

A Fatherly Man.
A RECORD WHICH HAS RARELY, IF EVER, BEEN EXCEEDED.

Were it not for the records of the Bucks county courts we could hardly credit the fiction of John Heffer, who was accidentally killed some years ago at the age of 68. He was married first in 1840. In eight years his wife bore him seventeen children. The first and second years of their marriage she gave birth to twins. For four successive years afterward she gave birth to triplets. In the seventh year she gave birth to one child and died soon afterward. Heffer engaged a young woman to look after his large brood of babies, and three months later she became the second Mrs. Heffer. She presented her husband with two children in the first two years of her wedded life. Five years later she had added ten more to the family, leaving twins five times. Then for three years she added but one a year. At the time of the death of the second wife twelve of the thirty-one children had died. The twenty that were left did not appear to be any obtainable to a young widow like a slave to keep a score of mouths in bread. The third Mrs. Heffer became the mother of nine children in two years, and the celebration and happiness of the couple were proverbial. One day in the fall of 1885 the father of the forty-one children was creating a railroad track and was run down by a locomotive and instantly killed. His widow and twenty-four of the forty-two children are still living.

8000 SALARY and Commission to be made in a few months. TESTIMONY OF 19 CENTURIES TO JESUS OF NAZARETH. The greatest moral book ever written by 30 eminent scholars. Non-sectarian. One volume. 120 pages. Sent by mail for 50 cents. Apply to The Henry Bill Publishing Co., 19 MONWICH, N. H.

CALL AT
CENTRAL Book Store
FOR
Tanglefoot Sticky Fly Paper,
SURE TO CATCH 'EM.

A large supply of PLAIN and FANCY STATIONERY constantly on hand. Also NEW and IMPROVED ALPHABETIC INDEX BOOKS.
KENNEDY,
Bridgetown, August 12th, 1891.

NOTICE!
All persons having claims against the firm owned by DR. REID, IN NICTAUX,
and lately under the management of JAMES MONROE, are hereby requested to send in all claims before the 15th of October ensuing, after which date they will not be entertained; and all those who are indebted are hereby notified that all debts must be settled and receipts obtained on or before the 15th of October.

NASAL BALM
Soothing, Cleansing, Never Fails.
CURES GOLDEN CATARRH
VALUABLE REAL ESTATE
For Sale.

THE subscriber invites bids for the purchase of the following property, belonging to the estate of J. R. Reed & Sons, late of this city, to-wit: THE FACTORY called, "The building is 140 x 38 feet, three stories high, with a collar under the roof. This factory is equipped with all the newest and most improved machinery used in the manufacture of first-class furniture, including a 38-horse power engine and boiler, two dry houses, steam elevator, and two whole factory and the dry houses are heated with steam pipes, with radiators on each floor.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY.
THE SCIENCE OF LIFE.
The great medical work of the 40s on Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline, Brains of Youth, and the various diseases consequent thereon. 300 pages, 8 vols., 125 prescriptions for all diseases. Illustrated sample free to young men. Sold only $1.00, by mail, sealed. Illustrative sample free to young men. Sold only $1.00, by mail, sealed. Illustrative sample free to young men. Sold only $1.00, by mail, sealed.

Windsor & Annapolis Railway Time Table.
COMMENCING TUESDAY, AUGUST 4th, 1891.

GOING WEST.	A. M.		P. M.
	Windsor	Annapolis	Windsor	Annapolis
10:00	10:30	6:00	6:30
11:00	11:30	7:00	7:30
12:00	12:30	8:00	8:30
13:00	13:30	9:00	9:30
14:00	14:30	10:00	10:30
15:00	15:30	11:00	11:30
16:00	16:30	12:00	12:30
17:00	17:30	1:00	1:30
18:00	18:30	2:00	2:30
19:00	19:30	3:00	3:30
20:00	20:30	4:00	4:30
21:00	21:30	5:00	5:30
22:00	22:30	6:00	6:30
23:00	23:30	7:00	7:30
24:00	24:30	8:00	8:30
25:00	25:30	9:00	9:30
26:00	26:30	10:00	10:30
27:00	27:30	11:00	11:30
28:00	28:30	12:00	12:30
29:00	29:30	1:00	1:30
30:00	30:30	2:00	2:30
31:00	31:30	3:00	3:30
32:00	32:30	4:00	4:30
33:00	33:30	5:00	5:30
34:00	34:30	6:00	6:30
35:00	35:30	7:00	7:30
36:00	36:30	8:00	8:30
37:00	37:30	9:00	9:30
38:00	38:30	10:00	10:30
39:00	39:30	11:00	11:30
40:00	40:30	12:00	12:30
41:00	41:30	1:00	1:30
42:00	42:30	2:00	2:30
43:00	43:30	3:00	3:30
44:00	44:30	4:00	4:30
45:00	45:30	5:00	5:30
46:00	46:30	6:00	6:30
47:00	47:30	7:00	7:30
48:00	48:30	8:00	8:30
49:00	49:30	9:00	9:30
50:00	50:30	10:00	10:30
51:00	51:30	11:00	11:30
52:00	52:30	12:00	12:30
53:00	53:30	1:00	1:30
54:00	54:30	2:00	2:30
55:00	55:30	3:00	3:30
56:00	56:30	4:00	4:30
57:00	57:30	5:00	5:30
58:00	58:30	6:00	6:30
59:00	59:30	7:00	7:30
60:00	60:30	8:00	8:30
61:00	61:30	9:00	9:30
62:00	62:30	10:00	10:30
63:00	63:30	11:00	11:30
64:00	64:30	12:00	12:30
65:00	65:30	1:00	1:30
66:00	66:30	2:00	2:30
67:00	67:30	3:00	3:30
68:00	68:30	4:00	4:30
69:00	69:30	5:00	5:30
70:00	70:30	6:00	6:30
71:00	71:30	7:00	7:30
72:00	72:30	8:00	8:30
73:00	73:30	9:00	9:30
74:00	74:30	10:00	10:30
75:00	75:30	11:00	11:30
76:00	76:30	12:00	12:30
77:00	77:30	1:00	1:30
78:00	78:30	2:00	2:30
79:00	79:30	3:00	3:30
80:00	80:30	4:00	4:30
81:00	81:30	5:00	5:30
82:00	82:30	6:00	6:30
83:00	83:30	7:00	7:30
84:00	84:30	8:00	8:30
85:00	85:30	9:00	9:30
86:00	86:30	10:00	10:30
87:00	87:30	11:00	11:30
88:00	88:30	12:00	12:30
89:00	89:30	1:00	1:30
90:00	90:30	2:00	2:30
91:00	91:30	3:00	3:30
92:00	92:30	4:00	4:30
93:00	93:30	5:00	5:30
94:00	94:30	6:00	6:30
95:00	95:30	7:00	7:30
96:00	96:30	8:00	8:30
97:00	97:30	9:00	9:30
98:00	98:30	10:00	10:30
99:00	99:30	11:00	11:30
100:00	100:30	12:00	12:30

HOYT BROTHERS,
DEALERS IN AND MANUFACTURERS OF
MONUMENTS, TABLETS, HEADSTONES, &c.
American & Italian Marble.
Granite, Marble, and Freestone
MONUMENTS, TABLETS, HEADSTONES, &c.
In the most graceful styles.
Our charges are reasonable in every respect, and we guarantee perfect satisfaction to all who may favor us with their patronage.
J. Hoyt,
Bridgetown, N. S.
SEASON OF '89-'90
The subscriber desires to inform the general public that he has now on hand at the late store of BALCOM & NIXON, a large stock of the following goods, which he offers at the lowest prices for cash, and the very best quality goods available.
General Merchandise,
Dry Goods, Groceries, Ready-made Clothing, Boots and Shoes, Crockery, Hardware, and all other goods that will offer them in exchange for goods, and the very best quality goods available.
S. M. NIXON,
N. S. Falls, Nov. 12th, 1889.

The Householder.
Manners for Boys.
Poor fellows! How they got hectored and scolded and scolded, and how contented is the rubbing and polishing and drilling, every member of the family feels a liberty to administer.
No wonder their opposition is aroused and they begin to feel that every man's hand is against them, when after all they were only in a relative way, informed of what was expected of them, and their manliness appealed to, they would really enough fall into line.
So though "Annie M." is the 12-year-old nephew, who was the "light of her eyes," it is not always the joy of her heart, for though a good natured, amiable boy in the main, he would often against the "proprietors" frequently.
First comes manners for the street.
Has lifted in saying "good-bye" or "How do you do."
Has lifted when offering a seat in a car or acknowledging a favor in two too noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk, or if it is a deplorable fact that the average hired man scarcely ever has sufficient interest in his work to take such care as is needed in milking time to keep the milk clean. But, of course, there are some exceptions to this rule.
Even in a small dairy, where but few cows are kept and not well employed, a carded and machine-made is too often noticeable, and the good farmer has none but himself to blame if there is a strange odor about his milk