BELL FRACTION—all adjoining and together forming one compact body containing ninety acres.

These claims are situated on the west slope of Deer Park Mountain, about three-quarters of a mile from the famous Lily May and Deer Park mines, and about two miles from the town of Rossland.

Four assays made from samples of surface ore taken at different places across the vein gave returns as follows: Gold, silver and lead, total values, $35.26; $42.35; $42.96, and $42.29. These samples are above the average of those found on the surface of any of the great mines of the camp. Indeed, but few, if any, of the selected surface eres gave as high returns.

"Well," the scribe replied, "we'll see what we can do for you. Have British Columbians any preferences?" Mr. Devlin thought of course that pretty ones would be most in demand, but maintained that any good, healthy girl could pick up a husband. Further, to give an idea of the extent of the demand in the West, he asserted that if 1500 nice girls went out continuity to Rossland alone, everyone of them could find a sturdy prospector or miner with a "swag," who would be glad to make her his wife. Despite the feeling among some of the most reliable of our mining men value of Saw Bill in March last was that a mining stock exchange should $16.00 per ton. not seem so far to have been accorded any very enthusiastic support.

The British Columbia papers, by the way, are opposed to the scheme, and some of the objections raised by the Western journals may be well-founded. Perhaps the promoters of the idea go too far, for instance, in demanding that $25,000 shall have been expended on a property before it shall be considered qualified for listing.

Says The Rossland Mining Review on this point:

"Perhaps the people who framed the prospectus of not less than 25 shares, fully paid and non-assessable.

"Parhaps the people who framed"

on this point:
"Perhaps the people who framed those conditions could give some pointers as to how $25,000 is in many cases to be raised except by selling stock. Only $15,000 had been spent in operating expenses on the War Eagle when it paid a dividend of $32,500. Well, well; let them establish their mining exchange. But would it not have been a better condition to impose that a mining com-show that they were legitimate mining propositions instead of companies on mere scrip and paper? Where, it may be asked, is the local stock exchange at the present time and what is it doing?"

What the Crow's Nest Railway Will Do Splendid results would undoubtedly accrue to British Columbia from the construction of the Crow's Nest Railway. Speaking of the wonderful resources of the Fort Steele region alone, an exchange says that this district is deserving of more than passing mention, not only from the great bodies of ore which lie in the mountain, but for the other products of coal and oil.

Vancouver is likely to get its smelter. There is a strong syndicate back of the enterprise, and if the citizens of Vancouver do their part there is no reason why the smelter should not be erected at an early day. Of the latter, the existence of which was known more than 20 years ago, there are said to be indications which, with development, are liable to revolutionize that section of the country, in both Alberta and British Columbia, while the immense coal field which is known to exist is but another indication of the mineral wealth of that country. The Rossland Record hits off the situation thus:

"Toronto is an ambitious city. This no one doubts. But in taking the first steps toward forming a mining stock exchange they have almost killed the gooss that lays golden eggs. Should they follow out what they now would be listed on the exchange."

In passing it may be noticed that, according to the latest reports, the Victoria mining stock exchange has proved a failure. A Victoria journal remarks:

"In the Eastern mining exchanges there would appear to be some difficulty in the way of listing and, in addigner with evidence of proper incorporation of the companies and a good title to the properties, has to be furnished. Work has been commenced on the Yale and will be continued all winter. Cabins will be erected and everything put in comfortable shape. The preliminary development will consist of a tunnel over 200 feet long.

Yale is situated on the south belt, near to such well-known mines as the Deer Park, Lily May and others. The title is perfect and the Crown grant is applied for. Work is being actively pushed, the fact that the treasury stock will be put on the market at 5 cents makes the stock a peculiarly desirable investment, as purchasers can expect an almost immediate profit if they desire to sell. What we are now selling is promoters' stock, at 31-2c per share, and is being sold to cover incidental expenses. Apply at once, as
