It appears that The Montreal Star last Fri-It appears that The Montreal Star last Friday contained an editorial accusing the Minister of Marine and Fisheries of neglecting his duties, and referring to the unsatisfactory charts issued by the department. To this the department replied by a typewritten statement, which was handed to The Star's correspondent, who fixed it up as an interview with the Minister. The object of Sir Louis explanation was to deny that he had given an "interview" to The Star or any other paper, but did not say anything about the statement having been prepared by the department. The matter will probably be brought up again to-morrow.

The Winnipeg Vacancy.

What the Expectations Are.

Now, from what could be learned to-day, the Prince Edward island; Government believe they can induce their legislature to vote $400,000 in aid of the scheme, and the mission to Or was has been undertaken. To induce the Federal Ministry to foot the Star's correspondent, who fixed it up as an interview with the Minister. Col. Hughes (Con., Victoria) described Mr. Bourassa's notions of consistency as a metaphysical definition. As a matter of fact, the Liberal party had during all its years of opposition denounced the policy of the party in power as tending to impoverish the country. They had made abundance of pledges in this connection, and must expect to have the abandonment of those pledges held up to review in the House and in the country. As for Mr. Bourassa's declaration, it constituted strongest endorsement of the National Policy he had heard during the debate. In opposition the Liberals had also raised the cry of prohibition to catch votes. Sir Wilfrid Laurier undoubtedly encouraged the prohibitionists to believe that if they got a majority in favor of prohibition a prohibitory law they should have. "Those who find themselves in the minority will have to concur in the wishes of the majority," were Sir Wilfrid's words to the Methodist conference.

A Little Wiggle. Sam Hughes Followed.

A Little Wiggle. A Little Wiggle.

Last year the Government introduced a Yukon Railway bill, to which he gave his support, aithough disagreeing with some of its details. The Senate had thrown out the bill, but it was the duty of the Government to have brought in this year an amended bill, and then, if the Senate rejected it, to appeal to the country. On such an issue he would again support the Government, but to say that because the Senate had rejected the bill in its original form, and thrown out the Drummond County Railway deal, it should be punished by destroying its use-

But, She Says, the Evidence Concerning Dominion Creek Casts a Serious Reflection on Walsh.

The Royal Commission of Inquiry opened London, March 30 .- The Daily Graphic on Feb. 22. Ample notice was given, but

The alleged reason was that the terms of the commission limited the investigation to charges concerning acts previous to to charges concerning acts previous to Aug. 25. The complaint of the prosecutors was that the investigation was too narrow. On that account they were permitted to retire but not to withdraw charges.
