WILL MAKE FORTUNE IN AIRPLANE LINEN

Young Englishman Purchases Forty Million Yards from British Government.

London, July 9.—Leonard J. Martin, a young English business man who deals in agricultural machinery, has bought for $20,000,000 from the British government about forty million yards of linen, which was intended for making airplanes. He knew nothing about linen, but bought it for speculation.

Today his name and picture are featured in every British paper, and editorial writers are pointing out that the enterprising young man doesn't have to go to new countries to find golden business opportunities. Martin is 27 years old, and began his career, he says, with a capital of about $500.

"I bought over the heads of everybody else," he said, in discussing the big deal, "simply by offering a higher price than anybody else would pay. This is a one-man deal. I am fascinated by the possibilities of the linen business. I have never seen a proposition with so much scope in the markets of the world."

The stock of material Martin now controls represents three years' normal supply. He is reckoning on a profit of about $5,000,000. Of that amount, $2,000,000 would go to the British treasury in excess profits, and another $1,250,000 in super-tax.

Offered just in Small Lots.
The linen has been for sale by the government since January, under an offer to sell to the general public in eighty yard lengths, and 100 yard bales, but only $1000 worth of it had been purchased.

"Belfast people," said Martin, "imagined they had the stuff between their two fingers. A large part of this linen was actually manufactured after the armistice, because the Belfast mill-owners refused to allow their contracts to be cancelled.

"They went on making linen by millions of yards, at 40 to 75 cents a yard. Then they offered the government seven cents a yard to take it back. Their price later went up to about 25 cents a yard, and it was hoped in view of the monopoly to sell it to the public at three shillings. They could have re-equipped all the mills in Ulster out of the profit. I have got the linen at about double the final Belfast offer."

KITCHENER MARKET DRAWS A THOUSAND

Special to The Toronto World.

Kitchener, Ont., July 9.—Kitchener's mid-week market has suddenly become so popular that it drew more than 25 farmers in attendance this morning and they were swamped by a crowd of nearly 1,000 marketeers looking for early summer fruit. Their offerings of raspberries and strawberries were taken up within a few minutes after the market opened, selling at 30 cents a small basket. Currants sold for 20 cents a small basket, and cherries for $1.25. There was a small offering of peas and butter beans averaging between 10 and 15 cents a pound.

Expert is Investigating Kitchener's Water Shortage

Special to The Toronto World.

Kitchener, Ont., July 9.—Consulting Engineer Hodgkins, of Syracuse, N. Y., arrived in the city today for the purpose of investigating Kitchener's water shortage and recommending some course that would result in an adequate and permanent supply. With the water commission, Engineer Hodgkins spent the day going over the ground of the proposed Bridgeport extension. It is expected that Engineer Hodgkins will recommend extension to the Grand River (as the only hope of a future adequate supply).

FIREMEN RUN FAST PRIZES RUN FASTER

In Spite of Missing Awards Brigade Enjoy Island Picnic.

Away from the dangers of fire fighting and without a care in the world, the Toronto Fire Fighters' Association proved beyond a doubt at their annual picnic yesterday that they were as capable at making a holiday as protecting the interests of the public.

The event was held at Centre Island and about 2000 firemen and their near relatives joined in the sports, which were of a varied and enthusiastic nature. There were 12 events on the program, and when each in its turn was called there was a large number of contestants, who joined in the sports with hearty good-will. The association was responsible for the splendid success achieved. The only occurrence which marred the pleasure of the occasion was that there was a number of prizes missing when the time came for them to be presented. While no explanation was given for this, it was the general opinion of the members of the committee that they had been stolen. The winners were recompensed for their losses, however, and the prize was the second prize, the substitution of another was made by the committee, so that no disappointment was felt on that account.

The weather too contributed to the success of the meet and the cool breezes were very acceptable to those engaging in the exertion of the races and other sports.

One Arm Baseball
As the guests of the association, fifty veterans—amputation from the First World War—were present for their exclusive benefit two of the events were set apart. The boys certainly had a good time and were not slow at expressing their pleasure at the generous manner in which they were treated by the committee.

What could be safely said to be the feature of the occasion was the base ball game between the patients of Christie street hospital and St. Andrews. The unique feature of the game was that the players, with the exception of the two rival catchers, were minus one arm. Despite this great handicap the boys played sterling ball and were equally matched at the end of the seventh inning the score was 7-7 so that the rival teams did not have the satisfaction of deciding the game in the early stages of the war. When the conflict broke out, he said, one of the first thoughts New Zealand was—apart from rushing troops to England—look after Samoa, an island in the Pacific, then occupied by the Germans, and about five years ago from New Zealand. An expeditionary force was sent with all speed to Samoa, all dangerous Teutons were interned and business seized, and today New Zealand is still running the island. Mr. Massey said the Germans had behaved with great cruelty to the natives, and it was well that their reign was cut short. "The Germans will know Samoa no more," the premier declared, "but we must take care of that point and New Zealand will govern the country."

Married Man Wins
The committee were composed of the following: W. Corbett, W. Hawkins, H. Joyce, T. Kennedy, W. Macdonald, W. Moore, G. Morrissey, G. Sweetman and P. Taylor.

In the second baseball game of the occasion, between the married men and the single men, the former defeated the latter by a score of 10-0. The game was close until the last inning when the older players gained the deciding runs.

Those who won in the various events were as follows: Women's bean-throwing contest, Mrs. C. Polard; stout women's race, Miss Joyce; first, Mrs. Corbett; second, Mrs. B. Hick third, Mrs. B. Hick. Firemen, 30 and under, T. Little, Alec Johnston and Jack Kelly; Firemen under 40, H. Tutty, James Watling, Alfred and Peter. Firemen under 40, W. Hawkes, S. Rydout and J. Potts. Fire chiefs' race, District Chief Poole first, Deputy Chief George Sinclair second, District Chief T. Tate third.

There were first, second and third prizes given in each event and prizes were expensive. There were toys for the kiddies to umbrellas and jewelry for the older folks.

PICKED MEN TO WALK IN VICTORY PARADE

and the monstrous engines of 1918. The number of troops taking part in the parade will be less than in the celebrations of July 14 last year. Previous to the war it was a common occurrence, on France's national holiday, to have 50,000 soldiers marching on the boulevards. But these 20,000 men this year will represent the glory and valor of France, Great Britain, America and all the allies. Not one ounce of munition is unadorned with war decorations will be permitted to walk among the French troops.

Captures German Flags

Even Germany will be given a place in the victory parade. German flags captured from the enemy in the bitterest battle of the year, the Marne, the Somme and Verdun, will be carried by the units which emerged victorious from these engagements. There are flags at present at the ministry of the interior, in M. Am's private office, the staff is broken and the banner is in shreds. It is the flag of Fort Vaux, which Major, now Lieutenant-Colonel, Reynald, defender of Vaux, will bear down the boulevards. M. Pams' eyes flash with pride as he told the correspondent today how he regretted to part with the flag, even for a few hours. The flag will be returned to the Pantheon, after the parade.

Under the Arc de Triomphe there is being constructed a huge catafalque, with a vaulted roof, and half men who died in France. At this point the troops will come to attention. Marshals Foch and Pétain, General Pershing, Gullain and Diaz, Field Marshal Haig and other high officers will salute, the soldiers will present arms while the bugler trumpets "long live the dead."

RT. HON. W. MASSEY IS OPTIMISTIC

Premier of New Zealand Thinks Germany Will Conform to Treaty.

NO LABOR TROUBLES

Land of Maori Eliminated Profiteer by Direct Government Rules.

The Right Hon. W. F. Massey, prime minister of New Zealand, spent yesterday in Toronto as the guest of the city. He is on his way home, accompanied by Mrs. and Miss Massey, after attending the peace conference, at which he and Sir Joseph Ward, the New Zealand minister of finance, signed the peace treaty with Germany.

Mr. Massey was taken in hand by Mayor Chamberlain yesterday morning and was entertained to lunch at the Yacht Club and left last night for Vancouver.

Lacks Faith in Huns.

The New Zealand premier, in the course of an interview with The Toronto World, said this morning that he had paid to England and France since the war broke out. He was gratified, of course, that hostilities had ceased and proud of the fact that he had been able to affix his signature to the document of peace. Mr. Massey was rather optimistic that Germany would at least carry out the main features of the compact, altho, as he said, he never put too much faith in the word of the Teuton. He believed that the dominions, colonies and all the allied and associated forces, they had effected, the horrors they perpetrated and the misery and sorrow they had caused in the world. He thought the kaiser should be put on trial and take the consequences.

What the general said he was much impressed with the thoroughness with which demobilization was being carried out. He believed that the establishment of battalion associations to perpetuate the comradeship of the men.

BLIND NEWSVENDOR SUFFERS BY DEATH

Thousands of Danforth residents know the genial blind news vendor of Danforth and Broadview, but very few of those thousands were aware of the fact that Oliver Crewe, who was thrown under the heavy wheels of a motor car, and killed on Tuesday morning's accident, was his young brother. When this was known yesterday, many passers by expressed their deep sympathy over the bereavement which had overtaken the news vendor's family.

HOSPITAL FAVORITE CALLED BY DEATH

Private Walter Leterleau of the 5th C.M.R., one of the most popular inmates of the Dominion Orthopaedic Hospital, died yesterday morning at 5.45 from complications following shrapnel wounds received at the battle of Vimy. Nothing but the amputation of his one remaining leg could have saved him, and this his constitution was too impaired to stand.

Private Leterleau had been an inmate since the hospital was opened, coming there from the Davisville institution. His mother, wife and small children live in Campbellton, N. B., whether his remains will probably be sent to be accorded full military honors.

SALES MANAGER HELD ON CHARGE OF THEFT

James Henderson, sales manager of the "Bob" Long Overall Company, 727 West King street, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Detective Serfatens Elliot and charged with theft of Henderson's room at 62 Grenadier road. The alleged thefts are said to have extended over a period of three months, during which time Henderson is charged with stealing $3000. The police say that the prisoner has admitted theft of $850. Overalls, shirts and other articles are alleged to have been sold after the goods had left the shipping room.

A Assistant Crown Attorney McFadden placed bail at $3000 for the release of Henderson.

PALS' BATTALION PICNIC.

W. G. Watson, president of the 15th Battalion Association, organized a big reunion and picnic for the Pals' Battalion at Centre Island yesterday. All the men with their wives, friends and families, were provided with tickets, and a most enjoyable day was spent. There were sports, races and competitions for both the men and their relatives, and many keen events were contested. In the evening a dance was given at the Aquatic Club house. A good orchestra was provided and a large crowd was in attendance.

NO TIME TO PULL UP.

An inquest was held at the morgue last night touching the death of Eliza Carolina Ball, 133 Edgely avenue, who was killed in an accident on the Kingston road on June 29. A truck driven by Sam Barnes, collided at Scarboro division, in charge of William McCowan.

The evidence, which was only partly heard, showed that neither car had time to pull up before the smash came. The man Barnes was stated to be in the hospital, seriously injured. The further hearing was adjourned until July 17.

GENERAL VICTOR ODLUM RETURNS TO TORONTO

Brig-General Victor Odium, who commanded the 11th Infantry brigade in France, arrived in Toronto yesterday. The general has great confidence in the common sense of the service men and relies upon them to combat the Bolshevik in his operations in Canada. He thinks the returned fighting men will stand fast behind law and order in face of labor disturbances. He thought that in the past the real labor leaders had little idea how they were being led but were commencing to be better informed and a healthy reaction was setting in. The so-called labor leaders of the west, who are really revolutionary leaders, were not basing their program on economic agreements, but simply on the doctrine of might.

The general said he was much impressed with the thoroughness with which demobilization was being carried out. He believed that the establishment of battalion associations to perpetuate the comradeship of the men.

Dr. MacMillan is resigning in order to take a professorship at Victoria College, Toronto, it is said.

DRIVER EXONERATED BY CORONER'S JURY

Accidental death was the verdict rendered last night by the jury at the inquest held into the death of William Kershall, Spadina road, who was fatally injured in a collision with a automobile on June 18, dying on July 8.

The evidence showed that deceased was riding a motorcycle on Huron street, when he collided with an automobile driven by James Lumbert, 46 Spadina road. Lumbert was arrested immediately following the accident, but was released on bail.
