ANOTHER PIONEER GONE.

Death of Mr. Donald McArthur of Iona

The death occurred at the home of this son in law, at Iona Station, on Saturday of M. Donald McArthur, after several days' illness, at the advanced age of 81 years.

The deceased was one of the pioneer settlers of this county, having emigrated from Argyleshire, Scotland, about the year 1848. He first settled in Lobo township, where he remained only a few was an unbroken forest, but which was an unbroken forest, but which was an unbroken forest, but which owing to the zeal and perseverance, characteristic of the race to which he belouged, transferred it into a beautifully cleared farm. He was a man of many excellent qualities, a fact which could be fully realized only by those who could converse with him in his own mative tongue. The retentiveness of his memory was remarkable even to the He never failed to recall any parsticular in connection with any incident of importance with which he had previously been familiar. In politics he was a life long Liberal. In religion he was of a very decided mind, being thoroughly established in the principles of decirious that says held the Connection. doctrine that are held by the Covenanted or Old School Baptist church, of which he was a highly respected and consistent member for fifty years. He bore his dast sickness, from which he suffered much, with a Christian fortitude that was remarkable.

A family of six sons and two daughters survive him. namely: Duncan, of Middlemarch; Alex. and David, of St. Thomas; Malcom. Chicago, and David, Napinka, Manitoba. The daughters are Mrs. R. McDonald and Miss Catherine, Iona Station. One brother, David, of Chatham, also survives him.

THANKSGIVING DAY FATALITY.

A Komoka Boy Shot While Being Handed a Gun by a Companion.

A very sad accident, by which Newton Parsons, the 12-year-old son of a farmer fliving near Komoka, lost his life, occurred on Thanksgiving Day. These young men of London, among whom was Gartield McCormick, were shooting in the woods mear Mr. Parsons' farm, when they met mear Mr. Parsons' farm, when they met young Parsons and three companions, who were also looking for game. The boys engaged in a conversation, and finally some of them wanted to take a shot with Mc-Cormick's double-barreled breech-loading gun. McCormick censented, and as he thanded the weapon over to the lads, one barrel was discharged. Parsons, who was standing close by at the time, received the full charge in the bowels and sank to the ground. He was immediately taken to his home, but before reaching there he breathed his last. McCormick is completely prostrated by the sad affair as are also the parents of the boy.

One of the most peculiar freaks of lightning that have been heard of oc-curred at the home of George Aitken, a farmer near Glen Morris, the other afternoon. John and Robert were standing in a room, when the bolt entered the house. It ran along the floor, passed under the foot of John Aitken, passed under the foot of John Altken, raising it slightly, and then tore the sole off Robert's boot and also burnt two heles in his stocking. The flash passed out of the house. Mr. Aitken's foot was not materially injured, but was left in a sore condition.
