

We welcome back to the small yard precincts not only our old 'young' friends of past years but as well a host of bright looking new-comers. The unanimity with which the old-timers broke into their broadest 'Johnny Kehoe' smiles, when it was announced that their well-beloved prefect Reverend Father Boyer and his indefatigable associates, Reverend Fathers Latulippe and Brother Veronneau were to continue in charge, speaks volumes for their popularity.

While the whole student body appreciates the action of the University authorities in securing the Rideau Rink for a temporary recreation hall, the juniors seem to manifest their approval in a very practical manner. Basket ball, indoor baseball, lacrosse and other minor sports are daily indulged in by all, a state of affairs that necessarily precludes the faintest symptom of home sickness.

The foot-ball season is at hand and we caution the Juniors to practice faithfully, as rumor has it that some former antagonists are greatly strengthened this season and are out to retrieve lost laurels.

Our all-round lacrosse player, W. By—s, had a lively experience at the recent exhibition. He bears a striking resemblance to the famed Billy Bounce, which fact made him an object of concentrated interest on the part of several young 'Rubes' from 'up the country.' It was only after iterated protestations followed up by a few forceful arguments and the final production of an identification card, that he proved an alibi for the other Billy and convinced them that he, this Billy, was not a part of the show.

'Tis a source of deep regret to all to learn that 'Champion' Victor has entered the senior ranks. After a brief deliberation as to the best and speediest method of inducing him to return to their midst, the small-yard Union decided on a special petition. This will be presented to the favorite in a few—years.

As most of us are blessed with lusty lungs we are hereby requested to learn the Varsity songs, cheers, yells, slogans and howls as soon as possible, in order to give them due publicity at the foot-ball matches.
