THE GLOBE is changing front on the fiscal issue. On Saturday it had an article advocating a fair-play tariff. That is the issue is coming to be what The World always said it was, one of degree. PUBLIC OPINION.

Brampton Conservator: The statute provlding for municipal exemptions in certain respects, and the exceptions claimed by civil service officers, should be amended and these privileges taken away.

Kingston News: It is about time that the provincial fair should be abolished. During its existence of over thirty years it has done much good work, but the period has arrived when it is no longer useful. Monetary Times: There is one fact which about "fostering a national spirit" as long as you please, but we cannot and never will learn to "foster a national spirit," and become Canadians until we are a people free and independent.

Montreal Shareholder: It will probably Canada, sixty-seven in Ontario, twenty-six in Quebec, two in Manitoba, two in New Brunswick, and one in Nova Scotia, and as a general thing all are making money.

Montreal Shareholder: It will probably be another decade yet before steps are taken to carry out a project for the utilization of the Hudson bay route, but we have no doubt in the world but that, once adopted, it will only be rivalled by the St. Lawrence in the competition for traffic of the west and the northwest.

> Hamilton Times: It is no crime to pre-ter annexation to the United States to dependence upon Great Britain, and we think the St. George's men of Toronto have made a mistake in setting up such a confession of faith as is implied in their vote. Right in the United States there are flourishing St. George's societies. Perhaps the Toronto men wanted a cheap advertisement of their own character for loyalty.
