

DOCTORS FAILED

CHRONIC ULCERS COVERED
HER BODY & CRIPPLED
HER.

How Zam-Buk cures chronic ulcers and sores is seen by the following experience of Mrs. Beers, of L'Original (Ont.). She says: "Some years ago ulcers and sores broke out on my legs and different parts of my body, and spread to an alarming extent, causing me great agony. I began to try salves, oils and medicines of various kinds, but the sores refused to heal. I then consulted a medical man, who treated me for some time, but the ulceration continued just as before. Another medical man was consulted, then another and one after another until I had tried five different doctors. All gave me up in despair. The ulceration and the skin disease were getting worse all the time, so I then went into the Hospital. I was there five months, and came away very little better. I next went to another Hospital, and stayed there three months.
—again with no success. By this time my legs were covered with sores, my bones seemed all picked out with ulcers, and I could not walk without the use of a cane and a crutch. I was in such a shocking condition that I was longing for death.

"I saw a report of the value of Zam-Buk and I obtained a small supply.
This did me so much good that I went to Ottawa and bought a further supply.
A few weeks trial of this wonderful balm healed the ulcers, removed the sores, and I am to-day completely cured.

"For many years I was obliged to use a cane and crutch to walk. Now I have thrown both cane and crutch away, and feel as well and vigorous as at the age of 30."

BRITISH ARMY BALLOON GOES WRONG IN THE AIR

Makes Semi-Circle of Two Miles and Settles Down in Some Trees.

FARNBOROUGH, Eng., Sept. 10.— The new airship designed for the British army, following the example set by the French and Germans in aerial navigation, made an ascent from here to-day in charge of Col. Cooper, Capt.
King and P. S. Cody, the American, who has spent a number of years in the British service, in charge of the kite section of the army.

After making a semi-circle of about two miles around Farnborough and Cove Common, an accident occurred to the engines and, in spite of the throwing out of ballast by the aeronauts, of which the airship carried 800 pounds, the dirigible balloon settled down into some trees. It was said that the defect which developed was only slight, and can easily be remedied.

During the trip the wind blew at the rate of fifteen miles, against which the airship had no difficulty in navigating.

The balloon portion of the airship is eigar-shaped, has a capacity of 7500 cubic feet. The car is made of aluminum and canvas.

MYSTERY OF DESERTION IN SYNAGOGUE CLEARED

Berlin Doctor Writes Chief Coroner Johnson of Father's Hunt for Jewish Cemetery.

The mystery surrounding the leaving of the body of an infant at the Jewish Synagogue on the night of Sept. 5 is cleared up by a letter from Dr. F.
H. Kalbfleisch of Berlin, who issued the death certificate, which was found with the body in the shoebox with the child.

The doctor says that the difference in the sex of the child found and that for which the certificate was issued was a slip of the pen, and sets out the father's explanation of the strange occurrence.
He says that it was the father who left the child in the church, and that he brought it to the city because there was no Jewish cemetery in Berlin. The father says that the man whom he saw tried to extort money from him for the burial.

It appears that this man was Solomon Clayman, 46 Nelson-street, as he explains it "Boss of the McCaul-street Synagogue Burying Ground."

His story of what happened is this:
"Above 9:30 on the night of Sept. 5 a man came to my house with Rabbi Solway. The man had the dead child in the box and wanted me to bury it.
I told him I could not do that night."

"I told him it would cost $5, but he said he had no money, so I told him to come round in the morning and I would see what could be done."

"He said the rabbi's son, who lived in Berlin, said the synagogue would see that the child was buried, and sent him to his father."

"He went away and I did not see him again, tho I searched for him the next day. When I heard that he had left the city in the Chestnut-street Synagogue, with which I have no connection."

Dr. Kalbfleisch's explanation to the chief coroner is much the same. He had it from Birtman, the father. It follows:

"There is no Jewish cemetery here.
His Jewish friends suggested that he take it to Toronto. He looked up the caretaker of the synagogue and told him he had a dead infant and came from Berlin."

"The caretaker first asked $15, and then came down to $10. Mr. Birtman having no money, he would not have anything to do with it. Mr. Birt-man wanted them to stay over night and see the president of the synagogue in the morning. He left and found out where the synagogue was. It was lit up, and he left the dead infant there and hurried to the depot and took the night train for Berlin. This is his story, and I consider it a correct one."

TRIO OF NERVOUS BURGLARS BLOW ROYAL BANK VAULT

Scared Off by Young Men They Fled, Firing on Their Pursuers.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Sept. 10.— A trio of safeblowers made a raid on the Chippewa branch of the Royal Bank about 2:30 this morning.

Gaining an entrance by prying open the side window and knocking off the combination handle of the safe they inserted dynamite and blew the fireproof door from its fastenings, securing about $20 in silver and copper deposited inside the fireproof door.
The bank's money on hand was in the burglar-proof locker inside the safe, but no doubt the trio were scared off before being able to make an attempt to get it by a couple of young men coming home from the country, who heard the explosion and ran down the street.

The young men saw the trio running southward across the bridge over the creek made chase when the fleeing burglars fired three shots at them. The Ontario police were notified, and all bridges were covered, but the trio made good their escape.
Before commencing operations, the burglars took the precaution of placing the village in darkness by cutting the electric light wires.

As he was being taken from the court-or this evening, but that the prizes were still unprepared to hand over the cash.

Tells His Experience.
After Two Years' Suffering With Lame Back and Weak Kidneys, Was Cured by Dr. Hamilton.

LYNDHURST, Ont., Sept. 1.—The following statement made by Mr. Rod-dick, lumber merchant, tells of the remarkable knowledge possessed by Dr.
Hamilton:

"Two years ago I had grippe, which settled in my back and kidneys. I was sickly and very miserable, suffered great pain and inconvenience. Different remedies were tried without benefit, and then I decided to try Dr. Hamilton's Mandrake and Bittern Pills. I derived immense good from their use in short time. When two boxes were used I was immeasurably better. To-day I am well. Neighbors suffering from kidney and back trouble are also benefited by Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which I am convinced is the best medicine for regulating and cleansing the system.
They are very mild, but do the work just the same."

Nothing so certain in diseases of the stomach, liver, bowels and kidneys as Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25 cents, at all dealers.

SET BACK OF TWO YEARS.

President of Contracting Co. Says Loss Will Be Fourth of First Estimate.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 10.—David Reeve, president of the Phoenix Bridge Co., said to-day that, altho the enquiry into the concrete loss as a result of the fall of the Quebec cantainer bridge had not been completed, he did not believe that the loss would be one-fourth as large as was at first supposed.

Other officials declared that the work of rebuilding the bridge would be continued if the Canadian Government did not object.

"Several weeks must elapse before any conclusion as to the cause of the accident can be reached," said one of them. "However, I can say that it will take two years of hard work to reach the stage of completion at which we stood when the accident occurred."
