Crashed Into the Boston.

ANOTHER HITCH.

LONDON, July 22. With the Inter-Allied Conference on the Experts Reparations plan not yet a week old, the United States Ambassador, Frank B. Kellogg, has been called upon to play the delicate role of mediator, which all the delegations confidently predicted would be necessary, sooner or later, when the statesmen opened their parleys here last Wednesday. Mr. Kellogg's opportunity came this evening, when the French ideas of security were found to be out of harmony with the guarantees required by the United States financiers, who are expected to take up a considerable portion of the forty million pound loan to Germany with which the Dawes plan is to be inaugurated. The situation although tense tonight is regarded by most observers as capable of amicable solution, through the office of United States Ambassador and his colleagues. On one principle all the delegations seem still to be agreed, that the experts' plan affords the only solution for Europe's ills and that the alternative is chaos. Accordingly the position is one of anxiety but not of despair and the delegations do not regard the hitch which has occurred because of the bankers' demands for protection for the loan in the light of a crisis.

3000 KILLED AND WOUNDED.

WASHINGTON, July 22. Three thousand civilians are reported to have been killed and injured in fighting at Sao Paulo between Brazilian Federal and Revolutionary forces. This report was received today by the State Department. The heaviest fighting of the revolt, the message said, took place during the night of July 20th, but the result did not materially change the situation.

DEFEATED ON LIQUOR ISSUE.

CHRISTIANA, July 22. The Ministry of Premier Abraham Berge has resigned as a result of the defeat of the Government's proposals for balancing the budget by repealing the present prohibition law and permitting in liquors under Government control. It was estimated this trade would bring in an income of thirty million kroner.

THE WRECK OF THE BOSTON.

NEWPORT, R.I., July 22. Four passengers, three men and one woman, are known to have been killed when the oil tanker Swift Arrow crashed into the Eastern Steamship liner Boston of Point Judith last night. Their bodies were seen in the wreckage of two state rooms when the Boston was towed into Newport Harbour and beached there today. They were caught behind the ship's plates that had been crushed in and it was said the plates would have to be cut with gas torches before the bodies could be extricated. Several passengers are known to have been injured. Half an hour after the collision the steamer appeared to be settling, with the engine room filled with water and power and lights gone. The work of lowering boats was begun then and was carried on without danger, the women and children leaving first, men passengers next, then the crew, the Captain and Radio Officer alone remaining.

THE GRAIN CROP SITUATION.

WINNIPEG, July 22. Liberal rain falls during the past week have brought relief to grain crops in many sections of Western Canada's crop area, but there are still districts in Saskatchewan and Alberta where moisture is urgently needed and in some instances the situation is critical, according to the crop report issued by the Agricultural Department of the C. P. R. here today. Manitoba, where prospects have greatly improved, following heavy rains, gives promise of average crops. Conditions are generally good in Southern Saskatchewan, except in certain parts of the Southwest, where more rain is needed. Northern and Central Saskatchewan did not experience sufficient rain to benefit the crops to any appreciable extent. Rain arrived in Alberta too late to be of material benefit. It is estimated the crops in the south will be 35 per cent below last year's. In the balance of the Province the yields will be light and straw short.

CHARGED WITH MURDER.

HALIFAX, N.S., July 22. Lewis Bev's, alleged self-confessed slayer of police officer Charles Fulton, and principal figure of the most sensational man hunt ever staged in this city a hunt in which hundreds of armed citizens joined the police, and which threw the entire city into turmoil on Monday last, was arraigned in the police court this morning, charged with murder and attempted murder. Fourteen witnesses were heard, including two who stated they had seen the shooting of Officer Fulton. The court adjourned at one o'clock to resume this afternoon when it is thought preliminary examination will be conducted. Bevis, during the proceedings, maintained the same calm which has marked him ever since his arrest. He smiled quite frequently while the evidence of various witnesses was being given.

DIES FROM INJURIES RECEIVED HORSEBACK RIDING.

WINCHESTER, Eng., July 22. Lord Ashburton's youngest daughter, the Hon. Violet Alma Madeline Baring, died yesterday, from injuries received while horseback riding. The accident occurred when the young woman was exercising a colt alone. The animal became frightened and pitched her off its back. It was at first thought her injuries consisted only of a slight concussion, but a hemorrhage set in which soon caused death.

DUBLIN, July 22. Eamonn de Valera made his first public appearance since his release from prison, at the Mansion House last night, when he delivered a speech and was enthusiastically acclaimed "President of the Irish Republic."

MEDICAL ASSOCIATIONS AFFILIATE.

LONDON, July 22. Extraordinary enthusiasm in the British Medical Association yesterday, when the congress unanimously gave instructions to the council of the association to carry through the policy of affiliation with the Canadian Medical Association, which had been recommended in the report of the dele-

Diphtheria, scarlet fever—the so-called diseases of childhood alone. Growing children are more subject to disease than their elders because they are more susceptible to germs. The same is true of their teeth. Children's teeth need attention early and often.

The Small Size Pro-phy-lactic Tooth Brush is especially suitable for boys and girls. It has all the famous Pro-phy-lactic features—saw-tooth bristles, large end tuft, curved shape, and others. It reaches all teeth, and clears the germs of decay out of every crevice. Contagious diseases are not wholly preventable. Toothache is, when you teach your child the Pro-phy-lactic habit early.

RIVER BOATS AGROUND.

CINCINNATI, July 22. At least five river steamers are aground and innumerable house boats are stranded as the result of an unprecedented drop of ten feet in the Ohio River, within the last twenty-four hours. The drop was caused by sudden raising of the wickets in the dam above Cincinnati.

Old Coast Guard Cutter Bear

PINCHED IN ICE UP BEYOND ARCTIC CIRCLE, ABANDONED TO FATE.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—The venerable Coast Guard cutter, the Bear, has made her last journey to the Arctic. She is pinched in the ice some a thousand miles north of Unalaska, two propellers are broken she has a score of dents in her side, and Coast Guard headquarters has radioed orders to give up, to return home from the 50th annual cruise into the far North.

So "Healy's Puk Ooniak" will not take the mail and the messengers from civilization to Point Barrow this year. The old vessel, named "Healy's fire canoe" by the natives when Capt. Healy used to guide her into the northern wastes, no more will brighten the lives of those lost from the world for a year at a time. She has been branded unsafe, unseaworthy, and when she gets back to the States, if she does, her last voyage will be ended. She will be dismantled.

It was on May 2 that the Bear, in command of Capt. Cockran, steamed away from the Golden Gate. Her skipper bore the usual broad instructions "to aid all peoples, to assist commerce, to open lines of communication," and last, but one of her most important duties, to carry the mails to every village it reached by the Bering sea patrol. The farthest north of these is Point Barrow.

Her thin steam of smoke and her white sails, for they use sails wherever possible to conserve stores of coal, eagerly had been watched for many long days each summer by the missionaries, the teachers, the traders and the natives; but their watches this time will be in vain in many villages.

A brief radio came through from Capt. Cockran. It told in a few words the story of a disappointed crew and insurmountable ice that blocked the northern way. Half a dozen times in June the Bear was caught in the ice. Men acquainted with the North, brawny and willing, freed her, and she sought another means of egress, but July 5 found her facing "heaviest" ice, and a day later she was held fast again. When she was loose, Capt. Cockran was ready to start back.

Although Capt. Cockran's last message indicated his belief that he would have little difficulty in returning as soon as ice conditions permit, Rear Admiral Billard, the commandant, and others at Coast Guard headquarters, fear that the old boat may not emerge safely. She should never have gone this year, they said, but Capt. Cockran urged that the old Dundee whaler, whose boat had made 49 trips into waters that none other dared penetrate, including his journey to the rescue of Greely, should be given another trial.

Congress was asked at its last session to appropriate money for a new craft to replace the Bear, but the bill got lost in the jam of the cloister days. Her sister ships, the Thetis and the Resolute, long ago were dismantled, but not until each had served the Government faithfully for years and had carried such heroes as Sobieski and Usher and others in the most hazardous of journeys. Only the Bear remained. But now even the Bear, which has failed in so few attempts to reach those who know no other means of communication with the outside world, has been doomed by the hazards of time and must be cast aside.

Note.—The Thetis mentioned above is still doing duty, and this spring prosecuted the seal fishery, being one of the high liners of the fleet.

A Sensational Story

MYSTERIOUS SHOOTING IN A PROMINENT CITIZENS HOME.

At five minutes before midnight, according to the story of MIDNIGHT, an intruder was shot in the home of a prominent citizen. Five minutes later, as the church bells were chiming midnight, an eloping couple was being married a few blocks away in the home of the bishop of the cathedral. The intruder who had been shot was the man who years ago had been married to the girl, but who had been long given up as dead. Whether the stain of bigamy should rest upon this girl's soul depended on whether the intruder was shot BEFORE or AFTER her midnight marriage. The shattered clock which was stopped by a bullet at five minutes before twelve was the silent witness.

That the public thoroughly enjoys strong, virile drama flavored with a dash of romance and a sprinkling of comedy was evidenced at the Majestic Theatre last evening where "Midnight," starring Constance Binney, met with the apparent approval of a large audience.

The drama of the piece hinges around an unfortunate early marriage of the heroine, a subsequent happy period of tender romance—and a denouement which has been played to give the utmost of dramatic suspense. With "Midnight" is a comical comedy that makes one forget the heat or any other reasonable troubles. See this big feature to-day.

Communism and Trade Unions

London Daily Mail: If Great Britain is to prosper, or indeed to exist, work must be done and we must all put our backs into doing it. So long as every few weeks there is a more or less serious labor upheaval, and so long as the Communists are able to secure the repudiation of agreements between trade unions and employers, no one can go ahead and no industry can prosper. We are convinced that trade unionists are in agreement with the public outside the trade unions in detesting the Communists and their intrigues. The money which the Reds waste is not all from Russian pockets, much of it is siphoned from trade union funds provided for the sick and old. The Government that crushes the Communists will be the most popular Administration for a decade.
