Motor Matters

Practically all motor vehicles in St. John's are now licensed, and the black and white number plate of 1925 has replaced the red and white of 1924.

Yesterday, however, a motor was seen carrying in front both the black and white and the red police in the discharge of their duties the directory by County Judge Coastand white number plate--why, we cannot say, but out of consideration for the traffic officer's eyesight, and more particularly tain her. The captain and engineer Nickle, Attorney General, who has for the sake of his reputation appeared before the Magistrate dur- been studying the Appeal Court judgefor sobriety, which might be seriously questioned if he prequarters, we would arge upon $2,000 and two sureties of $1,000 each. The Home Bank case as far as the the owner the desirability of Mr. C. J. Fox is Crown Counsel, and Criminal Courts are concerned is over. removing the obsolete number.

. It is somewhat of a surprise to learn that Harbour Grace and Grand Falls are somewhat behind time in conforming with the licensing regulations. In the former town, some car owners have registered, but a good many have not. In the latter, we understand, practically no one has yet adoptthem, is the vogue in the fashion world of 1925. Get into line, gentlemen of the motor fraternity plies to all without exception.

Several motor car owners in are clearly visible-in other words, without regard to the position specified in the regula- fords, at $6.50, $7.00 and $7.50 tions. One driver has a front pair at F. SMALLWOOD'S. plate concealed behind a double bumper; another has attached his rear plate to a hinged car- Reports From the rier, and others have them suspended under the body of the car. It is attention to details which count, gentlemen, and which saves trouble in the future, so get it right, now.

One of the busiest traffic centres in the city is at the crossing of Duckworth and Prescott Streets, and at times there is considerable confusion which the presence of an officer on point duty would prevent. We quite realize that the demands on the police force, owing to the increase in the number of vehicles operating in the city, make it difficult if not altogether impossible to organize a complete system of traffic control. The obvious course is for the authorities to augment the force, and in our opinion the time has come when this should be done.

Parliamentarians Coming by Caribou

As it is anticipated that the House of Commons will rise on August 6, the British Parliamentarians who are expected to visit here next month the party will be able to carry out the original intention of coming out by S.S. Caribou, which sails on the 8th or 10th of August.
