 WATFORD, JULY 20, 1906.

BORN TO IT

Why does a frog croak? Go down to the marsh, and ask a frog why he croaks, and he will tell you that he croaks because he can croak; and because he likes to croak.

Who taught you to croak? Don't know. It just came natural to me somehow.

Ask a bird why he can sing, and he will tell you that he sings because he can sing, and because he likes to sing.

Ask a thief why he steals; he will tell you that he steals because he can steal, and because he likes to steal. He was born that way. I am sorry for the average croak, I don't believe that nine-tenths of them can help themselves. It's in them, and it has to come out, like the measles, or the hives, or the chickenpox.

What's the use of locking Sissy up in the parlor for two hours every day to practice a hated music lesson. She's not a musician; she never will be. It isn't in her. It is cruelty to animals to lock that unhappy child in there—two long hours of suffering. You can't make a silk purse out of a sow's ear. The frog would never croak a croak if he didn't like to croak.

And Sissy won't learn to play the piano till she wants to play the piano. Oh, the cruelties that we have to suffer every day! We are compelled to eat things that we loathe. We are compelled to wear dresses that are simply hideous, and make us look just awful. We are compelled to learn to do things that will never be any use to us, and to associate with people who are too dreadful for anything.

I would like to go to a foundling hospital or orphan asylum, and take say, half a dozen little kids and turn them loose in the sugar bush behind the Wigwam, and experiment on them. I would just like to let them develop in their own way. It might be a fearful mistake—but who can tell?—The Khan.

Reduced a hard Swelling.

Mr. Gus E. Geroux, writing from Pimbroke, tells how he was injured in a lumber camp. "A heavy log rolled against my leg and I was laid up with stiffness and a hard swelling. When I applied Polson's Nerviline I got relief. A few rubbings with this cured me." In the bush Nerviline is indispensable; it cures neuralgia, colds, rheumatism and internal disorders too. No body can afford to be without Nerviline. Useful for all internal and external pains. Large bottles 25c. at all dealers.

Breed For the Market.

The commercial horse was never in broader demand or sold for higher average prices than at the present time. For more than half a decade the values of horses have steadily increased and their uses have broadened in the industrial world. More attention is being given to the breeding industry, and farmers are more uniformly striving to raise some specific market class.

Modern commercial and industrial expansion has practically revolutionized the market class of horses. Formerly the farmer bred specially for his own use, and the surplus was consigned to market to be sold at any price that a buyer might fancy to offer. To-day it is difficult to sell a horse that is not a member of some distinct commercial class, and the misfit offerings go at prices below the cost of production. The farmer no longer caters to his own ideals of equine perfection, but rather attempts to raise horses that realize the greatest profit over first cost.

Not only in the matter of class breeding is the horse industry assuming scientific development, but the matter of marketing is obtaining corresponding attention. The proper age and condition enter into the market value of the animal. A buyer who purchases for personal use cannot afford the time to break, manner and condition his purchase for commercial or industrial use. The farmer raises feed to fatten horses cheaper than the buyer can purchase it in the open market. The breeder can also break and manner his horses for less expense than the dealer who has to employ professional help. A thin horse of any class will sell $25 to $50 below the price it would command if in good condition. Many horses that are sold in good flesh, when tested prove green workers, and are resold at a large discount over the first selling price. If the farmer expects to get the full value for the horses he raises he needs to have them in good condition and well harness-broke when offered in the market for sale.

How Pneumonia Starts.

You catch a little cold to-day, but tomorrow it has reached the throat, next day the lungs are affected and you wished you had used "Catarrhoxone" which kills colds in five minutes. In the first place Catarrhoxone soothes the irritated membranes and relieves congestion, then it cuts out the phlegm and destroys the germs. It enables the blood to retain a natural supply of oxygen, lung food and vitality. In any cough, bronchitis or lung affection is guaranteed to positively cure. Decline any substitute for "Catarrhoxone."

For The Housewife.

In her timely paper, in the August Delinquent, Isabel Gordio Curtis has some remarks of interest and value on the proper making of Frozen Desserts, with a classification of them. Anna W. Morrison tells how to prepare Cool Salads for Hot Days and A. M. Calkins writes innovations in salads, which will appeal to jaded appetites. This is the season for the enjoyment of the inviting field mushroom and Margaret Hall, in the article entitled "The Luscious Field Mushroom," gives many tested recipes for their preparation. Tomatoes take first place as vegetables from the summer table. During the "dog days," one will find that the serving of fancy food beverages will furnish a handsome combination of both food and drink. With this consideration in view, many select recipes are suggested in the article entitled "Cold Comforts," by Eleanor Marchant.

FOR INFLAMMATION OF THE EYES.—Among the many good qualities which Parnee's Vegetable Pills possess, besides regulating the digestive organs, is their efficacy in reducing inflammation of the eyes. It has called forth many letters of recommendation from those who were afflicted with this complaint and found a cure in the pills. They affect the nerve centres and the blood in a surprisingly active way, and the result is almost immediately seen.

Four Grand Trunk section gangs are on strike between Lennox and Mt. Clemens, Mich. They demand an increase in pay of fifteen cents and will not work until the railway company concedes to their demand.

My Hair is Extra Long

Feed your hair; nourish it; give it something to live on. Then it will stop falling, and will grow long and heavy. Ayer's Hair Vigor is the only genuine hair-food you can buy. It gives new life to the hair-bulbs. You save what hair you have, and get more, too. And it keeps the scalp clean and healthy.

LOCAL OR OTHERWISE.

"WHAT would you do if you were a man?" asked Cholly. "I do not know," sweetly answered Clarrie. "What would you?"

WHEN a burglar asks the conundrum "Where's your money?" it is frequently the wisest plan to give it up.—Stray Stories.

THIS sentence is extracted from a testimonial in a newspaper: "But I am thankful to say after five weeks of your treatment—the girl can read and write with her right eye as well as with her left."

Why go limping and whining about your corn when a 25-cent bottle of Holloway's Corp Cure will remove them? Give it a trial and you will not regret.

THE largest sturgeon ever caught in fresh water was captured near Wiarion, in the Georgian Bay. It weighed 323 pounds. The flesh of the fish sells for 10 to 15 cents a pound. This one had a roo pounds of roe, which sells at 70 cents p. r. pound.

SOME parties in town are shooting robins because the birds are taking a few cherries from their gardens. There is a penalty for this as well as for firing guns inside the corporation, and the parties who are doing it are being watched and will surely get into trouble.

FROM the large lumber mills come reports that lumber has not been so scarce an article in years as it is now, and the indications are that the demand for all grades of first-class lumber will be stronger during most of the months this year than it has been for a long time. There is in fact an abnormal demand for it.

THE average farmer is probably not aware of the fact that an average mule sells for $10 a head more than horses. Such is the case, and the price has been gradually rising for a number of years. There has never been what would be called an over-production of mules, while the market has often been unable to fully supply the demand.

ONE of our citizens who occasionally wipes the dishes for his wife, became tired of his job and refused, saying "that it was not a man's work." Not feeling disposed to lose his job, she brought the Bible out to convince him of his error, and read as follows from Kings 21, 13: "And will wipe Jerusalem as a man wipeth a dish, wiping it and turning it upside down." It is needless to say that he is still doing his occasional stunt.

A LINTMENT FOR THE LOGGER.—Loggers lead a life which exposes them to many perils. Wounds, cuts and bruises cannot be altogether avoided in preparing timber for the drive and in river work, where wet and cold combined are of daily experience coughs and colds and muscular pains cannot but ensue. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, when applied to the injured or administered to the ailing, works wonders.

Things Worth Knowing.

- From Judge.
- Your way home.
- When you're away off.
- That you don't owe a cent.
- How to live within your income.
- Enough to go in when it rains.
- Where you can borrow ten dollars.
- When the rent collector is going to call.
- Sunlight Soap is better than other soaps, but is best when used in the Sunlight way. Buy Sunlight Soap and follow directions.
- What your best girl will say when you propose.
- What cards the other bluffer holds in his hands.
- That Bob Ingersoll was right about the future place.
- That your wife really doesn't care for expensive hats.
