The Atchison and Union Pacific bond subscriptions, and the recall of the $30,-000,000 of government deposits has played havoc with the banking calculations this week, the sub-treasury having gained upwards of $10,000,000 because of the govrnment withdrawals. It is a matter of surprise that transient money rates have not shown greater fluctuations than they have done, and failing a better explana-tion the money situation must be accepted as more sound than it is generally given credit for. The week-end bank statement came as a surprise to the tal-ent, the predictions of the total wiping out of the surplus reserves being altother astray. The statement is clear vidence of the control exercised by the leading financial interests, and can only be so accepted in attempting to read the markets' movements.

Tidings of woe and wails of lamentation Tidings of woe and walls of lamentation have gone out because of the failure of Union Pacific and Atchison shareholders to subscribe to the new bonds of these companies in the volume required. The subscriptions to the Union Pacific bond issue only amounted to about 5 per cent. of the $75,000,000, while in Atchison the amount subscribed for was about one third of the total. The almost total fail-ure of the Union Pacific subscription American Sugar 122%. of the Union Pacific subscription of the Union Pacific subscription forms an excellent argument for an im-proving stock market. Messrs. Harriman et.al. have not extered an underwriting syndicate without having contemplated he ultimate result. These and many other bonds waiting buyers can-only be disposed of by an improvement in in-vestment sentiment.
