The corner-stone of St. Leo's, the new The corner stone of St. Leo's, the hew Roman Catholic Church, to be erected at Mimico, was laid by Archhishop O'Connor on Sunday afternoon, during a light snow-storm, and in a frigid atmosphere. The inclemency of the weather, however, in no way unterfered with the attendance, which was quite large and representative of the parish and village in which it is to be situated. Many from other denominations were exerval interested friends from Toronto-were also present. The new edifice is to be built on Church-street, where a founda-tion of stome awaited the laying of the main stone in the southeast corner, to com-plete it. This duty was performed by the Archlishop, who, taking a pail of sait and water, blessed it, these two divine attri-buts being indicated by the ritual--sait to preserve the soul, and water to cleanse from sin. A large cross was placed on the soule, and water to cleanse from sin. A large cross was placed on the soule, and water to cleanse from sin. The stone was then sprinkled with holy water, after which the foundations were sprink-led, the Archbishop calling upon God to bless the church and the people, and stop-ping at three places, indicative of the Holy Trinty. Following the laying of the stone, the assembly repaired to a marquee in the church grounds, where Rox. Vicar-General McCann spoke from the words in St. Matthew, chap 16, v. 18: "Thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build My Church." Taking these words, he gave, historically, the manner in which the

There will be contests in four divisions as follows: No. 1, Policeman Robert Beatty and George Sockett; No. 4, Policeman Guthrie (197) and Roe; No. 5, Policeman Hutchinson and McKinney (233); Nos. 6 and 7, Policemen Hyland and Payne. Interest in 'the elections will, however, centre around the contest between Detec-tives Slemin and Burrows, both of whom was to represent the Detective Depart-ment, but unfortunately only one can be elected. Voting will take place next Sat-gray. The parlor social given under the auspices of St. Olave's Church Friday evening was a very pleasant affair. Among those who kindly assisted in the musical program were: The Misses Blain, Duck and Has-karne, vocalists; Miss Goulding, cornetist; Miss Mansfield, guitar soloist, and Miss K. Bourne, accompanist. Mr. Bussell-Smith of Trinity College presided. Tea was served by the young ladies of the Guild.

Custom remains constant in her suggestion of furs as the handsomest and most acceptable of Christmas gifts-and the prospects for a good hard winter ahead of us will enhauce their usefulness-and add to the appreciation-we've been working hard right side-by-side with these twin ideas-everything that's nice and good and comfortable we have-and there's nothing to do but to sell-you'll be better served if you shop early-

You don't have to figure on giving a seal jacket to make your present in furs-nor do we expect to sell everybody a "sealskin" -for you can buy nice stylish pieces of good fur in the newest designs for a trifle-for instance-

A Columbia sable scarf for 4.00-a western sable scarf for 6.00an Alaska sable scarf for 6.00 and up to 10.00-and muffs to match them all-caperines start for as little money as 7.50-then sav 9.00-10.00-12.co-13.50-15.00-right up to 22.50 for a Persian Lamb and Alaska Sable-and better ones still up to 30.00-

You can give a stylish jacket without picking Alaska "seal," too -for electric seal is popular and serviceable-the plain garments from 35.00 up and trimmed ones up to 65.00-Persian Lamb Jackets plain and trimmed 85.00 to 150.00-

But if it is to be a "seal sacque" then we've a choice collection of them in the plain and trimmed garments at 15.00 to 250.00-
